NOTE FROM THE AUTHOR:

This booklet has been converted to a digital format with the aim of making it widely known and with the objective that you make it known in the same way you have received it.

SOURCES:

Notes and photographs taken from the website El Libro de Samahel (<http://ellibrodesamahel.info/>) and from the Book of Guardians, in what can be published of it.

I also want to thank my friends and "masters" for all the information they have "taught" me during all this time, who with their words and actions (many of their notes appear in this booklet) have made me understand how, in this our life and in the ones to come, our "evolution is a path" without end through each one of the phases or levels of consciousness that are available for the human being so as to reach his own Divine Essence and his gathering with the Universal Only God, from where his spirit comes.

DEDICATION

To my beloved wife Reme, my companion of the "journey",
my "angel on Earth" and "twin soul" who always accompanies me and gives me strength to continue my search for "light."

All my gratitude to her for making this possible.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

To all my friends of the "heart," my great spiritual family, that with their tender friendship and wisdom have been able to plant in me the "seed" of the "awakening" so as to be able to reach a special way of living:
Love, Consciousness and Liberty.

To all the authors who have written about these same subjects along time and that with their efforts and wisdom have contributed in some way to feed this "seed."

To our Guardian Angels, that with the guidance of Anael,
"the Grace of God," the Angel of Love, are my guides and my support in all moments, making this project a reality.

Preface

Today, March 7 of 2008, when I am 58 years and one month old, when everything looks adverse and the future is uncertain, something really surprising and comforting happens to me ...it is that I have just discovered "ANGELS"! ...I have discovered their "ENERGIES"!

I have thought a lot about what has happened to me but haven't found any reason that could explain it, I can only say that this fact takes place simply, as everything that is related with "them," because without noticing it, like an enchantment, you notice that your thoughts and feelings aren't the same as before, that you think and feel in a different way, you feel something has changed in your interior and that new and renewing energies awake! And once you have discovered them, when you now somehow that their "energies" have awakened in your interior, you also realize that there is no way back, because they really change your life, it is true, as it is practically impossible that you stop thinking in "them", that you "speak" to them, "ask" them for suggestions... and we become enthusiastic investigators of their teachings, they definitely transform into our best "guides and counsellors," in our best "Friends."

But alas, this is not so easy as it seems, difficulties are many, doubts arise, the attachment to materiality, to the people around us, to our environment ...a continuous fight with our pride, our vanity and similar loyal "shadows" that "accompany" our ego, that never stop trying to put out that "light," that "fire" so special that we have been able to light in our interior.

And here is the importance of this message when trying to transmit the love of "Angels," to say that it is possible to achieve it, but we must stop "looking outside," we must start with oneself. A great friend told me, ...the "truth" doesn't exist until you feel it ... a "virtue" cannot be manifested by you until you experience it, until you observe it in you, in your way of managing your life; that is how you recognize it and know what it is. The same thing said our Master Jesus of Nazareth, Jesus Christ: "...we only see the straw in the neighbour's eye and not the beam we have in ours...", and also the Angel corroborates this when he says: "...you will never be able to see the exterior if you haven't seen us beforehand in the interior." This way, it is easy to understand that by "discovering" yourself, you will also discover the Angels, their virtues and energies.

A good beginning would be to meditate and analyse our attitudes and ways of reacting and thinking, always expressing the truth and trying not to judge the actions of others; let's judge only ours, in a sincere and honest way, with a true purpose of amendment, knowing how to listen to the "voice" of our interior, learning from it, doing this with perseverance, will, determination and dedication, with the commitment of not rejecting and being able to abide by our acquired internal "agreements," and with no doubt, following this way of procedure, we will start to treasure in our interior each one of their "virtues," giving way to a happier life.

All the people that form this great family, the family of the Revolution of Love, a family taken by the hand by the angels Umiel and Anael, have a common purpose, to be carriers of love, the love born in the heart that in a humble, sincere and free manner is put to the service of others without asking for anything.

The purpose of this booklet is no other than trying to put a "special seed" in the initial Knowledge and Learning that every person needs if he wants to "evolve" in his spiritual path and wants to do it together with our "friends the Angels." An emissaries (exactly 72 angels) that appeared in Paiporta (Valencia) between 1987 and 1989, and whose messages were dictated in the so called Book of Samahel (<http://ellibrodesamahel.info/>). It also has the purpose of helping in an altruistic way, as it is targeted to any person who asks for it.

Finally, I tell you that the mere fact of reading this message is due to that the "Angels" have made it possible, and that you shouldn't look over this great opportunity.

A big hug of peace and love.

1

Do angels exist?

If you believe they do, what is an angel?

The world of angels is a subtle world, ethereal, luminous, as well as surprising, unimaginable and not understandable for the consciousness of human beings, and that hasn't to be reasoned too much, only in what is necessary, and it will be our consciousness, that divine consciousness that holds all the energies created by God, what will move the veils to illuminate our "darkness." These are words of my good friend and "master" Miguel Ángel L. Melgarejo.

In his book "Legions of the 4 Guardian Angels" ("4 Guardians" in <http://ellibrodesamahel.info/>) he clearly sets what we can understand as WHAT IS AN ANGEL, ...when he says that angels, lights, virtues or whatever we want to call them, are "pure energies" that emanate from that "Supreme Energy of Divine Essence," that always accompany us and that "sleep" in the deepness of our being ...Their energies are our own energies, that will be more or less potentiated in as such we are able to "awaken" them; they are like "seeds" to which we must provide "good soil and fertilizers."

In such a way, he tells us that an Angel is the product of the virtues accumulated in our heart and that it will depend on our level of consciousness that those virtues or energies take root in us with more or less force; the angel is inside us and for its interior energy to flower, we must "see" ourselves as we are, take away all our "masks," and this way we will be able to understand it. The symbolism of the mirror, that he also makes reference to, would make us understand a bit more, as he tells us... "If you want to see an Angel, look at yourself in a mirror... and if you want to know which is the best mirror, look at yourself in who you have at your side, we must search for ourselves beyond the mirror, but through the mirror, because what "you see in it will be what you have in your interior," and if what we "see," what we feel in that moment is disagreeable, we mustn't think it belongs to another person, no, we are looking at ourselves!, and if we don't recognize his, we won't be able to see the "angel" we are speaking about, ...we will have it in our interior because it is always there, but we won't have it "available", ...The Angel states it clearly... "we will never see outside what we don't possess in our interior."

We have said that an Angel is "energy," and it will be precisely that energy what will connect us with the Universal "energy," that will connect our feelings, our perception and the way we feel and vibrate, because angels form part of us and we form part of them; we know that the angels never escape from our interior, they "sleep" in us, but fade their presence in the measure that our commitments with them are not fulfilled; even when it seems that we don't feel them, that they have hibernated, we think they aren't there any longer, ...but they are, they are always there, waiting for our reactions, and they do something; in some way they move your feelings, your emotions, it is as simple as that, although we make it very complicated, and detecting them will only depend on how prepared we have our Interior Being, although many times we deafen our "heart," our "intuition," the "voice of the soul" that is, of course, the voice of the messenger angel.

And as sometimes the best language is that of a story, I include a story of how a child speaks to an adult of what he understands is an Angel ...a child that is transformed into a "master" and an adult that is transformed into a "student." A story born from the Heart, where we know Truth is lodged. A story written by my sister of life Roxana Poeta, to whom I thank for letting me share it.

It starts this way:

"-Why are you crying? says the adult...

-Nothing, I only want to cry... says the child...

-Yes? Are you sure?

-Look! You are an adult, what can I say that might interest you? What can I say about what happens to me, if you aren't going to understand.

-Hehehe, why wouldn't I understand you?

-I already told you, you are an adult and wouldn't understand me.

-Yes, I'm an adult, but what's wrong, I was once young.

-Do you remember those times ? When they told you, get out, you're not old enough, don't give your opinion, your moment will come, what can you know about life? I am living that now and those words cut my soul like a knife, didn't you also live that?

-Of course I lived it and that is why I'm asking you what's the matter, why are you crying?

-Because of what I'm telling you, they won't let me be a student, they don't let me ask.

-Do you know why I'm crying? Because someone told me I'm not old enough to talk about angels, or to see them, or to feel them, that only those who know talk about them and that I'm not old enough to know... Do you know what an angel is? Did you ever see one? Do you believe in them?

-How old are you?

-Fourteen years old, why do you ask me that? Do you also think I can't speak about angels?

-I was only asking, only that, and no, I don't really know what an angel is, I suppose it is what we see in paintings with wings and all that; I've never seen one. And haven't felt one either, hehehe, is it possible?

-I don't know much, I only know that angels live in every human being, that they aren't as they tell us, with wings. They are pure energy and are inside us waiting to be awakened, if you want to, you can feel them, from your interior outwards.

-And how would I do that, how would I know, what should I do?

-Very easy, man! It is very easy to show our interior angels; with everything we do for love, there are those energies that I speak about. You are going to flow with those energies and reach others, those you have by your side.

-Really, is it so? Well, don't cry, don't feel upset about my question.

-Now you understand why I cry? Why my tears are falling? Adults, whenever I speak about angels, ask me the same thing: is it real what you tell me? ...I don't cry because they don't believe me, I cry for you, adults, that are masters of life and don't even know what an angel is, with your things, your responsibilities; you always deny truth. You don't take the time to look around you and see what is happening in your surroundings. You forget when you were young and enjoyed an evening with your friends, listening to your favourite song and singing it while you walked, of all the beautiful things you saw when you were young, the same ones as now, but now you don't see beauty, you only work and live with your agenda, always occupied, and you live without seeing and enjoying what was created by God. You forget the good times you had and the good times you could have if you only looked in your interior, and felt that angels are there, that God is there in each one of us... What's wrong with you? Why are you crying? Don't feel this way, please excuse me, don't take me seriously, with your tears I understand that I should have kept silent...

-No, don't stop talking, don't allow yourself to keep silent about angels... Continue with what you feel and keep talking. How old are you? Can you repeat it to me?

-I already told you, I'm fourteen, why do you want me to repeat it?

-So that I never forget the age of my "master," yes, my master about something I had forgotten or perhaps never lived, thank you for letting me be your "student," your words have been like a breeze that has awakened my lethargy.

-Lethargy, you say? I don't understand...

-Master! You spoke to me about angels, you explained with simple words what I might have known at your age and that with the years I had forgotten or had left to sleep in me. Now I cry with happiness, from pure emotion, I left the office to take a walk, to find a solution to my problems and I saw you there, crying, and I came along without knowing why. Now I know, I feel my interior angels brought me here with you, so that you help me awaken and see things clearly. Is it that way? You that know a lot about them, maybe they brought me here to speak with you? For you to help me awaken from this deep dream in which I am?

-Do you really feel that they brought you here?

-Yes, I feel it that way.

-Well, it is as you feel it, don't you see you can feel the angels in your interior, that it is not necessary to see them, that they are energies that live inside us, lights that flow...

-Yes, master, I understood with your help what angels really are.

-Please, don't feel awkward, I am only a student of life; the master that is in me, flows to be a student, only that..."

At a human level, and with all the erroneous parameters that exist nowadays, we seek for "something else" that could help us find again our true SELF, and in this way, relocalize us in the world of which we form part but that we sometimes don't understand, and that doesn't make us happy. It is in such a moment that we can understand the true meaning of angels: they are the "bridges" that help us communicate with our interior God; that form a bridge of union between HIM and US, helping us to understand the environment in which we live, to work and to work on ourselves with the "weapons" they give us to be able to awaken that inner God that helps us change our world and, in consequence, the WORLD. Thanks to Angels we recover "magic" (the Effect) that we had lost in our mind, in our body, in our totality, and it is in that moment that Rituals recover FORM, BACKGROUND and UNDERSTANDING. When doing them and seeing they WORK, we awaken a Faith that we thought was hidden, the illusion and the anxiousness to "CREATE" a better world for us and our surroundings... let's remember that we are all SEEKERS of our truth... and truth in this world is that we should try and learn to be happy, complete, UNIQUE. ## What is the mission of Angels?

Every human being receives when he is born the protective “energy” of these beings or spirits of light. The “job” of Angels is no other than to guide and protect us in our short path through this life about which we have made an “agreement” before being born, supplying us all their strength and energies so as to maintain alive and in constant positivity all our thoughts, feelings and emotions. They show us how to maintain alive our faith, to trust ourselves, to lift our self-esteem and many other things. They clarify with their “light” our interior world so that we realize the thoughts and feelings we manifest in our daily life and, consequently, are able to correct our actions; they show us how to respect our life and all other lives in all their forms. What is important for them is that we understand which things of ourselves we must change.

There is only one issue in which they cannot help: to go against our “free will,” as they cannot change the decisions we might take against the path to do good and that, in consequence, hurt other people. In these cases, all they do is to try that in some way their messages reach us, for us to realize what we are thinking and feeling in that moment so as to know how to correct our conscious and attitude. And really, in this aspect they are very tenacious and persistent. Their daily job is to make us evolve, together with them, in our way to the Only Universal God, our Lord. That is really their mission.

The awakening of a new consciousness

I want to record in this booklet the messages given by Angel Anael and written in his dictation in the Book of Samahel (see <http://ellibrodesamahel.info/>) that are very clarifying, as he clearly states that if you want to understand, you must act, because the job isn't going to be done for you, you must "rip it off" and put yourself in action. Honestly, there are no clearer words than these.

ANGEL ANAEL

The Angel says:

"...Who is Fed Up of words and wants others to start the action contradicts himself because he pronounces words but isn't who starts giving example. Don't say: "We must do it", Do it! Don't tell others, it is you who have realized it so you start giving example and don't waste what according to you is scrap.

Do you want to fix it? Begin!, Do you want clarity? You be clear!, Do you want others to walk, You start walking the Path!, You don't want criticism because it is contrary to Love? Don't criticize those that surround you!, Do you want to be a Master? Put your head down as a disciple and, if you already have, look around you, as you will be surprised of the True Masters that surpass you because they haven't wished to!, Do you want to understand these words and these writings? Look at the Universe, around you, and try to see what the symbols that form it whisper!

Do you want Wisdom? You learn first from those around you!, You want humanity to be United? You join those that are by your side!, You want to rule the world in Goodness and unity? First understand yourself and don't see enemies where they don't exist!, You say that rituals aren't necessary? You haven't understood your life!

You say that Evil doesn't exist? You have forgotten your dark part!, You say that why do we speak apocalyptically? Because we have come to your world and are inside you!, You say you don't need anybody? You have closed the doors of Wisdom for yourself!, You say that symbols are useless? You don't know how to appreciate your position in this your world!, You say that prayers and supplications are a loss of time? You don't know how to listen to the sound of Creation of God!, You say that Silence or Caution are not necessary, that all the so called mysteries must be shown? You have just opened the door of the jail where you are going to enter!

You say that while your consciousness, in your mistake, is in peace you can do whatever you want to? You are winking at Evil, because you feed your pride and unreasonableness!, You say that just by knowing yourself you already know the divinity? You don't accomplish the plan of God Yours and Our Lord and Creator, because He has put the world around you for you to achieve Unity by cause of its symbols!

Don't you want to hear or read words that apparently are in contradiction with what you want to hear or read? You close the doors to yourself, because this is done this way for you to declare yourself and challenge your personal ghosts and finally know what is hidden to others! Be fond of when you are not told, with wisdom and good sense, what you want to hear: That means you are Loved!, Are you so sure about what you say and think that you forget the position of those that live with you? You don't want Unity, because you are unbalancing your own home! How are you going to change the world! Who is too sure of himself closes his ears to the Perfect Perfection. No one overtakes anyone, it is simply the helplessness of still not being able to Understand what you cannot pronounce to communicate between yourselves, as it is that great Feelings are Lived or Infect but they will never be taught, written about or pronounced.

Who is of the Light will light up on his own, but those that want to light up without being Lamp or Torch will have to go on fire beforehand, leave themselves to "burn" in Love, Understanding and Liberty, because if not their words will be futile and their actions won't be in alignment with their words, won't be intrinsically united and they will be called liars of Spirit.

Why deny it instead of Understanding? Let the eyes of your heart see and that way you will know that none of this is utopia, you will Know that what others call "mysteries" are only fears of a confrontation with a Wisdom that makes them wobble, that depresses and blinds them with its Light, the Light that comes from Yours and Our Lord and that shines from everything that was and is Created by Him so as to show all the aspects of one only Teaching. Meditate on this. Watch over and Unite. Watch over and Unite. Watch over and Unite. You only need to want it... Why don't you try?"

Answers from friends of the path:

Miguel Ángel

"...Anael is the Angel of Love, or in other words: that energy that opens our mystic Channels for us to sense what the word Love really means and all that it reaches.

But we must realize that in Operative Mystic there are 6 main Angels: Azrael (life of Death and death of Life), Michael (Balance and that is positioned in the East), Gabriel (the Agreements and Celestial Pacts, in the North), Raphael (Healing and physical, mental and spiritual Health, in the West), Uriel (the Luminous radiation, that is represented in the South), and Anael, that is curiously situated as the union of the other five and that represents Love. This is true. By LOVE they give us all the necessary opportunities in this life or in others to reach the desired Unity or Reintegration in the ALL. With Love we must be Healthy, Balanced, Luminous and Committed with all that this means in what is called the "Pyramid of Effect," this is: Lovingly Healthy, Lovingly Balanced, Lovingly Luminous and Lovingly Committed. Doesn't seem easy!

All these Energies and their mystic concepts are found in the interior of the Temple of Wisdom, but be careful, this Temple is built on seven "Columns" that support it and that we must also take into account:

The first one is the Innocence of knowing we don't know anything.

The second one is the Hope we could have Knowledge.

The third one is the Will to start the path with effort.

The fourth one is the Discipline to not stop along the path.

The fifth one is the Discovery that everything is a constant change.

The sixth one is the mysterious Consciousness of another reality superior to ours.

And finally, the seventh one is the Experience about that "abstraction" that is more "real" than what is tangible... and that is called LOVE.

If we really want to Love (awaken Anael in us) someday, we must first destroy our anxiety to love.

I hope to be understood (especially in this last phrase) in what my clumsy words try to pronounce about what my spirit feels, if it isn't so, I excuse myself for not having found better words.

Reme Morales

"...After having read what has been written about Angel Anael, the energy of LOVE, I am reassured about something that I have always felt in my interior ...all that you do with and for Love is good and will always be accomplished, because if you have that energy, that light, if you really feel it as yours, it will make you open "channels"; without them you wouldn't be able to feel Love, in other words, we wouldn't be able to Love each other or Love.

For me, one of the most important things to change in oneself is to hear the voice from the "heart," as what the heart dictates will always be in accordance to the understanding or the degree of Love we have in our consciousness. Gratitude and forgiveness are other symbols that we should take care of, because I consider they go by the hand with LOVE, ...giving, receiving, thanking, ...forgiving yourself, forgiving others.

And if we seek that LOVE that we try to understand (with capital letters), as says Miguel Ángel, "...first we must destroy our anxiety to love...", that in my humble opinion I understand as destroying our ambition to love, because that ambition, that wanting something for yourself without considering others, I don't think it is the way, I consider LOVE something totally different, spontaneous, clean, unworried, uninterested, given from the "heart" without waiting for anything in return, and in such a way, I'm sure the energy of Anael will be in our interior, and with its balance, will, surrender, braveness, understanding and "healing" ...in the way of recognizing our faults, our fears, our doubts, our pride, etc., etc., and correcting them, this energy will help us "get up" with more strength every time we stumble and fall in our "path" to search the unity with the Divine light of God."

Angels of Consciousness

In the Book of Samahel we are told that seven are the "Palaces, the Temples, the States of Consciousness" through which the human being must pass to understand and "discover" the "way or path" that will take him to the eternal Light. And seven are their angelic ENERGIES that make possible this access to each one of them, symbols of the seven steps of the Initiation that the "Walker" must do and that will make him arrive to the real Acceptance.

Angel Tahariel, is precisely one of the six angelic housekeepers of the states of Consciousness, an energy that emanates from the Superior Angel Umiel, Spiritual Guardian of the "Walkers," and that is in charge of opening or shutting the "door" that gives access to the first state of consciousness of the human being, symbolically, the first "Palace."

He is the Angel of the Spiritual Purification (his name in Hebrew means "Purifier of God"). He is the Angel that when we trap his energy in our interior, makes us discover the so called "Seal of Yourself" or "Secret Name" of our Spirit, that defines our true Divine Essence, the name of the spark of God with which we are born and that incarnates to fulfil a spiritual mission, or by karma, to purify actions of other lives until we reach the Essential Purenness, and that when we are able to receive it, we should never tell it to anyone else.

And for this Angelical Housekeeper, TAHARIEL, to give us access to that first "Palace" of States of Consciousness, this state of consciousness must be prepared, illuminated by each one of the energies of the angels of consciousness.

Each "Temple" is in itself a meditation and a guided mental step to be conscious of our internal fears, the processes of psychic creation and the braveness of the initiate that enters the winding paths of Knowledge and interpretation of symbols.

These virtues or energies are:

The Angel of the Primary Will. TOHUEL.

Virtue that facilitates the first step to be taken for the Initiation of the future "Walker" in the interpretation of symbols. The applicant "Walker" designates the desire of following the destiny to which he has been called: the Initiation, or going through the threshold of this state, that is symbolically opened by Angel Tahariel.

The Angel of Learning. BOHUEL.

Virtue that opens the doors of the second step of Initiation and that symbolically makes us "see" the useless things that we should leave behind, for example, fears, phobias, superstition, doubts, and those that designate "no consciousness of Wisdom."

The Angel of Detachments. EMESHEL.

Virtue that helps us attain the necessary detachments that if not attained, would hold up the true Initiation, the true pact of oneself with the Divinity. The true paths must be crossed without ballasts or heavy loads, in this way, to alleviate our spirit and to take it to the Temple of Self-acceptance and Self-commitment, the only premises to be a real Initiate. He is the third step the "walker" must decide for his Initiation.

The Angel of Correction. DAMAMEL.

Virtue that represents the fourth temple: the Accepted. When the Accepted gets near this Intelligent Energy and takes communion with it, he is made strong, positive, radiant and active in the Spiritual search, "Walker" of the fertile path for his experience, and coherent in his mental and material manifestations. It is the fourth step the "walker" must take for his Initiation.

The Angel of Discipline. RUAHEL.

When this virtue is nested in the interior of the "walker" it makes him raise this state of consciousness, giving him energy, determined and clear decisions about his assertions in his particular initiatic path, and a true impulse to reach the spiritual targets he aims to reach during his existence.

He is the Angel of the self-imposed Discipline (self-discipline), that has nothing to do with the imposition of agents external to oneself. It is the fifth step the walker must take for his Initiation.

Angel of the Accreditation. RAVAYAHHEL.

He is the symbolic Energy of the sixth Temple, or sixth step of Initiation, that ends in the portal of Initiation in the Wisdom of the Sacred Mysteries: the Disciple.

When the Accepted knows in himself he is a disciple of the honest Arcane Education, he obtains the necessary consciousness to know he is valued enough to call at the narrow door of Initiation, an aperture that will move away Ignorance and Unconsciousness.

Angel of the "Pacts" of the walker. ONEGEL.

He is the intelligent energy that symbolizes the true threshold that gives access to that first palace, first degree or state of consciousness.

Onegel would then be the last step, the energy who defines what "enters and is not outside"; the "Pact" of the "Walker", that commits himself to watch over the One Light, that does not understand about groups, religions or sects, because he transcends or is above all this: he has pinned all his hopes in the commitment and confidence of the quest for Wisdom.

All these "steps" of the way of our spiritual evolution are "doors of light" that start to open in our consciousness and that we should begin to understand and apply.

Our friends of the "path" say about this:

"...If the first "door" is opened, the other ones will start to open as we start to understand, ...the "doors" are levels of consciousness, and for this we have to work on ourselves, be always alert, try to form part of the Truth, surpass the tests of the path, be totally sincere with ourselves, ...and those "doors" will start to open for us, we have all of them inside us, we only have to start to "open" them one by one, if you open the first one you won't have access to the last one, everything has an order and understanding and the states of consciousness also do, it would be useless to reach the last one without being conscious of the first ones, we wouldn't understand anything, we even might deviate from the path because we wouldn't understand it and that could confuse us... We must be patient and go little by little, it would be useless to run, it is useless to get obsessed with this, we must just "go walking down the path" and the doors will open on their own, ...get to where we should, without hurries, but steady, as each step is within Truth." (Doliana)

"...To open the first door is to start a path, to focus on the right direction, to align oneself, I don't mean the other paths are not useful, but you have already decided one and you are going to follow it with the illusion and the enthusiasm of the beginning... After that will come all the experiences that the path has for you, and in solving those experiences is the learning, it doesn't matter if they are good or bad, what is important is the learning. You will be able to put to practice what you have learnt in another occasion and help those who go through the same circumstances. Little by little, you will recognize you have gone through phases, you will reach the other palaces, the other mountains, but without wanting to, only because the Path takes you there..." (Isabel)

"...When we open the first door we are already making a pact, with the ample will of going slowly to understand and accept the state or level of consciousness acquired by trying to understand the Truth step by step, from our interior, trying to know what there "is," expanding it, leaving it as a clear example of the level of consciousness we have in each step, as humble, gentle, simple people..." (Roxana)

Possibly, all this seems ethereal and diffuse for us, but it is very simple, you only need to seek the inner Virtue, that "small" light that once lit starts to illuminate our interior more and more, ...and about the virtues we will speak afterwards in this booklet.

Thinking about how our relationships are with the people that surround us, both with those with whom we have common interests and with those we don't, thinking about how are our daily actions. We could ask ourselves: How could that attitude be? How could we advance to the achievement of spiritual evolution? How could we find that "light" so much desired? It isn't complicated, but it is brave and needs commitment; simply leading our life based upon some spiritual values, that are the following:

- To love our fellowmen and to love every one of us the same.
- To forgive, because we know this is the "path" towards peace of mind.
- To be honest, balanced, just, and always show respect.
- To be humble, simple, noble, generous, because we do not accept greed, pride, vanity or provocation.

- To condemn hypocrisy, falseness, moving away from tepidness, arrogance and spiritual mediocrity.
- To always seek peace, inner harmony and harmony of our environment through calmness, moderation, prudence and temperance.
- To be active, diligent, persevering, taking care of ourselves and of what happens around us, of our families and friends, supporting them without doubt and doing it always with happiness, kindness and gladly, being a priority the material aspects.
- To look for Wisdom through learning and to never consider ourselves "teachers" but "pupils", knowing how to discern with love and freedom the spiritual life and the material life.
- To help anyone who asks us for help, always that we can really lend a hand.
- To be merciful with the grief-stricken, the hopeless and with those that have an ill body or spirit.
- To live without interruption the vocation with which we have been born, not showing the source of our "Power," that is in our interior.

And because we consider ourselves "Walkers" precisely by cause of these "Intentions, Commitments, Pacts and Actions" made from the Soul, because we are conscious and firmly believe in the "Path" we have started, and because we know the following:

- God is One, Universal, and our aim is to reach the "Light" of that Universal God.
- "Hell," that horrific "space" that was taught to us in our childhood due to alien "interests", doesn't exist. It only exists in the mind of the human being when it is fed by its own ego.
- The "Angel" (the energy, the light of that Only God) "lives and breathes" in our interior, because he knows God lives in our interior and that his light is there, it is his food because God is his creator, and that "Energy" will make you lovingly Balanced (Energy of MICHAEL), lovingly Committed (Energy of GABRIEL), lovingly "healthy and clean" physically and spiritually (Energy of RAPHAEL), lovingly radiant (Energy of URIEL), as the only way to be "light" and to "illuminate" the transit path you have available in this life.
- Reincarnation is the cycle that rules our human existence so our spirit can attain the Divine "Perfection."

A friend of the "path" told me that life is a "school" in which we are all able to learn if we want to, that it can be a school of love and it can be a school of pain, injustice, fights for power and ambition, in other words, what we search for on our own. But the key is to Learn from our fellowmen, that are our true Masters, so as to know ourselves; it seems to be a paradox but it isn't, we are all "mirrors" in which we irradiate and reflect our own virtues and shadows, and we Learn from each one; if what we see and detect in that "mirror" is love, this is due to that we have already discovered and learned what it is; if it is humbleness and generosity, it is due to that we have recognized them; if it is fury and cruelty it is because we have them in our interior. This is the way we function internally.

In the material and the spiritual, life is full of opportunities that pass by our side, we could even say that represented in a synchronized way, they are subtle advices or signs for us to keep our way in our "evolution" as people and as possible beings of light, but it is also true that most times we don't perceive them and they pass along without us noticing them, not even by those people that eagerly search for them; the reason must be found in how our thoughts, feelings and emotions are, definitely, in how we start to prepare our internal being to be able to discover them.

What can we do to attain this?

Many are the actions we can do, but our first step, that is very important, is no other than to meditate on what to do to start to "clean" the vision we have of everything that surrounds us, on how to focus our daily attitudes, on how to be able to start to develop our intuition, and so we can begin to understand that all this can only be attained through Learning and the Knowledge of ourselves, fighting against the circumstances of the daily facts, the interior "shadows," that are many and never stop, our great "ego" that we keep feeding, etc., etc., etc., as they are high walls that overwhelm us many times and don't let us advance as we would like to, but at least in this there is a very important thing, that is to have been able to take the great step of "awakening" the Energies of our dear friends the "angels of light," those Energies that allow us to recognize our faults, our errors, that let us "rise" when we "fall," that open the doors of our Consciousness and make us understand that we must correct our ways of thinking, acting, and in that step is the beginning of our "evolution," the beginning of the encounter with our interior "God."

And as my sister of the path, Roxana, says, ..."to be the Guardian of the most precious thing of the Universe, of oneself, to be able to expand that energy that each one of us has, illuminating the path we must walk during this life... because the humble Guardian makes the path when he walks, he learns from everyone, he contemplates the world that surrounds him, he receives wisdom and also transmits and shares it, he goes through the trials of life without complaining, because he knows that they help him to feed his spirit, ....he knows and feels that the wheel of life always goes in the direction of light, whatever are the trials that are presented, he doesn't think he is better than others, he feels part of a whole, of a whole that is the divine plan of God ....sometimes he suffers, he cries silently because many times his path becomes difficult due to his noticeable sensibility, but he knows how to be sensitive, which doesn't mean to be weak, and in his trials and tears, he understands that everything has a meaning for his natural evolution... and he continues walking"...

Life is like a plentiful river that overcomes obstacles, like a "path" full of bumps and crossings, where what is really important is to be able to recognize and overcome those "obstacles," to recognize those errors, defects, that are so hard for us to see, and it will be precisely that self-improvement and correction what will let us be able to identify and rectify the "paths" taken erroneously.

Universal Laws and Spiritual Laws [\[1\]](#)

There are seven basic Principles that rule the Universe and our lives, and if we get to understand them and apply them, we will see how we attain a total dominion of our life and surroundings, transforming into happy human beings full of grace. These principles are joined to the Spiritual Laws that rule our internal "steps" that we take daily to attain the spiritual evolution that so many people desire. The Principles are:

1) The Principle of Mentalism:

It maintains that the "ALL" IS MIND; that the Universe is mental. That thoughts are "things," matter, that manifest in the exterior. We are the only producers of everything that happens to us. Everything depends of the mental mood in which we live.

We have free will to choose Good or Bad, the negative or the positive. What we hope will happen, what we decree to happen, will happen, and what we deny, won't. Saint Paul the Apostle said: "We are transformed by the renovation of our mind."

We have often heard that we have been created in the image and likeness of God. This means we are creators as He is. God created the Universes with his mind. We create our world with our mind. If we change our beliefs, we change the mental position we maintain and everything is transformed.

Spiritual Law:

On the other hand, the Spirit must clearly state how are the different ways in which it manifests, from this arises the Spiritual Law (second portion), that indicates:

"NOTHING IS MANIFESTED THAT HASN'T BEEN DESIRED BEFOREHAND."

This is the same as saying "Everything that one believes is what he creates as a reality."

In this sense, the Angels have disclosed to us the PYRAMID OF EFFECT, which is a symbolic Pyramid with its base supported by four powers or energies of the Spirit that make creation possible. In what is visible, these four powers are Attraction, Cohesion, Adhesion and Repulsion, and in what is Invisible, the Constructive Will, the Creative Imagination, Faith and Secrecy. And of course, all this must be rolled out with Braveness and Strength, in a Clean, Healthy, Balanced and Irradiated manner.

"Magic," the manifestation of the "Shape," the energy created to model anything that one wants to achieve, is attained through the mind and its intelligent "Energies," and the actions and deeds have a behaviour –observation and action-based on what has been called the "Pyramid of Effect," actions taken by means of FAITH, CREATIVE IMAGINATION, CONSTRUCTIVE WILL and its SECRET or SILENCE ...because the mind believes or is sure of what it wants (Faith) ...it can't create anything if it doesn't imagine it (Creative Imagination) ...it knows it is essential to have the will to do it, to see it and to "live" it mentally, to be very persistent, to be occupied in this (Constructive Will) ...and it can't disclose what it plans to do, it tries to be confidential and doesn't take pride in what it has, as such is the protection that will facilitate that the project ripens and is taken into effect (Secret or Silence).

2) The Principle of Correspondence:

This Principle maintains that "How it is above, it is below; how it is below, it is above." In our own terrestrial surrounding and in everything around us, we can read, decipher, translate how these same things occur in other planes. Every action and every condition have their analogy or their correspondence in all the other planes of existence.

There are many planes which we don't know, but when we apply the Law of Correspondence to them, much of what in other ways would be incomprehensible to us is clarified in our consciousness. It is applied universally both in the mental, material and spiritual plane of the Cosmos. The knowledge of the Principle of Correspondence facilitates that man can reason intelligently from the known to the unknown.

Spiritual Law:

If we want to understand how men and women can reincarnate in the physical plane, we must know that the Law of Spirit (first law) exists and that it is based on:

"ONLY IF THE SUPERIOR REMAINS, CAN THE INFERIOR APPEAR AND DEVELOP ITSELF."

In other words, "nothing inferior can be if its superior isn't there." This Law can also be considered in another way: If we call Spirit what is SUPERIOR and Matter what is INFERIOR, we can express without doubt that it is spirit what creates matter.

In the Book of Samahel, there is a chapter called "THE SMALL HOLDS THE BIG," which is the same as saying, "THAT THE BIG HOLDS THE SMALL." Matter holds the Spirit.

3) The Principle of Vibration:

It expresses that "nothing is motionless, everything moves, everything vibrates." The positive thinking vibrates at a very high frequency. Its colours are brilliant, clear, luminous. The negative thinking vibrates slowly and its colours are opaque. The more negative thoughts are, more shadowy and lower is the "tone" of their sound.

Spiritual Law:

Emotions and feelings also form a symbolic part of the mind and the heart, they are also energies of the spirit, and from this sprouts the Third Law of Spirit, that says:

"NOTHING GENERATED BY AN ENERGY CAN BE PERCEIVED IF IT ISN'T ACCOMPANIED BY ANOTHER ENERGY OF LOWER VIBRATION."

This means that Light doesn't exist until it finds a physical support where to manifest itself, IF YOU CHANGE THE WAY YOU IMAGINE AN ENERGY, YOU ARE ALSO CHANGING THAT ENERGY, definitely, nothing IS until it is produced, set and materialized.

The Angels are dormant energies in our interior, but we won't awaken them until we change the way we imagine them. Thoughts, feelings and emotions are vibrations that create a transmutation over matter. The vibration produces geometry, that is the visible form of that invisible shape. We must feel as if the result of our thoughts, prayers, rituals, etc., was already on its way, and as such everything flowers towards the exterior. The energies of spirit cannot flower if beforehand an energy of lower vibration like our mind doesn't desire and think them.

4) The Principle of Polarity:

"Everything is Double, everything has two poles, everything has its pair of opposites: the similar and the antagonist are the same; the opposites are identical in Nature, but different in their degree; the opposites touch; all the truths are half-truths; all the paradoxes can be reconciled."

In the physical plane we find that cold and hot are of identical nature, being the difference only an issue about degrees. The thermometer indicates the degrees of temperature, being the lower pole what we call cold and the superior pole what we call hot. In between these two there are a lot of degrees of hot and cold, and of these degrees the highest is the hottest, with relation to the lowest, that is the coldest. There is no fixed type. It all relates to degrees and their relation. There is no place on the thermometer where heat ceases to be and cold starts. It's all related to vibrations more or less high or low. Even the words "high" and "low" aren't, in this case, more than two poles of the same thing. They are relative.

The same principle operates in the same way in the mental plane. Where we find something we also find its opposite. This is what lets us transmute one mental state in another, following the lines of polarity.

Braveness can transmute in fear and vice versa. Hard objects can become soft and successively, being the transmutation produced between things of the same class, but of a different degree. If we think in a coward man, if his mental vibrations are elevated on the line of FEAR-BRAVENESS, he will be full of braveness. Also the lazy can become active and energetic, polarizing himself along the line of LAZINESS-DILIGENCE.

Mental states belong to multiple classes, having each one its opposite, and transmuting is possible along its own line. Not only the change of pole of our own mental states through the art of Polarization, but also the phenomenon of mental influence in its multiple phases demonstrates that this principle can be extended to enclose the mental influences; in other words, mental states can be produced by induction of others. It is possible to polarize an environment, a situation. The majority of results obtained in mental treatments are attained applying this principle.

Those people that want to follow the Path of Light never use this principle in another direction than for Goodness, because as you will read later on about the Principle of Rhythm and the Principle of Cause and Effect, that are the Laws of the Boomerang, what we do to others is returned to us in an identical way, sooner or later. A smile belongs to the Positive Pole, a frown belongs to the Negative Pole. If you want to change your pole during a negative manifestation, smile, express the Goodness present in the manifestation, bless it and add "and I want to see it," "I bless the goodness of this situation and ask to see it."

Spiritual Law:

Spirit has two polarities and each of these polarities has at the same time two other polarities (masculine and feminine principle), and according to the Fifth Spiritual Law, which says:

"IT CAN ONLY BE MANIFESTED WHAT HAS TWO BALANCED OR COMPENSATED POLARITIES. DE-COMPENSATION DESTROYS BEFORE EXISTING."

We have to join our reason through our MIND with our HEART, which is the understanding and the generator of emotions and feelings, and in such a way, both balanced and in harmony, illuminate our interior with the energy of Love. If it isn't this way, we are unbalanced and functioning with our DNA shrunk and darkened, we are then disconnected from the Universal reality, that is harmony and equilibrium.

The Mayans said that we are as magnets and that to live in life, we must do like magnets do, join both poles to be able to attract love.

In the Book of Samahel and in the ADAMA Diary, much is said about equilibrium, about the union of light and shadow, about the union each one must do with his interior opposite side, etc.; I can reference the beginning of the Prayer to Angel MURIEL, that reads: "I call on the Great Energy that Unites the Higher with the Lower so that in its Balance it awakens in me the action (manifestation) necessary with which to make (create) a better and more agreeable world.”

5) The Principle of Rhythm:

“Everything flows and reflows; everything has its periods of going forwards and backwards; everything ascends and descends, everything moves as a pendulum, the measure of its movement towards the right is the same as the measure to the left, the rhythm is the compensation.”

This principle bears the truth that everything is manifested in a certain movement of coming and going; in everything an average oscillation is manifested, a flow and a reflow, a movement similar to that of a pendulum from one pole to the other, according to the principle of Polarity, with which Rhythm has a close relation. Rhythm is manifested in both poles of everything. This doesn't mean that the rhythmic oscillation goes to the ends of both poles, as this happens very rarely; it is very difficult to establish the opposed polar ends in the majority of cases. But the oscillation is made first towards one pole and then towards the other. There is always an oscillation, a movement forward and backward, a rise and a fall that manifests in everything and in all the phenomena of the Universe. This Law rules for everything: suns, worlds, minds, energy, spirit, matter, animals, plants, etc.

Everything repeats itself time after time, the same as the heart beat that is the smallest Rhythm we can see or feel; day and night, seasons, nothing is resting. Everything has its own Rhythm. We also see it in all the phases of human activity. The tides of life flow and reflow according to this Law, and we also see it happen with our fluctuating moods, our feelings, our mental states. We see how we start something enthusiastically and afterwards we don't know how and why our enthusiasm gets weaker, then it comes back again and in this way we are ruled by this Principle, because as every law, it is immutable. It is always fulfilled; but if we study it and know it is always functioning, we can learn to use it, the same as the Law of Mentalism, the Law of Cause and Effect and the Law of Polarity.

In other words, these Laws are not good or bad. They simply warrant the harmonious functioning of the Universe, and it is our knowledge and how we use them what makes them good or bad for each of us. In this case, for example, we know that the Principle of Rhythm cannot be avoided, but we can't allow it to play with us and take us here and there, on the contrary, we learn how to avoid its effects to a certain degree. Such a degree will depend on the control we have of this Principle.

We learn to use it instead of being used by it. We learn to polarize ourselves in the point where we wish to remain and we rise above the pendulum like oscillation. Every person that has acquired a certain self-control does this up to a certain point, conscious or unconsciously. The master does it consciously and thanks to his control of this Law, attains a degree of equilibrium, stability and mental firmness that are nearly unconceivable by the majority that come and go in a constant undulating movement, always propelled by their own Rhythm. We know there are two planes of manifestation of the mental phenomena, this is, two planes of consciousness, a high and a low one. Then, if we rise to the Superior plane, we escape from the undulating oscillation, that only manifests in the lower plane. In other words, the oscillation of the pendulum is produced in the unconscious plane and our consciousness remains unaffected. We call this Neutralization. Its operation consists in raising the EGO over the vibrations of the unconscious plane of mental activity, in a way the negative oscillation of the pendulum doesn't manifest in the consciousness and one isn't affected by it. It is the same as stepping above something and letting it pass below us. Those who know and practice the Law polarize themselves in the required pole and thanks to a process similar to rejecting or refusing to take part in the retrograde oscillation, remain in their position and let the pendulum oscillate backwards in the unconscious plane.

Spiritual Law:

To acknowledge itself, the Spirit needs the ACTIONS of opposed Forces, and according to this, the sixth Spiritual Law would be:

“WHAT IS SUBJECTED TO STRESSES IS THE ONLY THING THAT MANIFESTS.”

Everything in nature is movement, for example, when the spermatozoon and the ovule haven't reached their connection, the stress that is being produced between them makes them search for each other, in other words, they want to eliminate it to reach the balanced state (fertilization or manifestation).

In the Universe, balance is attained by neutralizing opposed forces. To each action corresponds a reaction. When we light a bulb, we join two negative poles with one positive pole to be able to see, and when we realize that all our evolution until today has had a purpose, that is to evolve, it quickly requires our ACTION and ENTHUSIASM to attain it, which is a natural REACTION.

From here on, when you have realized that you are the seed of this evolution and also the spermatozoon, in other words, that you take in you the flame of the divine masculine and feminine, in your interior a movement to seek is produced, that will not rest until that stress is neutralized with the encounter with your Interior Grail and you are born to the new consciousness that evolution asks for. The Angels also speak of this Grail.

6) The Principle of Cause and Effect:

“Every cause has its effect; every effect has its cause: everything happens subjected to this Law; chance is just the name that an unknown law receives; there are many planes of causality but nothing escapes the Law.”

The mind is an engine. Thoughts are force or energy that the mind generates. This energy exits our mind in vibrations, in waves that, thanks to the Law of Rhythm, come back to us bringing the future that we have collected. If you do good to somebody, or speak well of somebody, those words or that action comes out in vibrations of colour. That colour attracts the vibrations of the same colour, that return to you increasing the good you've done. Beautiful and miraculous things happen to you.

Coincidences don't exist. They can't exist because the law of coincidence doesn't exist. What exist are exact laws called Principles, because they are immutable. The Principle of Polarity fixes what you do and say in one of the two poles, the positive or the negative. In others words, what you think, say or do is positive or negative. There isn't a third pole. If you think or speak badly about someone, it is negative. You have planted it in the negative pole, it goes out in grey colour or with a higher vibratory density, depending of the quantity of wickedness it contains, it picks up on its way a lot of energy of the same colour and it returns with its force increased. As a consequence, something bad will happen to you.

There you have the explanation of what occurs to you. If you criticize, you will be criticized, if you hurt someone or something, you will be hurt or something yours will be damaged; if you are unfair, harsh, that injustice and harshness returns to you. Those causes which you plant have to give their result in effects, before you are free. If you plant discord, you have to collect discord; if you plant kindness, love, help, you have to collect kindness, love, help. What you seed, be it constructive or destructive, you will see it return. How can people still think they can be cruel, defamatory, bad tempered, violent, meen with impunity and hope to be healthy, loved, rich and happy, in other words, hope to have all the good things of life, if they only plant bad things? The world just sends hate, selfishness, discussions, quarrels... and collects a harvest of confusion, chaos, wars and disturbances of every type.

Many times those people we have hurt in some way die before our account with them is settled, and there HAS to be an opportunity to settle it in the future, because GOD IS INFINITE MERCY and never leaves his sons with an eternal punishment without giving them the opportunity of settling their debts, and... to give us the opportunity of earning the carnal and material goodness we deserve and that can't be paid in the invisible and immaterial plane, Reincarnation exists. This is a Truth and the only logic explanation to the apparent injustice you see many times.

But if you are conscious of an error committed and you really want to amend or repair your damage, there is a way. Whatever the causes, the "sin," the imperfection, the impurity, the error that has been committed, there is a conscious way of transmuting them. And what does TRANSMUTE mean? It means TO DISSOLVE, TO DELETE COMPLETELY AT NO COST.

When we know we have "sinned" or committed a fault that might of hurt someone or something, and we are really sorry, we must say and repeat mentally to ourselves: "My Superior Self, that is the Perfect Christ in me, is the one in charge of conducting me without tortures towards my Ascension." And once you have realized, meditated and understood this, you will never "sin" willingly, and the first Doors of Heaven will open for you, as all this checks that you have put all your good will, and the most important Master of all times, Jesus, said: ..."Peace on Earth to men of good will."

Spiritual Law:

For the Spirit to manifest, it needs that all the Universe be at its service, and in consequence, the seventh Law says:

"NOTHING CAN BE MANIFESTED IF IT HASN'T A TARGET OF SERVICE."

According to this Law everything has manifested due to something useful. We are born to evolve, but we will only evolve if we help others to evolve, it is a perfect symbiosis with everything that surrounds you, be it human, animal, plant, mineral, air, water or fire, energy, visible or invisible, light or shadow.

The service as a vehicle to evolve means Humbleness, Generosity, etc. Aren't these the virtues we are learning about with the observations about the Book of the 13 Pages, that is included in the ADAMA Diary and was dictated by angels?

7) The Principle of Generation:

"Generation exists everywhere; everything has its masculine and feminine principle; generation is manifested in all planes."

It maintains that everything has a father and a mother, a feminine base and a masculine base. This doesn't mean that the base is gender, as gender is the difference that exists in the exterior between the male and the female in the physical plane. In higher planes, this Principle takes elevated forms, but every being contains in itself the two elements of the Principle. TRUTH IS ALWAYS SIMPLE AND NATURAL. For the pure, everything is pure.

The word "gender" means "to create," "conceive," "produce." The word "sex" is limited to organic life. God is Love and Intelligence, Mother and Father, Negative and Positive.

RELIGION is the set of Truths based on Universal Love, on Charity, on the fraternal and parental feelings, on the practice that means "Love each other" and "Love God over all things and your fellowmen the same as yourself." The word Religion means something that is double binded, joined by cohesion, and that is all it means. It doesn't need anything else, because that cohesion is attained by Love. The CHURCH is an organism, or a human organization created by man. It has the purpose of joining together to pray, to practice good deeds, teach, etc.

Every being contains in itself the two elements of this principle. If you want to know the philosophy of mental and spiritual creation, generation and regeneration, you must study this principle, because it contains the solution to many mysteries of life.

Spiritual Law:

Accept you are a creator together with God and with the spirits of creation and that God experiments and creates through you. Try to participate in your life with consciousness. Recognize you have bad moments and when you stop worrying breathe calmly and remember who you really are and who is experimenting your life with you, this means amplifying your consciousness and a great responsibility. You take God within yourself! The Spirit to manifest in the physical plane needs a reference framework, that is determined by the relation space-time. Only then can the integral human being perceive its manifestation, and the Spiritual Law (fourth law) says:

"ONLY WHAT HAS A TIME AND A PLACE TO DO SO IS MANIFESTED."

The Mayans are considered the masters of the Art of now. For them, Art means to be synchronized and in harmony with the Universal Mind, because in the Universe the spirit doesn't have time or space, only present. Time isn't a before and afterwards, it is HERE AND NOW, and if we act and think this way, we are transforming Life into Art, in art because we are creators and art is creation. You know that the words in Latin CARPE DIEM mean "the art of living the present moment."

Angel Methatron shows this in one of his 72 aspects of wisdom: YABAMIAH. This name can be translated as "Verb that produces things" in its mystic and cabalistic meaning. He is the Angel of ART, and when the Initiate retains him in his interior, he is creative, a speaker, and is capable of doing the "miracle" of modelling imagination to transform it in matter.

The emblems of the "Walker"

The virtue or emblem of the "Walker" cannot be defined as an abstraction, as something we cannot "see," as something far from us, no, the virtue is like the "root" of our own life that we take bonded to our Being and that we must be capable of keeping well "stimulated" by activating always our best attitudes, actions and behaviours.

A virtue cannot be understood as something individual, as it will be always accumulative, because one virtue "calls" another one, they are mutually related, because when we speak about a prudent, humble, generous person, all his virtues are accumulative, as he could not really be prudent, humble and generous, for example, if he did not have also other virtues that would help him be that way.

Let's talk about some of them...

GENEROSITY

In the plane of matter we can define generosity as the action of giving others in a material or physical way, normally money, which is done in an uninterested and altruistic manner, without expecting anything in return. An action that is very necessary to try to alleviate within our possibilities the basic needs of our fellowmen that don't have sufficient resources to cover them, and many times, vital needs.

But generosity goes far beyond if we are able to elevate it to a superior plane, as is the emotional, sensitive or spiritual plane, because generosity is also giving other things that are sometimes much more complex to give, be it affection, love, understanding, soothing, respect, friendliness... even to manifest a smile could be called generosity. In this sense, Love, this emblem or virtue of generosity, can only be understood as delivering part of our lives to others, a delivery that undoubtedly will give us the key to open the doors of the remaining virtues and of our own consciousness, and from this perspective, we can say it is like the seed that plants Love. The person that has been able to plant in his interior, in the perspective of Love, virtues such as tolerance, benevolence, temperance ...all this by dominating his arrogance, haughtiness, pride... must of been able to awaken other virtues, in which we obviously include generosity.

Another act of generosity, that is higher, is the generosity of knowing and wanting to forgive, because to forgive we need a lot of will to accept and tolerate, like a great desire of service to others. It is not about thinking that what others have done to us is not important, or to be naive, but to understand and recognize the need in that person of receiving love, of receiving our generosity due to something that has meant an offence, making the effort to show him we have not rejected him for what he has done, because we accept him and trust fully his possibility of improving. If we cannot attain this in a harmonious way, it isn't important, what is important is to have tried to do it. It will be this intention what will make us evolve spiritually, helping us reach the true happiness and satisfaction of the accomplished duty agreed in some moment with our Divine interior: Love.

And what do the Angels tell us in a symbolic way about this Virtue?

In the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel it has been written that the Energies of Angel Cassiel (as regent of Saturdays) and the Planetary Angel Aratron (as regent of Saturn), that represents "Matter" (brown or black colour), both as angels of Generosity, make the human being a true researcher and corroborator, firm and secure in his mystic convictions... in other words, they impregnate him with virtues as:

Mastery (to communicate freely and honestly his experiences).

Peace (to be able to comfort the afflicted and grieved hearts of his fellowmen).

Protection (to protect our body, soul and spirit against adverse energies and situations, be them of thought, speech, action or omission).

Light (to be able to clarify and dissipate the shadows that darken the moments of his life and the paths he walks).

And together with the energy of Tohiel (the Angel of Consciousness of the Primary Will) they will make him reach the first "Temple" or state of Consciousness (the phase of Consciousness of the physical body, or first "Palace," whose door Angel Tahariel opens, the angelic doorman and authentic "Spiritual Guide" of the "Walkers" in their thoughts, speech, actions and silence).

SHADOW OR OPPOSED LIGHT: ASTAROTH, that takes to the dependency of Matter and Spirit (greed, arrogance). It causes jealousy, envy and pride. It is the Obscurity of the persecution against the Initiates in Light.

NOBILITY

I've read a text in Internet where it says that nobility is equal to the highest or most evolved state of human beings, due to which, in old times, the title of nobles was given to aristocracy, as they were supposed to be people that gave example of the highest virtues and gifts among the men and women of their times... although really their privileged position took them often to live a corrupt, cruel and vane life...

This has made me think that it is really there where we can find the key to its meaning. Nobility isn't given to us by others, we win it to ourselves when we are capable of knowing who we really are, of being able to discover our true values, feelings and emotions, and the best thing to do for this is a deep and calm reflexion about our experiences and attitudes, to be able this way to understand the true meaning of our actions.

And it will be that spiritual consciousness what will give us the touch we need to awaken in our interior the great virtue of Nobility and to be able to understand that its origin is only in our own behaviour and actions, when these are done openly, without hypocrisy or manipulation, in other words, done with honesty, humbleness and simplicity in all moments, as undoubtedly these are the emblems that will give us the "strength" to succeed.

It is important to understand that honesty is not only to be sincere (understood as the capacity to say the truth), it is based on assuming that the truth is only one and doesn't depend on people, consensus or opinions, in other words, that we must do things with authenticity and integrity, being honest, real and brave in our actions. I have no doubt that with this practice we can attain the interior nobility I am speaking about.

And what do the angels symbolically tell us about this virtue?

It is written in the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel that the Energies of Angel Anael (regent of Fridays) and the Planetary Angel HAGITH (regent of Venus), that symbolizes "What ascends from Earth to Heaven" (green colour), both as angels of nobility, would make human beings pacifist, loving, sweet and appeasing people, as they would be impregnated with virtues or values such as:

Love (to be shared wherever they go).

Union (to harmonize what is separated and opposed, and to balance what is unbalanced).

Beauty (to thank God continuously blessing the wonders of his Harmonic and Sublime creation).

Spirituality (to praise the greatness of the multiple Virtues that converge in Him).

And together with Angel Bohuel, name of one of the so called Angels of Consciousness, that is translated from Hebrew as "Emptiness of God," and that symbolically speaks to us about the useless things that those candidates to Initiates must leave behind, for example, their fears, phobias and superstitions that designate the "unconsciousness" of Wisdom.

Shadow or opposed Light: LILITH, that attracts envy and hate. This shadow causes resentment, lust, cravings about sex. It tears relationships apart, it makes couples have an unhealthy relationship, and takes jealousy to the extremes of abuse and crime, and makes one depraved in his personal actions towards others who he considers his property.

Perfume: Rose (better, Rose of tea)

Stone or gem: Emerald (equal, unprocessed emerald)

Its planetary energy "Hagith," that emanates from the superior angel Anael.

Period of the day: DAWN

A very important angel whose name can be translated as "Favour of God." It represents Love in all its aspects. Both in our personal relationships and in other relationships, be them our family –sons and daughters, fathers, etc., or as a catalyst and intercessor of unions. And of course, he is related to true friendship.

MODERATION

Moderation could be defined as "the quality of a person who acts with prudence and in a reasonable way, of a person that measures his actions and words, of a person that does not lead to overkill..."

But as a virtue, moderation is much more than that, as it can be understood as the balance of the extremes to attain the physical and spiritual harmony, because when we nest it in our interior, it will let us see and value what is fair in what we do, in our actions and daily attitudes, letting the human being attain for himself restraint, prudence, order, harmony, giving him strength and determination, although this might seem a contradiction, to be able to rule over his lights of obscurity, that are no more than excess, ostentation, pride, vanity, rage, fanaticism...

And to be able to nest this great virtue in our interior, the human being must understand that he should act in his life with real common sense, being patient, casting aside his fears, desires, selfishness and passions ....and the prominence that may make him feel this way due to his own understandable reason.

I remember some words said about Love by a great friend and master, that are related to the virtue of moderation, among other virtues. He says... "If we really want to Love (awaken some day in us Anael, the angel of Love) first we must destroy our anxiety to love..." Indeed, we must be conscious about the fact that it is impossible to love with such intentions, with that anxiety or ambition, as it only means that we want for ourselves something without thinking in anything else. And the same would occur with any other aspect of experience in our daily life that is done with the same intention.

Transmutation is change, the transformation of our inner Being, of our defects in virtues, of our shadows in lights, of our negative energies in positive ones, because Transformation means to discover that inner "magician" that lets us see that the divine isn't "outside" but "inside" us, and that changes are really started from the "inside" because that way we recognize them and have the will to do them. We must know that we will never be able to change the exterior "world" without having changed beforehand our interior world.

And symbolically what do the angels tell us about this emblem?

In the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel it is written that with the Energies of Angel Sachiel (as regent of Thursdays and as Angel of Moderation) and of the Planetary Angel Bethor, regent of Jupiter, that represents "Transmutation" (violet or purple colour), the human being can fulfil his internal "spiritual revolution," as he will defeat all his defects, transforming them in virtues and having the capacity to influence his environment, impregnating himself with virtues related to:

Kindness (to help others whenever possible).

Blessings (to make lighter the "tortuous paths" of life and make a better and more loving world).

Generosity actions (to make happy and give peace to all those that cross our path).

Transmutation (to change the negative to positive; Death in Life, disease in Health; darkness in Light).

And that together with the Energy of Emeshel (Angel of the Consciousness of Detachments) will let them achieve the third Grade of Consciousness (the Grade of the Consciousness of Intelligence) and attain the necessary detachments that would slow down the true Initiation, the true pact of oneself with the Divine, as the true paths must be crossed over without ballasts or heavy loads, to alleviate our spirit and take it to the "Temple" of Self-acceptance and Self-commitment, the only premise to become a real Initiate.

This energy grants to those who are able to nest it success and leadership. Success in the judgments and oppositions of life. It awakens reason to a superior reality and prevents confusions. It is the great clarifier (to express it in an understandable way).

DILIGENCE, ACTIVITY

The human being is diligent when he is active, resolute, organized, and occupies himself with effort in trying to finish the things he starts. In what is material, he fulfils his obligations and daily commitments, house chores, attention to his sons, to his family, to his work, he knows how to plan and organize himself... In what is spiritual, he never stops searching the true path of his evolution, of trying to be capable of "hearing the voice" of his interior, of his intuition, putting all the means he has to be able to "find himself" with his inner God.

A diligent person sets targets, purposes of any kind ...personal, intellectual, professional, spiritual, and is strong enough to put them in action without delay and successfully, searching for the coherence of his actions through the "inner wisdom" and the "healing / cleanliness" of his body and spirit, doing this with will and tenacity, prudence and moderation, what will surely give him the guidelines to be able to achieve it.

Opposed to diligence is laziness, carelessness, as we say... "I'll do it later," unreliability, lack of punctuality, apathy... That is why we should instil this virtue in children when they are very small, make children see this with our example, because for them we are "mirrors" in which they see themselves and we know they learn quickly.

The virtue of being diligent is attained by having good habits and not letting go with daily efforts.

And symbolically, what do the Angels tell us about the virtue of Diligence?

In the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel it is written that with the Energies of Angel Raphael (as regent of Wednesdays) and of the Planetary Angel Ophiel, regent of Mercury, that represents the "Consecration" (blue colour), human beings will be able to be wise, messengers of Truth and Justice, luminous irradiators and consecrated in the Sacred Mysteries, when they are impregnated with the virtues related to:

Healing (to fight against the diseases that afflict body and spirit).

Devotion (to join the macrocosms with the microcosms in a cocktail of harmony and balance).

Health (to continue to walk freely in the paths of Peace and Love).

The Gift of Speech (to communicate fluidly the Message that has to be proclaimed with Consciousness and Liberty).

And it will be the Energy of Angel Damamel (Angel of Correction) what will make them reach the Grade of Consciousness of Intuition (4th Grade, the Accepted), because when we convene this Intelligent Energy, it will make us strong, positive, radiant and active in the spiritual Search, Walkers of the fertile path of experience, and coherent in the mental and material manifestations.

Opposed Light (black): LEVIATHAN, that takes to laziness and to not fulfilling commitments.

HUMBLENESS, SIMPLICITY

When the emblems of humbleness and simplicity, that have an incalculable value, are nested in our interior, they make the "doors" of acceptance and correction open to the Walker, the doors to go over his values, his attitudes.... making him, at the same time, "strong" in spirit to move away from the great "shadows" that also belong to these great "lights," being these shadows arrogance, pride, vanity, possessiveness, overbearingness, selfishness... and of course, being able to correct them!

A humble person is a "natural" person and precisely that naturalness will attract to him the necessary consciousness to create deep thoughts and feelings of empathy and sensibility towards what he receives from the exterior, be it people (human relationships) or things (relationship with Nature, with our Mother Earth); and of altruism and detachment, because he equally knows that what is important isn't what he has, but what affects or comes from others, and all this characterized by the desire of doing good, without masks, doing it truly by heart.

Humbleness is the emblem of the "student," the "apprentice," of he who knows his limitations and weak points, of he who loves others in an unconditional and unselfish way, with a spirit of service, feeling he is the same as the other, different, but the same, never better.

But humbleness doesn't "come" alone, it is preceded by settling other virtues that we could consider its "sisters," virtues that go by its hand and that finally make humbleness manifest itself... these virtues are generosity, docility, mercy, modesty, moderation ... because a generous and merciful person knows that he must help his fellowmen when he can, and loves others in a sincere and honest way; a person with level-headedness seeks moderation and, in consequence, tries to move away from fury, resentment, anger... he seeks equilibrium in his actions.

And what do the angels tell us symbolically about the virtue of simplicity?

In the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel it is written that with the Energies of Angel Samuel (as regent of Tuesdays) and of the Planetary Angel Phaleg, regent of Mars, that represents "Strength and Initiative" (red colour), the human being will take a level of consciousness that will make him able to separate the "wheat from the chaff"; to "plough and fertilize" that path to plant the "seeds" of spirituality, when impregnated with the virtues related to:

Vigour and Strength (looking at the expectations of our life to continue and finish what is proposed diligently and without vacillation, with organized, convincing thoughts).

Impartiality (to not fall in the errors that entail precipitation and false knowledge).

Learning (to transform into "Mastery" the words, actions and silences).

And together with the Energy of Angel Ruhael (the Angel of Discipline) they will achieve the Grade of consciousness of Will (5th Grade).

Opposed light (black): ABADDON, that symbolizes the destruction of the balance supported by the being that is tied to matter...

PURITY

What can be understood as the virtue of Purity?

I have searched for the information available on the web and most of it says that Purity is the same as Chastity, but the definition that has attracted my attention most and convinced me is the following: Purity is "fineness, beauty" of the soul, and I would add, "cleanliness" of the spirit, because that "cleanliness" will be what determines the deepness of the remaining virtues of a person.

I am convinced that chastity isn't the real symbol of Purity sensed as "majuscule," because I understand that love is intimately related to sex practiced with real love, not "sporadic" sex. The relationships of love taken to effect in any moment under the perspective of true love, of two people in love, are realised under the "umbrella" of the virtue of Purity.

We all try to take care of our physical body, it is what characterizes the image of a person, for it to be healthy, but it shouldn't be the "mind" that gives it its "whims," feeding its "appetite"; we should do this through our spirit, because as I have said at the beginning, who dominates his passions and has a "clean" heart has the capacity of awakening and living other virtues that will help him attain this, such as love, happiness, generosity, docility, spontaneity, honesty...

I understand Purity as that virtue that perfects our thoughts, our emotions, that dignifies us and makes us strong in the face of the temptations of our own "life," giving us peace at the same time and making us pleasant to God. Purity looks for the authentic love ...the love to God, to our family, to our partner, practicing it in a clean way, without falseness, transcending beauty, the desire of the senses ...definitely, loving!, and it is in this process that we will find true happiness and peace of mind.

And what do angels symbolically say about the virtue of Purity?

In the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel it is written that with the Energies of Angel Gabriel (as regent of Mondays), whose white light brings purity to the Initiate, and of the Planetary Angel Phul, regent of the Moon, that represents the "Enlightenment" (white colour), which impregnate us with the virtues related to:

Learning (because life is full of trials that we must pass as a lesson).

Our feminine part (Spiritual Maternity, producing in oneself the seed of Love).

Mental preparation (that will allow us to retain all the symbols that appear on our path).

Prophecy (that will allow us to say things truly and correctly, not with false clairvoyance or imagining).

And that together with Angel Ravayael (the angel of learning and accreditation) will allow us to reach the grade of consciousness (6th grade) of spirituality.

Opposed light (black): BELIAL, that entails lust and bloody-mindedness and spiritual falseness... It is the most evil "Shadow" of the human being and is represented as a very beautiful and attractive young man.

SERENITY

Can serenity be taken as indifference or lack of concern? Obviously, but Serenity as a virtue is another thing. Serenity is an energy of light that when nested in the interior of the walker, it also opens for him the doors of common sense, coherence in speech and actions, moderation, patience and equity (Book of Samahel).

Serenity is to know how to accept things as they are, and in that knowledge there will sufficient wisdom to see how we can change them, if we really can. Serenity is stillness of the mind and searching for internal balance (energy of white light of Michael), that at the same time, although it seems contradictory, makes us perseverant in our actions and convictions.

The virtue of serenity is closely related to patience, and must not be confused with apathy; on the contrary, patience combines very well with the virtue of strength, as together they will let us "see" the problems and trials of life, pain and suffering, making us strong in spirit to be in a condition to give them a solution.

As the Book of Samahel says, serenity is like the "ocean in movement" through its gentle waves.

And what do the angels tell us symbolically about this virtue?

In the Book of Samahel and the Book of Tahariel it is written that with the Energies of Angel Michael (as regent of Sundays) and of the Planetary Angel Och, regent of the Sun, that represents the "Divinity" (yellow colour), we will be able to impregnate ourselves with the virtues related to:

Justice (trying to be fair with correct decisions and advice).

Abundance and prosperity (letting our actions reach others).

Worthiness (letting our thoughts crystalize in good actions).

And together with the energy of Angel Onegel (Angel of the Pacts), they let us reach the grade of consciousness (7th grade) of Life.

Opposed light (black): SATAN, that entails fury and disgrace for the walker. Satan is the dismal and dark energy that accuses, slanders and is contrary to the human luminosity (Book of Samahel).

Period of the day: DAY (period of daylight)

The offerings to the light with the name of this energy will always be about things related with honour, success and prosperity.

Virtues of the walker that are based upon and ruled by the energies of Light of the days of the week in what is spiritual and material and that must be subjected to actions done with honesty and sincerity.

Honesty, Sincerity

“It is that attribute of man by which the person is determined to choose to act always based upon truth and true justice. Honesty is a fundamental condition for human relationships, for friendship and for the life of the community. Honesty tinges life with confidence, sincerity and aperture towards life. Honesty is intimately related with humility, dignity, personality, ideals and nobility.”

To be honest is to be real, in accordance with the evidence the world presents and its diverse phenomena and elements; in other words, to be genuine, authentic, objective. Honesty expresses respect for oneself and others, that as us, “are as they are,” and there is no reason to hide it. This attitude seeds self-confidence and confidence in those in contact with the honest person.

Honesty not only consists in frankness (the capacity to say the truth) but also in to assume that truth is only one and it doesn't depend of people or consensus, but of what the real world presents us as undeniable and indispensable to be recognized. Honesty is the clear consciousness “before me and before others.” Honesty is to recognize what is correct and appropriate for our own role, behaviour and relationships. With honesty, there is no place for the hypocrisy or artificiality that create confusion and distrust in the minds and the life of others. Honesty leads to a life of integrity, because our interior and our exterior reflect each other.

Honesty is to say what we think and to do what we say. There are no contradictions or discrepancies in thoughts, speech or actions. This integration provides clarity and an example for others. To be different in our interior and our exterior creates barriers and can be harmful, because we won't be able to be near others and others won't want to be near us. Honesty is to be sincere, real and brave in our actions.

THE BOOK OF THE “13 PAGES” (A.D.A.M.A.)

YOUR CONSCIOUSNESS SPROUTS IN A SPRIG OF TWELVE <sup>[2]</sup>

According to a summarized study of the Book of the Twelve Powers of Man, written by the metaphysician Charles Fillmore, the Intellectual Mind has five senses available to investigate the physical world. In the same way, the spirit has in the unconscious twelve centres of action with twelve ruling entities.

This knowledge is very old; it was known by the Egyptian priests and is symbolized in the twelve sons of Jacob.

When Jesus Christ leaves the Jordan river and the desert prepared for his Mission, he calls those that will be his disciples, pointing out that when the human being evolves from the personal consciousness to the universal consciousness, he needs to develop a deeper and wider potential; in such a way, he sends his thought to the centres of his organism to saturate them with energy and life by means of the Verb, of Speech, eternal expression of thought.

Obeying thought and speech, these centres start to develop, to expand, to acquire a power that exceeds Individuality to reach Universality.

The "second coming" of Christ suggests that the principle of the human spirit (the potential Christ, still dormant) perceives truth in the conscious mind, but there is a moment (second coming) in which this truth penetrates more deeply, awakening the twelve centres of the spirit or Christ, regenerating the unconscious and transforming it in super-consciousness. Its action is projected to the internal world, being shared in twelve sectors, presided over by the twelve great abilities of the human spirit, called "apostles" by Charles.

THE 12 RULING ENTITIES OF EACH SPIRITUAL SECTOR. EACH ENTITY RULES ONE ABILITY:

- Simon, called Peter. DOCILITY
- Andrew, Peter's brother. SPONTANEITY
- Jacob, Jacobo, James the son of Zebedee. DETERMINATION
- John, the youngest of the twelve, also son of Zebedee (brother of James). LOVE
- Phillip of Bethsaida. STRENGTH
- Bartholomew, also called Nathaniel of Canaan. FIGHT AND REVOLUTION
- Thomas (also called Didymus or the Twin). ERUDITION
- Mathew the publican (tax collector). MASTERY
- James the Minor or James of Alpheus. CREATION
- Judas Tadeo. HARMONY
- Simon the Canaanite, the Zealot (guerrilla). LEARNING
- Judas Iscariot, who betrayed Jesus. LABORIOUSNESS

When we reach a certain grade of spiritual development, we need to count on these helpers, to learn how they can be strengthened, to learn how to communicate orders to them, etc. Intelligent people fail due to the atrophy of one or several of these internal centres. Others, less intelligent, are successful because they use these helpers by instinct.

The director of each sector or centre of action presides over a certain function of the spirit and acts in the body by means of a set of cells and tissues that Physiology calls "lymph node" or "endocrine gland." The centre of all the system is situated in the uppermost part of the head, where the Christ, "I Am," Yahweh (Iod - He - Vau - He) presides over. In allegorical speech this part is named as the Mountain (where Jesus moved away to pray).

During many years it has been prophesied that the time was ripe for the beginning of a new race in this planet and speculation had been raised about the nature and manifestation of a SUPERIOR MAN. Consequently, the metaphysic idea of the spiritual awakening of man in the plane of human expression and his transformation towards the divine, not due to a miracle or a mandate from God, but due to the gradual refinement of the earthly human into a spiritual human.

VIRTUES AND EMBLEMS

Book of the 13 Pages. Let's speak about some of them.

VIRTUE OF HARMONY

Harmony is a state of internal equilibrium that controls emotions and feelings. Harmony is vibrant, luminous, as everything flows with absolute naturalness, with pleasure, with happiness, with deliverance, being able to feel at peace with oneself and with others.

Harmony doesn't pertain to what is perceived, but to the interior state of who perceives, as Harmony is found inside each one of us, and the rule or scale of it must be elucidated by ourselves in our interior.

To be harmonic is to be aligned with our internal being, with our thoughts, with our feelings, with our emotions, with what is beyond personality and life in general; it is to live consciously, accepting the good moments and the less good moments as something unique, as something that must happen naturally, being able to interiorize, feel and understand each action, being coherent with our thoughts, our actions, our commitments, making them flow towards others and learning from them.

The angel speaks about which must be our emblems to reach Harmony, which virtues we must sow, take to practice, and these are not others than Humility, Generosity and Kindness, emblems that can take us to Harmony if we really feel them inside our being, because if feelings overflow us and we can't control them, these emblems won't sprout.

We will reach humility leading a most honest life, with sincere and authentic daily actions in every moment, ruling over our ego, our vanity, our pride... feeling that one is equal to others, different, but equal, never superior ...and never asking for anything.

Generosity is a natural tendency that people have and that induce them to do good, to help the needy. It is a mental attitude of open-handedness; it is a deep feeling that comes from inside, that is characterized by the desire to do good, by heart, without falling into "appearance."

Kindness is to be friendly, affectionate, that the people with which we have contact, although unknown, feel well with our actions towards them.

The Angel also tells us: "Be unfaithful to your lazy feelings," in other words, recognize sincerely in the heart, with total sincerity, your shadows and obscurities... the ego, vanity, pride, intolerance... but at the same time trying not to fall in an excess of virtue or of defect, of light or of darkness, because that would break the balance that we really seek.

And how can we know the grade of Harmony we have and develop it? How can we realize we are being harmonic and that this virtue is impregnating us and our behaviour?

One way could be searching for past experiences in a moment or circumstance that could be considered of internal harmony, recognizing the worth of it and the experiences that have a maximum value. Of the chosen moment, we would analyse the circumstances; not so much the exterior, the place, the person or the object that procured the experience, but what happened inside our being, the thoughts, emotions, feelings, etc., and with this data and taking into account the external circumstances that might of affected us, we would compare how was our level of Harmony in that moment.

Another complementary method would be to define some purposes or key principles, and to meditate day by day in their practice. As an example, it would be very good to meditate about the following:

- What we think and feel in our interior from the perspective of sincerity and honesty.
- To live in the present. Not giving energy to the past if it was negative and not worrying about the future.
- To forgive ourselves, loving us much and ignoring every destructive criticism against us. To love others, forgiving their faults, but without forgetting offenses.
- Our dreams, spending time in them every day, every moment, to finally be able to make them a reality.
- Never try to dominate anybody, respecting the liberty of each one.
- To be happy, looking for the good side of things, especially in adversity or illness.
- To have a strong intention and spirit for our efforts not to be sterile and for our strength not to slacken in the face of the attacks of our shadows.
- To be patient and sensible, listening to who speaks to us and understanding him.
- To be grateful and sow once again what we have recollected.

PRAYERS THAT EXPRESS HARMONY

“When you walk or rest in nature, honour that realm remaining there plentifully. Calm down. Look around. Listen. Observe how every plant and every animal are exactly themselves. Unlike humans, they aren’t divided in two. They don’t live through mental images of themselves, and they don’t have to worry to protect and potentiate those images. Observe, feel an animal, a flower, a tree and see how they rest in the Being. It is a harmony, a consecration that not only penetrates in the totality of nature, as it is also in you. Each one of them is himself. They have a tremendous dignity, innocence, sanctity. In the moment you see beyond mental labels, you see the ineffable dimension of nature, which cannot be understood by reason.”

“The cosmic fire, stronger than the luminous force of the Sun, strokes your heart. Your soul calls for the flight of returning to eternity. Take your place on the back of Pegasus, let yourself go up, until the borders of your being align with eternity. Then you will have reached the ocean of happiness. The divine fire is lighted eternally.”

“God, I want to ask you through your angels to look at me, only for a while, and that you awake in me all the virtues that are useful to sprout Harmony and the virtues that accompany it.”

“Oh my Father! Powerful Presence that resides in the Essence of my Heart. I am grateful to you for what you give me every day. Your Infinite Harmony flows from my interior and installs in my mind and body. I feel that Energy come and I relax in the Silence of your Unconditional Love. Oh Father! I love you. I love myself. And I love my fellowmen. I forgive them and I forgive myself. Father, don’t let this Harmony that I feel ever leave me. I know you are doing this and I thank you. I kiss your lotus feet.”

“Hello God, do you recognize me? Every night I call you and speak to you, but I think I’m wrong, my requests are not always correct, but today I understand it,

Harmony, I take it inside, and I only ask, as I understand, if it can start to know me, as if I know my interior, that Harmony IS ME."

VIRTUE OF SPONTANEITY

We can understand spontaneity as a way of acting without thinking or reasoning what we are going to do or say in a certain moment... without considering a state of mind, and that can be surprising due to its naturalness and honesty.

And from the point of view of our interior ...we can understand it as a natural, easy and light expression of thought that willingly discovers our intimacy, opinions or fondness... as an honest answer that is born in the heart, in any daily event.

Spontaneity must be balanced (we must be spontaneous in a balanced way) and accompanied by happiness and harmony, and also generosity and kindness. And it is gratifying when it appears with a positive attitude, because it puts you at ease with yourself and others. You must live happily most of the time without being taken away by sadness, or if this happens, try to find a cause, a reason... always seek your positive trend.

Spontaneity is lost when our energy flow gets blocked, when we are afraid of being ridiculous, of criticism, of not being accepted... or when we are with people that are not in tune with our personality, with our thoughts... or because we reject other people due to their violent, inflexible, selfish or rude personality, or their lack of sensibility or sincerity. It might happen that some of our spontaneous actions could harm or go against the sensibility of the person we are talking to, but that would be corrected if in that action there was luminosity and harmony; to harm that person wouldn't be possible. We might feel ourselves hurt but we wouldn't necessarily harm anybody.

Spontaneity has to do with all the emblems; taking them into account is absolutely necessary, as in this way Light will flow and return to us, and its irradiation will be higher and higher. These are:

Happiness... an emblem that must be always in our interior, and to achieve it one must love and accept oneself, only that way we will be able to be happy. Happiness helps others to feel better. And in these cases, the best gift we can give is always a smile.

Happiness and enthusiasm in life can be found in our daily actions, some of them external, in our relationships with friends, with colleagues, with anyone, and others internal, related with our universal vital energy, with the spiritual path, trying to be balanced in both states.

Collaboration... an emblem understood as help to others, to work for others, in any aspect, be it through prayer or physically.

Analysing this word, its meaning could be interpreted as:

Co- (more than one)

Labour- (work, task)

Oration- (gratefulness, plea, connection)

Dignity... act respecting others in our daily behaviour.

A person has dignity when he uses his own liberty for himself and others, in other words, when he acts in a noble and honest way, when he doesn't try to rule over others, or wants others to think like him, because he accepts himself as he is, with his lights and shadows, and accepts others as they are, although they might make him suffer.

Dignity is something very important, it is to know who I am and that nobody is superior or inferior to me. Every human being in principle is dignified by his own origin, what makes this gleam (the real dignity) persist in us, in our behaviour towards others... it is a fundamental value of the person that must not be destroyed with actions that could denigrate, discredit, defame, slander...

As an example, that prayer to God, "I am not worthy to have you come into my home..." When we ask ourselves the way in which we can we bring that Dignity to our life and install it in our heart. There are many paths to walk, but we could start by recognizing our defects and taking measures to eliminate them, and then trying not to do others what we don't want them to do us, giving the best of ourselves, giving all that we are capable of, without asking for anything in return...

VIRTUE OF ERUDITION

We could consider that a person has the virtue of Erudition nested in his interior when he has authentic knowledge available, in other words, he is near the truth of things, he knows how to listen to the voice of his interior and knows it is important, the voice of his being and spirit, his real non-written library, and when he forwards to others that non-written knowledge, subtle, organized, with simple, concise and humble words, because he knows how to listen, understand and advice, and where to get to with his speech.

We must also consider that one can be a learned person in something specific, learning and reasoning about any concept. And what is better than to start to seek the knowledge about oneself, seeking the essence and the simplicity of our actions, thoughts and emotions. As a great wise man of our times, KRISHNAMURTI, said in 1979: "The knowledge about oneself is the principle of wisdom and the beginning of the transformation or regeneration."

Emblems of the virtue of Erudition

Perfection

We could define it as the Natural Perfection of the un-contaminated Nature, be it in the elements, shapes, plants, animals and people, and the harmony between them. Perfection that is only achieved with effort and will, with deliverance, being tough with oneself, accepting ourselves as we are and appreciating the effort of others, because appreciating that effort is to appreciate their love, as "Love and only love is the path to perfection."

Modesty

We can define it as subtracting importance to our own actions and achievements, recognizing also the defects and errors of our actions.

Modesty is recognized through Humility, moving away from praise, being sincere, because we can also falsely think that modesty is the most "innocent of lies" or "pride dressed with a mask."

The fact of being humble is the characteristic that defines the modest person, someone who doesn't think he is better or more important than others in any aspect. It is the lack of pride.

Humility is deeper and more intense than modesty, because you can be modest without being humble; nevertheless, humility always implies modesty. Faked humility and false modesty are much the same. That is why we say that learning to be modest is based on learning to be humble, in being oneself and accepting ourselves just as we are, without pretence, learning how to forgive and to thank.

We should be authentic in our personal relationships, because if someone excels in something, he must be grateful when praised and this should be an incentive to be even better.

Satisfaction

We can consider ourselves satisfied when we think we have attained the purpose we want, when expectations are created and we see that some way or another they have been fulfilled, because that satisfaction is what will complement our daily happiness, the small daily actions. If we are satisfied with what we do, we will start to attain the desired happiness.

VIRTUE OF DETERMINATION

I understand that to be determined is to be very "pig-headed" in what you propose yourself, very persistent with your purposes, to be able to transform them into habits; it isn't the same deciding to do something and leaving it for later on ...than deciding it, understanding it is good for you and doing it in the moment you feel or sense that it is convenient; it is that difference of attitude, without doubt, what we can understand as DETERMINATION.

And you realize you behave this way because little by little you gain ground to laziness and you realize that the obstacles aren't perceived as "huge moments" but the opposite, because they are not really that, because internally that feeling of self-improvement flowers and levels the path, making us feel better, more reassured of ourselves, more balanced internally ...although we must be careful, because it might be that we think we are acting with determination when it isn't so, as behind our determination there may be audacity and temerity, that are not "good companions" to be able to be "determined" and that can mislead us easily. That is why, when we try to balance our interior, these purposes must be accompanied by humility and simplicity.

Attached emblems:

Learning

Learning is intimately related to Determination, because if it isn't done constantly and willingly, being tireless "seekers," in other words, doing persistently what we want to do, making an effort, it won't be called Learning as such ... it will be another thing ...and with that Learning (with capital letters) we will start to open our level of consciousness, understanding and comprehension, and we will be able to open channels that surely will change our way of thinking and acting.

Inspiration

And when we open those special channels, undoubtedly our inspiration will reach its highest potential, our mind will start to quieten down, to balance itself, it will start to be centred in what we really want and desire, we will start to discover our own intuition and believing in it, our creative imagination will flower; I understand this as starting to create our own internal universe with what we firmly believe, although it might not correspond to the material reality we see, and in this sense there is a phrase of a friend of the path that says: "...Where there is a need of water, sprouts a spring, where there is a need to Walk, a path appears... and where there is a need of God, the Angels appear..." A very witty metaphor to understand what determination means, because those "fountains," "paths," and "Angels," are intimately related with the force of our determination and persistence.

Conquest

Conquest can be understood as advancing in our internal evolution, taking an important step in the achievement of our purposes, as we will really feel that our actions are aligned with our purposes.

With Learning, being pupil/master, master/pupil; with inspiration or intuition (that I can understand are the same thing) as the basis of the creative imagination and the constructive will, and whose energy will facilitate that our visualization is created in the material plane; and lastly, with the conquest or triumph of Yourself, all of it, a reflection of DETERMINATION, in other words, I WANT TO DO IT, I DO IT DECISIVELY AND PERSISTENTLY, WITHOUT DOUBTING, I LEARN WITH HUMILITY AND I ADVANCE ALONG MY PATH.

VIRTUE OF STRENGTH

If we speak about Strength as a virtue, we refer to that "Energy" of light that dwells implicitly in our interior, because if we are able to "awaken" it, Strength will irradiate on its own, without notice, and those people that surround us will notice those changes in us, but to maintain it we must persevere, we must be wilful, creating the healthy habits that will give us little by little the incentives necessary to not decline.

And a good measure to fortify Strength will be to assimilate the "Energies" of our Guardian Angels, the "Equilibrium" of Michael; the "Braveness and Commitment" of Gabriel; the inner "Healing" of Raphael, and finally, the "Irradiation" of Uriel ...because if we start seeding those Energies in our interior, hope and happiness will be present in our humour and this set of "things" will cause our projects and beliefs to become real, at least the general condition will let us "see" it that way, manifesting itself.

It is important to do a daily examination of our own life, of our actions, as we have been told, an "examination of the conscience" (first emblem attached to the virtue of Strength), to be able to understand if we act correctly or not, if our actions are on the path of personal and spiritual improvement. On the other hand, we mustn't go wrong with "examination" and "judgment," because they are not synonyms. To examine is to analyse, recognize, figure out ...to judge is to give your opinion, to value... something totally different.

And precisely, inquiring, analysing, assimilating, recognizing the true meaning of our actions, will make everything transform itself in Conviction (second emblem that is attached to the virtue of Strength), and the certainty about what in a beginning presents itself as something not understandable will appear. Because when we are convinced about something, with the Strength I refer to, our actions have the meaning of what is correct, adequate, appropriate, without falling in an obligation when we transmit them to other people, and here is where Modesty appears (third emblem that is attached to the virtue of Strength), because being modest is to do things with humility, simplicity, sweetness, sympathy ...and all this must match the meaning we have given to the virtue of Strength, as they go hand in hand, and cannot be mistaken with being a puritan or being spiritless.

Emblems of Strength:

Conviction: they are the certainties one has. We act with conviction when we are convinced we are doing what is correct. Conviction has to do with a sense of duty, but also with other things, like personal tastes, so if your sense of duty makes you think you should enjoy yourself in life, do it. Conviction is like everything else, it can be physical, mental or spiritual. And it happens that you have convictions in the three planes.

We also say that conviction has nothing to do with beliefs, but with certainty, so you have to observe, analyse, investigate, to distinguish them; personally I like to balance things and see which are my certainties and which are only beliefs. This makes you walk in the direction of reality. We choose to come precisely for that, to have certainties and bring the Kingdom of God –behave like God instructs – also to Earth.

Stubbornness has nothing to do with conviction, although a person with convictions might seem stubborn. The stubborn person doesn't want to give in to not be considered an ignorant, a defect that can be very destructive, as it is usually related to other shadows that are equally destructive.

Modesty: it has nothing to do with being weak, a puritan, spiritless, timid, etc. No, I think modesty is to know who you are and to know the place you occupy on the path. Not to show off about what you don't have, not to brag about what you do have, to conduct yourself in life with naturalness and humbleness.

Personally, I think modesty and docility, also humility, are much related. I suppose that Strength flows much better in an individual with these characteristics. I understand that Strength and aggressiveness or violence have nothing in common.

Strength emanates from Personality, nothing to do with the explosiveness of the aggressive and temperamental individual that doesn't control himself, but related to the man or woman that are balanced and assertive, that know how to say Yes when you have to say Yes and No when you have to say No. Modesty and Strength work together on the same side. People can examine themselves, and seeing their present reality of being, start to be modest, thanks to the conviction they acquire in the exercise of contemplating. Finally, the result of their work is that they tune their physical vehicle to let strength pass through. We are potential radiant creatures, trying to be that way for Strength to bring the Kingdom of God to Earth.

Strength is also to be Perseverant, to create the necessary habits so as not to fall in Laziness, because I am sure that the results obtained from those healthy habits will start to give us the motivation we need. It is important to "examine our conscience" thinking about the consequences of our actions to understand if we are in the way of personal and spiritual improvement, not getting confused with "judgement," that is not the same as "examination," because they are not synonyms.

Have always in mind that wrinkles appear on the skin, hair turns white, days turn into years... But what is important doesn't change; your strength and conviction are ageless (Teresa of Calcutta).

VIRTUE OF LEARNING

With our birth, life, through its different phases, childhood, youth, and finally maturity, is presented to us as a continuous learning.

At the beginning it is a learning that depends on others, on the surroundings of the girl or the boy (parents, brothers and other relatives) until it reaches the phase of self-discernment, when your own thoughts and feelings will mark the "paths" you follow; paths that will not be easy to identify and in which efforts, determination, thrust and firmness, the same as prudence, must be always present to be able to reach the proposed "targets".

Life is full of trials, of things that happen and cause suffering, pain, fears ...really caused by our own actions and by the actions of the people by our side, that you really think are your friends, although afterwards circumstances prove they aren't ...related to this, a friend told me in a forum: "There are people around you that due to some reason don't like you. But this shouldn't deviate you from reality ...you should learn from them. Observe what they say, what they do, observe their lives, but leave aside antipathy, don't fight against them; you will see how many things they teach you. It could be that they don't love you, yes, but it also could be your imagination, anyway, none of this is important. What is important is that they have things to teach you, if you are attentive. Things that you won't recognize if you fight against them and fill yourself with darkness."

The same happens with the evolution of our spiritual "life". In this sense, we are "born" to purify the karma collected in other lives, and it is precisely to learn the trials that the "karma" presents us, that we must be able to identify what things we must correct ...a learning that is nothing less than a continuous "battle" against our shadows, defects, egos, making us apply a life style that will help us correct ourselves and rule over those shadows and govern them, because we will never be able to kill them, they will always be there, the same as our virtues. It will also be that learning what will make us practice forgiveness, one of the great emblems of Love, because we understand that the Only God, the God of Love, is in everything and everyone.

A learning that will make us "see" that our spiritual evolution must be directed to live our circumstances with love, equilibrium, braveness, and to treat people with equity and justice. That will make us recognize the real essence of the trials presented to us during our life, because learning is really that.

The angel tells us (Book of the 13 pages - A.D.A.M.A.) "...Over your chest I will put Prudence, Security and Effort, so you don't falter by what you will see in my Son..." And in the example of the life of Jesus the Nazir, when he said "I am the Path, the Truth and Life," we can find the true "LEARNING" of man.

The first emblem we must consider for this Learning is Prudence. Not to believe in the first thing that falls in our hands. We must be careful, thoughtful, think calmly the consequences (good or bad) of the possible action, avoiding hurries, what will make us be prudent and responsible with our decisions in every case. Prudence also makes other emblems and values appear in a complimentary way, for example, if we make Will appear, it will make us more sincere.

The second emblem is Security, that could be understood as the fact of having the certainty that what we believe is correct. But how can we prove we are right? That we are not mistaken in our reasoning? How do we solve the doubts that appear? ...This is clearly related to what has been said about the emblem of Prudence, because we have to behave being very thoughtful, moderate, patient, comparing the "information" we receive, and at the same time, letting our heart "speak," in other words, listening to the "voice" of our intuition.

And paired to these two great emblems of Learning, we can't forget the emblem of Effort. Our daily life is full of projects, of paths that we must know how to follow and to identify through our own decisions and actions that we understand as most correct, doing this with perseverance and will.

THE MOTTO OF THE WALKER

Love, Consciousness and Liberty

LOVE

We consider it the most to which we can aspire to, always putting ourselves in the situation of others, by the hand of Friendship and Love. Never wishing others what we don't wish for ourselves. Never judging, but loving.

CONSCIOUSNESS

Transcendence. Consider it like magic, the operative mystic that will "open doors" to make you recognize and transcend your masks or own roles, getting to know the Truth and trying to be a "mirror" for others.

LIBERTY

It consists in doing what you must, not what you like. When we consider by "heart" what is correct and must be done, and what our mind orders us to do (thoughts), being responsible for ourselves, without ambiguities in our decisions, deciding Yes or No, never in the middle, because we reject tepidness.

8

THE GUARDIAN ANGELS

Also called the FOUR GUARDIANS. They are the watchmen of every "awake or dormant" being. They grant human beings the fulfilment of their Commitments, Spiritual and Physical Healing, and Enlightenment, respectively.

They are emissions of the Superior Angel Anael, whose love constitutes them.

The name of this virtue in Hebrew means "Favour of God" and it is one of the seven Superior Angels, in whose energy of Love are grouped the so-called "Guardian Angels" that watch over the Initiate. When the virtue of Anael awakes in the human being, it makes him feel part of a great capacity of Love, nearly mystical. People "touched" in this way become "irradiators" of this Grace of God towards everything that surrounds them. Its energy vibrates with the perfume of the rose and with the same colour of this flower.

This Superior Angel is called upon for everything that relates to Love and its multiple aspects, especially because, by cause of its Love, he is also one of the seven "Angels of Days," symbolic ruler of Fridays, the day in which he is convened, and it is then when his energy vibrates with the emerald. The white light of Anael brings nobility to the walker; but his opposite, the black light of Lilith, attracts envy and hate.

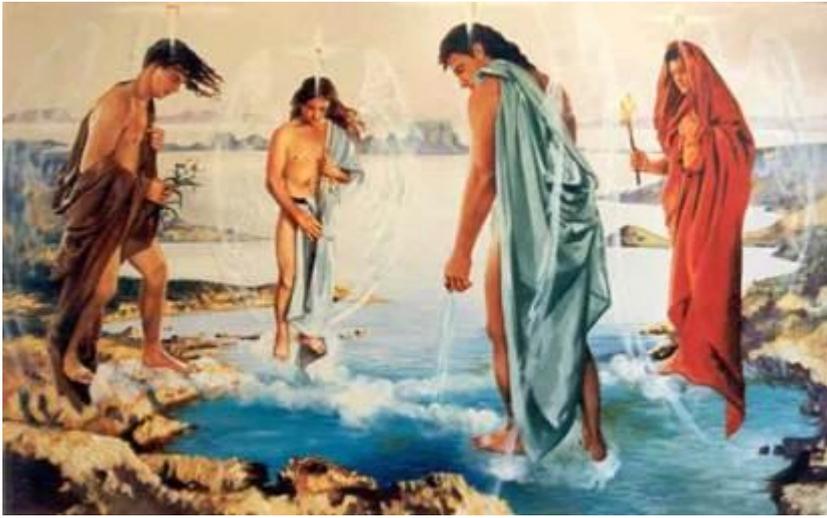

Anael is the Angel of Love, or in other words, the Energy that opens our mystical Channels for us to sense what the word Love really means.

But if we analyse this, we must know that in Operative Mystic there are 6 main angels: Azrael (life of Death and death of Life), Michael (Equilibrium and that is situated in the East), Gabriel (the Commitments and celestial Pacts, in the North), Raphael (Healing and physical, mental and spiritual Health, in the West), Uriel (the Luminous radiation, that is represented in the South), and lastly, Anael, that is situated as the union of the other five and that represents Love. And it is true, thanks to LOVE all the necessary opportunities are given to us in this life or other lives until we reach the longed for Unity or Reintegration with the ALL. With Love we must be Healthy, Balanced, Luminous and Committed in everything this involves within what is called the "Pyramid of Effect," this is to say, Lovingly Healthy, Lovingly Balanced, Lovingly Luminous and Lovingly Committed.

PRAYER FOR ANAEL

*"By the Favour of Love that Yaveh Elohim put inside each one of his sons,
I call on you, High Angel Anael, for my eyes only to see Love,
for my ears only to hear Love,
for my hands only to act with Love, for my feet only to walk towards Love and for my heart only to feel Love.
I have Lovingly accepted the Equilibrium.
I have Lovingly accepted
my Pacts and Promises,
I have Lovingly accepted
the Healing and the Trial, and finally I have Lovingly accepted the Light that shines without blinding and the Shadow it projects.
I accept and will accept,
Oh, Sacred and Genuine
Energy of God Father and Mother!
To be the Torch from which emanate the virtues of the Walker as without it nothing would reach the Union with the Only.
By this and only by this I call on you: for you to Ignite me, Possess me and make me yours-mine in your Universal LOVE.
Amen Anael. Amen Anael, Amen Anael."*

GUARDIAN ANGEL: MICHAEL

The name of this outstanding and well known angelic energy is translated from Hebrew as "Who is like God?" He is the tutelary or Guardian Angel whose luminous representation is located in the East and symbolizes the Air element (life, the emotional breath). In iconographical terms, he has always been represented subjugating the apocalyptic Dragon (symbol of low instincts) with a sword (power) or a spear (wisdom), with a scale (Equilibrium) in his hand and also with a shield (luminous Protection over matter).

The name of this messenger in Arabic is MIKAIL, and MIJAIL in Russian. As Guardian Angel the gem that corresponds to him is Lapis Lazuli and his perfume would be the rose (symbol of silence and secrets). He is also the Angel of Sundays whose energy vibrates related with diamonds. Michael's white light brings Serenity to the walker, but his opposed black light of Satan (as Shadow of weeks) brings fury and dishonour. (As Guardian Angel, his Shadow is Lucifer.) He is the Angel of UNIVERSAL EQUILIBRIUM, from which depart hundreds of nuances called his servants, and such is his divine virtue that he is under the auspices or regency, as we have seen, of Anael (Guardian Angels), Samahel (Angels of Weeks), and Methatron (energies of Wisdom).

PRAYER FOR MICHAEL

*"The spear I have up above in my right hand, to fight the evil that God wants to balance.
The scale of good and evil I hold and my left hand is the needle of the latter that levels the antagonisms. My name challenges whom desires to compare himself with God, my name challenges evil that with its darkness desires to advance towards Light without knowing that this could not be.
I am the name that together with the Trinity locks up in the centre of the circle of the magic and sacred operations.
I have taken the jewels of good and evil, not for me, but for God My Lord and My Creator and I have also taken them for you and due to you.
Oh My Lord! that my Spirit guides every celestial and living being. towards the equilibrium of the Universe whose Centre is You and whose periphery You are also. Me, illuminated by the Sun, feared by evil; make me a continuous shield against evil and mistakes, that my cloak covers all the worlds that rotate without ceasing or stopping in the name of God that is Triune. That my words, that are words of every living creature, be fulfilled.
Be it that way on Earth and where it's located, (+) that the Sun gives light to all of you.
So be it."*

GUARDIAN ANGEL: GABRIEL

One of the four Guardian or tutelary Angels of the Initiate whose luminous representation is located in the North and that symbolizes the earth element (matter). His name in Hebrew means "Brave One of God" or "Braveness of God," being the Angel of agreements and commitments. According to the Koran it was this angel that appeared to Mohammed, and his name usually appears in all the announcements of virginal and late motherhoods. As Guardian Angel the gem that corresponds to him is Onyx and his perfume would be Jasmine (symbol of purity).

Gabriel is also one of the Angels of Weeks, from the legions of Samahel in this case, and he rules over Mondays. In this sense, the gem that vibrates with his energy are Pearls, and his white light brings the Initiate, of course, purity, while the lack of his light would attract the black light of Belial, that means lust, a blinkered attitude and spiritual falseness. Gabriel is also one of the Angels of Months that is ruled by Laopusem. In this case, Gabriel is the Angel of January and his colour is brown or black, his gem is Opal or Smoky Quartz, and his perfume is the white lily (symbol of virginity). According to the Book of Samahel and the Apocalypse of Saint John, this Angel "dresses in crisoprase." The name of this virtue in Arabic is Jibrail. He is the Angel of Commitments.

PRAYER FOR GABRIEL

"The white flower of my right hand I give you, God the Lord, that is the symbol of the purity with which you created me. Look at this flower the same way I observe the souls that do and accept what since the beginning of time You entrusted them with. Make me the carrier of the best news that will make the human spirit happy, make me the carrier of the beautiful words to comfort the aching souls due to oppression, unbalance and lack of light. I am the carrier of the inkwell of Light that contains the essence of the divinity that marks those that by their works bless with their actions the energy of the Universe that is the Everything of the Creator my supreme Lord. That God My Lord grants you to be marked by my hand in the day that the Virtues come to your world, the Earth. So be it. My book is the Word, the Deeds and the Essence of the Divinity, One Supreme. So be it."

GUARDIAN ANGEL: RAPHAEL

One of the tutelary or Guardian Angels of the Initiate whose luminous representation is located in the West and that symbolizes the water element (emotions). His name in Hebrew means "Healing by God" or "Medicine of God," in fact, he appears in Tobias's story as the healer of his father's blindness, and one can find in the book called Sidur Hamercaz that his name is to be repeated next to the sick person to heal him from his diseases.

As a Guardian Angel the gem that corresponds to him is Malachite and his perfume is the Violet flower (symbol of pain). Raphael was one of the many Angels that dictated the Book of Samahel, and the last one to leave his physical presence on Earth granting as a "gift" the giving away of 144 little white stones with healing powers. According to ancient traditions, Angel Raphael would appear in the world and this would be the sign that a change in behaviour, mentality and consciousness was near for the human being. He dictated a message in 1990 full of hope and taking the side of global peace. His name in Arabic is Raftmail.

PRAYER FOR RAPHAEL

"I have up above a portion of Living Water for the pilgrim that wants to quench his thirst for Justice, his thirst for Learning and his thirst for Love. I have in my hands the symbol of the new that frightens off the old. My bare feet, Lord God, have walked on the paths of the worlds that without stopping rotate, to supply matter with Health that You grant to those that ask you for it with faith. Look with your impenetrable eyes of Love at the hearts of those that I have seen that suffer. If the bile of my fish heals the hurting, it's justice that bitterness be the medicine that calms them so much pain. I am here standing before the Beauty of what You have created with your explosion of Light. I am here with the symbols of the Water of Life and the medicine for Death. I have seen the children sad, the men distressed and the elderly helpless. I tear out of their hearts the groans and with the bile I soak Your sweet lips. Pronounce one only word and take us before Your Dwelling, One, Genuine and Universal. Stir up this and other worlds, so united, we can heal the spirits of those that exist here. Love me, because I Love you and due to this Love I was created here, to comfort those who with faith ask me for health for their body and spirit (+). That my blessing heals all of you that don't want to be ill. That God My and Your Lord grants you the happiness of dying healthy. So be it."

GUARDIAN ANGEL: URIEL

One of the tutelary or Guardian Angels of the Initiate whose luminous representation is located in the South and that symbolizes the fire element (irradiation). His name is also written as Auriel and in Hebrew it means "Light of God," "Fire of God," or "Light of the Lord." In Ethiopian he is known as Oureel and appears with this name in the Apocryphal Apocalypse of Esdras.

This Angel is essential in one of the Books of the cycle of Enoch, and was one of the most important together with Michael, Gabriel and Raphael until the Christian Church deleted him from the calendar of saint's days and declared him an "Apocryphal Angel." As a Guardian Angel the gem that corresponds to him is red jasper and his perfume would be musk (symbol of the divine presence). Uriel is the Angel of IRRADIATION.

PRAYER FOR URIEL

"With my right hand I hold the torch of light that emanates from the spark of God, get near and observe in the hearts of those of you that are similar, the embers of God my Supreme Lord. I don't have a sword because I am clarity and speech, I don't need it, because the light I am and contemplate drives away all darkness. I speak on behalf of who exploded me in thousands of intellections and who breathing, these intellections, return to be Him. I illuminate those who do not fear getting burned in understanding and wisdom. I illuminate those that go through the threshold of matter and lean out, as lightning, to the summit of the Sun. Be blessed those of you that are vassals of this clarity, and being this, are useful as examples of humbleness. My banner discloses the resurrection of the souls in the Unity with the Pure Spirit. Pray with me and next to me the new prayer that says: "Come to my Perfect Spirit and ignite me with Your love. Come to my Perfect Spirit and make me be the most humble of mortals." Listen to me Creator Father and grant mortals the Divine Lighthouse I represent, that they transmute their bodies in Energy and that what is perishable be burned in the heat of Your immense Love. I eagerly want to be You, when no other being exists that must be illuminated. I eagerly desire to possess you and be One With You and my fellow Virtues when the faces of matter, at last, have been blinded by your infinite brightness (+). Be blessed by the Love of the Spirit, humans. So be it."

ENERGETIC ANGELS, ANGELS OF WISDOM

Group of seventy two Angels that, both as a set and separately, make the Walker be conscious of his elevation towards the light and of his lowering towards matter. They are the symbol of the stairs on which the Angels that Jacob dreamt about went up and down, episode that is described in the Book of Genesis.

They are named in cabalistic and magic texts as geniuses of the Cabbala, to what we must add that the term "Genius" designates that dual energy that can provide any type of magic service to who convenes it and that has nothing to do with the aspects of wisdom we are talking about.

Some of them are...

JAVAKIAH - The Angel of what is SACRED

When we "catch" this aspect of Wisdom of Methatron in our interior, it makes us conscious of the mysteries of the human being as new men, making us understand we are really both condensers of energies and radiators of the light in which we transform when we know this. It is related with the mystical senses of the Initiate and with the seven energetic spots of the human body, also symbolizing the Menorah or the seven arms candelabrum. It is the mystical doorman of the seven virtues that every human being must possess.

LEHAJIAH - The Angel of HOSPITALITY

When the Walker of spirit is able to connect with this curious energy, it makes him happy, simple, honest, friendly and hospitable.

IERATHEL - The Angel of ACCEPTANCE

This energy makes us conscious about that our worst enemy is sometimes ourselves, that we usually see in others our own defects; it is advisable to review our actions and thoughts so we can find the roots of our attitude towards others when this happens.

HARIEL - The Angel of STRENGTH

When we "capture" this virtue in our interior, it makes us strong in our promises, both in our profane and sacred promises; it makes us brave in our commitments and just watchmen of the steps we take in life.

ONAFIEL - The Angel of SERENITY

Its Energy is used to calm us in the hard and difficult moments, to the point we can change the negative opinion others have about us with our peaceful and calm attitude.

YELIEL - The Angel of the SPIRITUAL FIGHT

When it dwells in the interior of the human being, it makes him defend the Light and the fight for spirituality to illuminate darkness. The best fight is to rule over something so it doesn't rule over us, but not to "kill" it. To rule over a situation is to defeat it, because you can take it or leave it when you wish (for example, smoking). You win when the fight is knowledge about things. Who doesn't rule is ruled. Prayer is the art of speaking to yourself in your interior.

VEHUEL - The Angel of DISCERNMENT

This Angel makes us take part in the immensity of the concept of "God" or "Divinity," granting us the knowledge of knowing God is represented in matter. The discernment of Unity, certainty that everything is divine, and mystical wisdom are attributes of this aspect of the superior Wisdom.

UMABEL - The Angel of spiritual and physical HUMILITY

Its energy makes us conscious that human beings, although spiritually divine, must serve nature as protectors of the symbol in which we are inserted.

HAKAMIAH - The Angel of emotional CALMNESS

This aspect of Wisdom of Methatron makes us rest in the long path of Initiation when we feel tired or confused, what is very difficult for some people due to their commitments, although this Angel makes these people realize that no commitment we have made is broken due to the fact of knowing how to stop in time; on the contrary, sometimes it is very necessary for the walkers that feel exhausted and that recover their strength this way to continue later on. It is the "Water Carrier" that delivers restorative freshness when we stop.

CALIEL - The Angel of Spiritual Subtlety

Angelic name than in Hebrew means "light weighted or subtle in God" and that has the virtue of opening our Consciousness when it dwells in our interior and covers us with its Light. Its Energy is related with the Aspidistra, a plant that symbolizes, precisely, subtleness and fragility.

HAHINIAH - The Angel of the BALANCING KINDNESS

When its energy is in our interior, it makes us generous, amicable, charitable, humanitarian, loving and benefactors in all the sacred and profane aspects; but in a balanced way, without excesses or over-reactions, and its invocation is desirable so as not to fall in the defect of an excess of kindness.

HARAJEL - The Angel of the INITIATIC AWAKENING

Also called HARAHEL, its name in Hebrew means "Like the Mountain of God," being this aspect of Wisdom of Methatron what makes us pass the continuous initiatic trials that the "doormen of the states of consciousness" offer the Walkers before they enter in the "Sacred Chambers" of the different orders and initiatic schools. In a poetical way, we can say this virtue is in charge of "awakening" the celestial doormen for them to pay attention to the braveness with which the Initiates react to the challenges of destiny, and it offers the commitments as a beautiful prayer, so the entrance to the last threshold is opened for us.

LELAEL - The Angel of THOUGHTFULNESS

Also called LELAHEL, a name that in Hebrew is translated as "Divine Night" of "Night of God." This Angel signals the Initiate the best moment in his initiatic life to "stop" or "rest," so as to organize his ideas, doubts, achievements and failures, with the purpose of letting him see towards which luminous point he is directed to, or on the contrary, if his quest is fruitless, hasty or doesn't take to a place that will give him peace and personal and spiritual satisfaction.

LEUVIA - The Angel of TOLERANCE

Also called LEUVIAH, a name that according to the Cabbala means "God comes to the aid of the sinners." Its energy makes those impregnated with it be tolerant, to correct with infinite love, to free others who find themselves oppressed by their failures, and to show the path of Light, which of course, creates shadows, illuminating them from the heart.

ANGELS OF WEEKS

Group of seven emissaries which show the aspects that day by day the Awaken or Initiate human being must transcend, understand and recall as a small cycle of existence. These angels are symbolic and intrinsic companions of the so-called planetary energies, and the same as them, they emanate from the Superior Angel Samahel.

Light	Day	Virtue	Gem	Colour
Michael	Sunday	Serenity	Diamond	Golden
Gabriel	Monday	Purity	Pearl	White
Samuel	Tuesday	Simplicity	Ruby	Red
Raphael	Wednesday	Activity	Sapphire	Blue
Sachiel	Thursday	Moderation and Transmutation	Amethyst	Violet
Anael	Friday	Nobility	Emerald	Green
Cassiel	Saturday	Generosity	Opal, Smoky Quartz	Brown

ANGEL OF SUNDAYS: MICHAEL

“Who is like God?”

He is the Angel of UNIVERSAL EQUILIBRIUM, from which emanate hundreds of nuances called his servants. He is the Angel of Sundays, whose energy vibrates with diamonds. Michael’s white light brings Serenity to the walker, but his opposed black light of Satan (as Shadow of weeks) brings fury and dishonour. (As Guardian Angel, his Shadow is Lucifer.)

VIRTUE: SERENITY      LIGHT: DIAMOND-LIKE

PERFUME: CINNAMON (OR ALSO SANDALWOOD)

GEM: DIAMOND AND TIGER’S EYE (his symbol is that of Supreme Honour, what is invincible, the Light of the Divinity and the High).

COLOUR: GOLDEN (symbol of the direct light of Heaven, as opposed to yellow, that symbolizes the reflected light (on Earth)).

METAL: GOLD      PERIOD OF LIGHT: Day (dawn)

SUNDAY

Day of the week which means "Day of God."

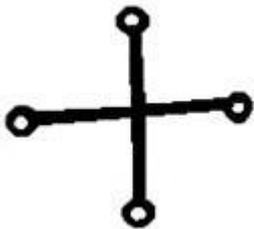

According to the unpublished part of A.D.A.M.A., this day is consecrated to the Sun, the planetary energy that rules over it is Och, Angel of Serenity, the gemstone is zirconite and quartz crystal; the colour, golden, and the metal, gold.

It is the symbolic ruler of the Sun, to whom corresponds mystically the yellow or golden colour, in other words, "the Divinity"; what happens is that this Angel is one of those responsible for the "Justice" of Kings and Priests. When the Virtue of Och is nested in the interior of human beings, it makes them honourable, just, impartial, magnanimous, and of a rich spirituality.

The Virtues of honour, justice, impartiality, magnanimity are the ones that are potentiated on Sundays to achieve the necessary spiritual richness. The gems and precious stones that store the virtues of Sundays are those uncoloured and of yellow and golden colour (topaz, prase, etc.).

Sundays correspond mystically to the first branch of the Menorah (from right to left) and are the symbol of the coronal chakra (sahasrara) (pineal zone).

PRAYER TO MICHAEL:

*"Angel of Air, Energy Michael,
I convene you today that the Sun rules so that the Enemies of my thought, speech, deed and omission are exiled of my Interior and Exterior Heaven due to your Virtue that today takes communion with me. You who have the Keys to the Seven Planes of Celestial Consciousness, I want you to guide me in my daily life and that you act as a mediator for me to reach the Sphere of Almighty God forever and ever. Honour be with me. Prosperity be with me. Equilibrium and Justice be with me.
Amen."*

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

During the morning, after taking a shower and before leaving home, facing the EAST, adopt the position of the cross and with the palm of one hand facing up and the other palm facing down, pronounce:

Virtues of the SUN, here I am to receive your DIAMOND-LIKE light and with it to have the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the diamond-like light and impregnate with its colour the Sahsrara chakra situated in the pineal zone, over the crown) and continue saying:

"The virtues and lights of the Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn are joined to my light of diamond and impregnate me forever. I have Abundance, Fortune and Wealth. I am Strength and Honour, and Equilibrium guides me all my life. Amen. Amen. Amen."

ANGEL OF MONDAYS: GABRIEL

- Meaning: "Brave of God"
- Symbol: Angel of COMMITMENTS

GEM: The gem that vibrates related with his energy is the Pearl and Nacre, and its white light brings for the Initiate, of course, purity, while the lack of it would attract the black light of Belial, that means lust and spiritual falseness.

COLOUR: The gems and precious stones that store the Virtues of Mondays are those of white pure luminous colour. It is the colour that symbolizes purity, spiritual radiation on Earth, intuition and maternity within the feminine principle.

It is the colour of the Pure Spirit and of the always Virginal Spirituality (with which it is represented). Symbol of the immaculate and of what is perfect.

Period of the day: Evening (night)

Light: Pearl

Perfume: Orange blossom in essence or incense    METAL: Silver

PRAYER TO GABRIEL

Mystic seal

"I call on you Gabriel, Messenger Angel of God; by your Name of Faithful Spirit that keeps the Celestial treasures on the Earth. You who are the Strength of Creation and the Creator and have power over all the Energies of the element earth being the Prince of Strength; also by your body of fire. I call on you again to reach security and that you instil in me with your celestial hand the gifts I ask for now of Strength, spirituality, Intuition, and concentration. You who live in God Almighty forever and ever in the Lunar Essence. Amen."

MONDAY

Day of the week with the meaning of "Day of the Moon."

According to the unpublished part of the A.D.A.M.A. this day is consecrated to Selene; the Energy that rules it is the planetary angel Phul; the gem is the moonstone (Adularia).

Phul is the symbolic ruler of the moon, to which mystically corresponds the white colour, in other words, "Enlightenment"; this angel is one of the angels responsible for intuition and purity, and rules over dreams and spiritual maternity. When the Virtue of Phul is nested in the interior of the human being it makes him a dreamer, intuitive, affectionate and given to investigate mysteries.

In Operative Mystic he is called upon for things related to learning, mental preparation, the feminine and prophecies.

Monday corresponds mystically to the second branch of the Menorah (from right to left) and is the symbol of the "chakra" of the space between the eyebrows (Ajna).

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

In the morning, after taking a shower and before you leave home, facing EAST, stand in the position of the cross and with the palm of one hand facing up and the other facing down, pronounce:

Virtues of the MOON here I am to receive your PEARL light and with it to have the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the pearl light and impregnate with its colour your Ajna chakra situated in the space between your eyebrows, on your forehead) and continue saying:

So I know "My purest dreams are a reality. The news received is positive. My trials and exams have been successfully passed. I know the intentions of my hidden enemies and my energies abort them. I have the gift of prophecy." I thank you. Amen. Amen. Amen.

ANGEL OF TUESDAYS: SAMUEL

- Symbol: Angel of Vigour

VIRTUES: VIGOUR, COURAGE AND STRENGTH, ACCOMPANIED BY SIMPLICITY.

GEM: RED JASPER OR GARNET. METAL: IRON. COLOUR: LIVE RED.

PERIOD OF THE DAY: TWILIGHT. LIGHT: RUBY. PERFUME: MYRRH.

Name of one of the Angel of Weeks, ruler of Tuesdays, under the energetic auspices of Samahel, and whose Hebrew name means "Listen to God!" or also "Hear God!"

It is also the name of one of the prophets of the Old Testament. When the Initiate has in his interior the energy of this singular Angel, he pays attention to all divine manifestations, especially those that are unseen for most people but which are really true "Miracles," those that lack pomposity but show the way to the vision of the multiple ways God "speaks" to us. Its white light brings us simplicity, while the absence of its white light makes us take communion with the black light of Abaddon, obscure Angel of Temptation and Terror, and its darkness attracts the fight for power, covering us with arrogance and weakness.

PRAYER TO SAMUEL

Mystic seal

"I convene you today, your day, Samuel, for you to be propitious to me in the blessings of your white hand over me and to those that accompany me. I convene you so you help me from my Interior to reach my good projects with strength, impetus and courage due to the Red Energy and the Ruby Light you are vested with. I repeat and insert deeper in my interior: Force is in me. Impetus is in me. Courage is in me. The correct Decision is in me. You who live in the Unpronounceable God forever and ever. Amen."

TUESDAY

Day of the week that has the meaning of "Day of Mars."

According to the A.D.A.M.A. this day is consecrated to Ares, the Energy that rules it is Phaleg, its gem is red jasper and hyacinth, symbol of "strength and thrust," and this angel is one of those responsible for the Initiatic results in the fight for the achievement of light in the Spiritual Path. He is the Angel of Simplicity.

When the Virtue of Phaleg is nested in the interior of the human being, it makes him conscious that in this human life the "wheat must be separated from the darnel" for us to reach Wisdom, or to "Plough and Fertilize" the Path to plant the seeds of Spirituality.

Tuesday corresponds mystically to the third branch of the Menorah (from right to left) and is the symbol of the "chakra" of the throat (Vishuddha.)

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

In the morning, after taking a shower and before leaving home, facing the EAST, stand in the position of the cross with the palm of one hand facing up and the other facing down, and pronounce:

Virtues of TUESDAYS, here I am to receive your RUBY light and with it to have the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the Ruby light and impregnate with its colour the Vishuddha chakra situated on the throat) and continue saying:

So I know "I have vigour and a powerful will. My enemies of thought, speech, works or omissions disappear from my surroundings. I comply with my Karmic mission with integrity. I comply with my commitments." I thank you. Amen. Amen. Amen.

ANGEL OF WEDNESDAYS: RAPHAEL

- Meaning: "Healing of God" or "Medicine of God"
- Symbol: He is the Angel of HEALTH

VIRTUE: ACTIVITY. Its white light attracts activity for the Walker, while the absence of its white light attracts the black light of Leviathan (shadow of infidelity) that entails laziness and breaking of commitments.

Raphael was one of the many Angels that dictated the Book of Samahel, and the last one to have a physical presence on Earth giving away as a "present" 144 white small stones with healing powers. According to old traditions, Angel Raphael would appear in the world and this would be the sign that a change in behaviour, mentality and consciousness for human beings was near. He dictated a message in 1990 full of hope and standing for peace in all the world.

PRAYER TO RAPHAEL

Mystic seal

Oh, Raphael! Angel that has Power over all the diseases and injuries of the human being; by your name of Divine Healing I convene you today for you to mediate between my spirit and that of the Angels of Light; you that mediate between the virtues of people and has the ability to free us from Defects. I convene you again for you to infuse me your angelical Breath. Health is in me. Healing is in me. The Word and Communication of Peace is in me. The Help of thought, speech, deed and omission is in me. You who Live in the Infallible God forever and ever: Are in me! Amen."

PERIOD OF THE DAY: Afternoon

PERFUME: Mint (or better, peppermint)

LIGHT: SAPPHIRE

METAL: MERCURY

GEM: Sapphire and lapis lazuli (derived from the Arab term LEZWRD, "blue stone," that opens the "chakra" of the heart, of feelings, of communication and healing, being a symbol of what is Heavenly).

COLOUR: Blue. Symbol of Priesthood par excellence, as it is the colour of the skies that reflects on water (from the highest to the lowest, the Light of the sky reflected on the deepness of matter). It is related with Spirituality and Immensity.

WEDNESDAY

Day of the week that has the meaning of "Day of Mercury."

According to the A.D.A.M.A. this day is consecrated to Hermes, the Energy that rules over it is OPHIEL, Planetary Energy of Mercury, to which the blue colour corresponds mystically, in other words, "Consecration." Angel that grants the consciousness of knowing that every Initiate that has made an agreement with his inner God must commit, as a second step, to irradiate light to his fellow men.

The Virtue of Ophiel in our interior will make us "wise," messengers of truth and justice, luminous irradiators and consecrated in the Sacred Mysteries. He is the Angel of Activity. Wednesday corresponds mystically to the fourth branch of the Menorah (the central branch) and is the symbol of the "chakra" that is situated at the level of the heart (Anahata). The Virtue of "Healing" (spiritual and physical) is strengthened this day during which we do the works related to it and its variants. The gems and precious stones that keep the Virtues of Wednesdays are those of blue colour in all its tonalities. The Energy of Ophiel and the day of the week "Wednesday" vibrate with the fragrance of jasmine, being the symbol of purity.

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

In the morning, after taking a shower and before leaving home, facing the EAST, stand in the position of the cross with the palm of one hand facing up and the other facing down, and pronounce: Virtues of MERCURY, here I am to receive your SAPPHIRE light and to have with it the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the Sapphire light and impregnate with it the Anahata chakra situated in the heart area) and continue saying: So I know "I am a good communicator, free and clear. I unite Heaven and Earth. I am honest, sincere and truthful. I have the spontaneity of a teenager. I am the healing of the soul and the body, for myself and for those who ask me for it with FAITH on their behalf or on behalf of others." I thank you. Amen. Amen. Amen.

The Virtues of personal skills and charisma are strengthened this day.

ANGEL OF THURSDAYS: SACHIEL

- Meaning: "Rectitude of God"
- Symbol: Angel of CHARISMA

VIRTUE: MODERATION AND TRANSMUTATION

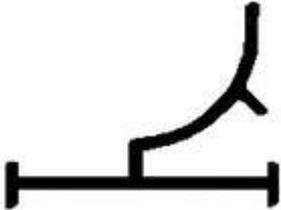

LIGHT: AMETHYST      PERIOD OF THE DAY: MIDNIGHT

GEM: AMETHYST (gem that vibrates with its energy or virtue)

METAL: TIN      PERFUME: CARNATION

COLOUR: The gems and precious stones that keep the Virtues of Thursdays are those violet in colour or mauve in all its range.

One of the Angels of Weeks, representative of the small cycle of existence, that is under the auspices of Samahel. When his energy is nested in the interior of the human being, it makes him head for the understanding of all the trials and lets him assimilate them as steps that make him go up towards the target that will disclose to him his divine order. The absence of this virtue gives way to the black Light of Grimmel, which attracts greed and the stability or permanence in the dark point, not passing the trials.

PRAYER TO SACHIEL

"Angel Sachi, I convene you by the Holy and Unpronounceable Name of your Creator with which you take Communion in your Divine Spark, to be propitious to me in this day that you rule, for you to watch over me and for you to grant me your angelic Virtues. I convene you and ask you for the strength that I need to attain and continue my deeds of Goodness and finish correctly my daily tasks. I know my words or my silences will be fruitful, my steps won't be mistaken, and that I will obtain from you your Virtues that are great Benefactors. You who Live in God Almighty forever and ever. Amen."

THURSDAY

Day of the week with the meaning of "Day of Jupiter."

According to the A.D.A.M.A. this day is consecrated to Zeus, the Energy that rules it is BETHOR, Energetic Planetary Angel ruled by Samahel, and whose name in Hebrew means "Daughter of Light" or "House of Light." This Angel is one of those responsible of the "spiritual revolutions" that take place in the worlds of matter as ours. When the Virtue of Bethor is nested in the interior of the human being, it makes him victorious over all defects transforming them into Virtues, and able to have an influence in his environment.

In Operative Mystic he is convened as intercessor of orators and mass leaders.

Thursday corresponds mystically to the fifth branch of the Menorah (from right to left) and is the symbol of the "chakra" placed in the pit of one's stomach (Manipurah).

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

In the morning, after taking a shower and before leaving home, facing the EAST, stand in the position of the cross with the palm of one hand facing up and the other facing down, and pronounce:

Virtues of JUPITER here I am to receive your AMETHYST light and with it to have the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the Amethyst light and impregnate with its colour the chakra Manipurah situated in the area of my belly button) and continue saying:

In this way I know that "I am a leader of Love, consciousness and Liberty, and I am admired by my behaviour. My friends are honest, true and long-lasting, because I surround myself with good people. I am admired by my way of working. I am generous." I say thank you. Amen. Amen. Amen.

ANGEL OF FRIDAYS: ANAEL

- Meaning: "Favour of God"

VIRTUE: Love (the name of this virtue means in Hebrew "Favour of God" and it is one of the seven Superior Angels, in whose energy of Love are grouped the so called "Guardian Angels" that watch over and protect the Initiate). When the virtue of Anael awakes in the human being, he feels taking part of a great capacity of Love, nearly mystical. The people "touched" this way are transformed into "irradiators" of this same Grace of God towards everything that surrounds them.

GEM: Emerald    LIGHT: EMERALD    METAL: Copper

COLOUR: Green ("what ascends from Earth to Heaven"). Symbol of the nature of the deepness of existence and the sea. It is the colour of the "Stone that opens the doors of Heaven," of the "Grail as giver of Wisdom."

Anael is one of the Angels that manifested himself on the peak of the Puig Campana, where he collaborated in the writing of the A.D.A.M.A. and was one of the more of 60 that dictated the Book of Samahel, as well as a long text (still unpublished) of farewell in the last decade of the last century. His energy vibrates with the perfume of the rose and with the colour of this same flower.

Iconographically he is represented as a child dressed in snow white colour with a rose in his hands, or also as a youngster with long fair hair dressed in green that takes in his hand the seal that attracts him.

This superior Angel is called on for everything related with Love and its multiple aspects, specially, when by cause of his Love, he is also one of the seven "Angels of Days," symbolic ruler of Fridays, day in which he is usually convened, and when his energy vibrates with emeralds. The white light of Anael gives nobility to the walker; its opposed black light of Lilith attracts envy and hate.

PRAYER TO ANAEL

Mystic seal

"I call on you, angelic spirit that responds to the name of Anael; representative of love, arts, virtue and goodness, and that has as Celestial Ministers Amabiel, Abalidoth, Fhael, and Abbah, for you to grant me the breath of the Virtues that you represent. You who live with Almighty God forever and ever: Love, Arts, Poetry, Grace in You and Me. Amen."

FRIDAY

Day of the week with the meaning of "Day of Venus."

According to the A.D.A.M.A., this day is consecrated to Aphrodite, the Energy that rules over it is HAGITH (Energetic Planetary Angel), the gem is malachite (symbol of the terrestrial Love that ascends towards the Sacred Love.) When the Virtue of Hagith is nested in the interior of the human being it makes us conciliators, pacifists, loving and sweet. He is the Angel of Nobility.

The Energy of Anael, of Hagith and the day of the week "Friday" vibrate with the fragrance of the rose.

Fridays correspond mystically to the sixth branch of the Menorah (from right to left) and are the symbol of the "chakra" situated in the pelvis (Svadisthana).

The gems and precious stones that keep the Virtues of Fridays are those of green colour in all its range.

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

In the morning, after taking a shower and before leaving home, facing the EAST, stand in the position of the cross with the palm of one hand facing up and the other facing down, and pronounce:

Virtues of VENUS, here I am to receive your EMERALD light and with it to have the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the emerald light and impregnate with its light the chakra Svadchistana situated in the pelvis) and continue saying:

And so I know "I have beauty and Youth. I am healthy, mentally sane and sexually active. My person is poetry, art and grace." I say thank you. Amen. Amen. Amen.

ANGEL OF SATURDAYS: CASSIEL

Angel of GENEROSITY

VIRTUE: Protection, that is potentiated on this day during which the tasks related to it and its variations are done.

GEM: The Gem that vibrates in line with this angel is Opal and also Smoky Quartz.

Period of the day: Night (darkness).

One of the Angels of Weeks whose agglutinative virtue is Samahel and that in Hebrew means "Divine Omen." When its energy is nested in the interior of the human being, it makes him pay attention to the signs and symbols of his surroundings, that become hidden wisdom applied to his life that makes him more conscious about his position in the Universe.

The white light of Cassiel brings Generosity to the walker, but its opposed black light of Astaroth takes to the Dependency of Matter and Spirit. Astaroth is the inspiration of the obscure meetings of those people that due to jealousy, envy or pride, go against the Walkers in the Light slowing down their Path.

PRAYER TO CASSIEL

"Oh, main Angel that rules Saturdays and acts under the auspices of planet Saturn! I convene you for you to grant me tonight and at this time your angelic virtue to set aside the spirits of Darkness. Oh, Angel Cassiel! I beg you to give me your Light of Onyx. I have the Hidden Barrier. I have Wisdom and Mastery. I set aside Adversity and what is Adverse. I am the Sword. Love me and take Communion with me, you who live with God Almighty and in Sabahoth forever and ever! Amen."

SATURDAY

Day of the week with the meaning of "Day of Saturn."

According to the unpublished part of the A.D.A.M.A. this day is consecrated, as its name indicates, to Saturn, the Energy that rules over it is ARATHRON, the gem is onyx. The metal is lead.

Saturdays correspond mystically to the seventh branch of the Menorah (from right to left) and is the symbol of the base "chakra" (Muladhara.)

The gems and precious stones that keep the Virtues of Saturdays are those of black, brown or smoky colour.

ENERGETIC RITUAL FOR THE MORNING:

In the morning, after taking a shower and before leaving home, facing the EAST, stand in the position of the cross with the palm of one hand facing up and the other facing down, and pronounce:

Virtues of SATURN, here I am to receive your ONYX light and to have with it the Energetic Virtues it represents and attracts. (Visualize the Onyx light and impregnate with its colour the chakra Muladhara situated in the genitals) and continue saying:

And so I know that "In my surroundings exists a barrier that limits any negative energy that I could receive from my thoughts, speech, works or omissions, and to make disappear from my side and my surroundings my known and hidden enemies. I am wise and coherent, and magic is in me, the same as experience." I thank you. Amen. Amen. Amen.

ANGELS OF MONTHS

Group of 12 Energies that rule over the months of the year, hence their name, and that symbolize as a whole the major cycle by which every human being acquires the Consciousness of Light to irradiate it over himself, his environment and matter. These Energies emanate from the Superior Angel Laopusem.

ASMODEL

Angel of Months that represents the month of April, whose name, in Hebrew, means "Warehouse of God." According to the dictations of Umiel, the chromatic vibration related to his Virtue is the red colour, ruby and jasper as gems, and the rose as its perfume (symbol of Silence and Prudence).

In Chapter IV of the Book of Samahel, Asmodel "dresses in Jasper," a reddish stone with which he also appears in John's Apocalypse. He also dictated in this text, the page 561, appearing the 30th.

Due to its symbolism, this Virtue would be in charge of developing qualitatively the Initiate that "is awake" and walking in the Consciousness supposed for him, until he is able to Irradiate Light to all that meet him during the physical life they have to share. He is the Angel of Prudence, subjected to the Virtue of Laopusem.

PRAYER FOR ASMODEL

Mystic seal

"In the name of the Adonai, my Supreme Lord, I convene with my symbolic Silence the Angel of Braveness, of Prudence, of Discipline, of the Impetus in the Fight for the celestial and mundane Life, so that his Energy of Life penetrates in my mind, my ears, my eyes, my intuition and my words for everything to be translated in perfect actions that as a Walker I wish to show. I am the way that takes to the fresh paths of Truth, of Confidence and Liberty: Love me, oh Angel of Prudence, so that we coexist in Admired Eternal Harmony! Oh, Asmodel, whose name that I know makes my soul tremble! Grant me being the immeasurable container of virtues and gifts of Harmony from which every living being chooses according to his needs. I will be, and so I promise, a loyal guardian of the Seeds of Love, Consciousness and Liberty, sowing them in fertile and fertilized grounds: such will be my deed in the world. Amen. Amen. Amen."

APRIL

(Source: Open debate of the "Friends of the Path")

The name of this month has several sources:

1. It comes from "Aprilis" in Latin, derived from "aperire," "to open." Maybe because it is in this month when all nature "opens" and shows itself in splendour.

2. The goddess Aphrodite was called Apru by the Etruscans. The Romans, thanks to their influence and identifying the Greek Aphrodite with the Roman Venus, called aprilis (month of Apru) the second month of their calendar.
3. "Aphro" means foam, because from the foam was procreated Venus-Aphrodite. The 1st of April, the Veneralia, the festivity of the Venus goddess was celebrated, lady of gardens, orchards, beauty and love. The bull, the rose and the myrtle are consecrated to her. April is the month of Venus, as Horatius testifies in his Poems. And according to Ovid: "It is Her who has given life to all the gods; who is in the origin of the harvests and the trees; who took the men of rough spirits to live in a society and to join to their couples."

From the 12th to the 19th, the Cerealia was celebrated in honour of the goddess Ceres, divinity of agriculture and of fertility of the soil, identified with the Greek Demeter. The return to the Earth of her daughter Proserpine-Persephone was celebrated, the encounter of Ceres and Proserpine, that is the cause of the arrival of Spring. These were days of happiness, as the mother, happy to have her daughter with her, made the fields flower and the fruits go ripe. Ceres was considered the inventor of agriculture techniques. According to Ovid, Ceres was sister of Jupiter and conceived Proserpine from this god. Proserpine was desired by the god of the underworld, Pluto, who abducted her and took her to the abyss, where he made her his queen. Ceres threatened to bring sterility to the Earth and to condemn mankind to hunger if her daughter wasn't returned to her, and so Pluto agreed that she spent half of the year with her mother, if she returned again afterwards to the underworld, when that period had elapsed. In those days the habit existed of taking pine torches to "illuminate" Ceres as she looked for Proserpine. This myth gave place in Ancient Greece to the Eleusinian Mysteries, of which the Minor were celebrated precisely in this date, consisting in the purification of the candidates to initiation.

Fordicidia, around April 15th, was the festivity dedicated to the goddess Tellus, the ancient Mother Earth. The Fordicidians celebrated a special dedication to this goddess, Tellus Gravida ("pregnant" Tellus). It means, literally, "death of the pregnant," as a pregnant cow was sacrificed. Each one of the thirty curias sacrificed one, and delivered the foetus for the Vestal Virgin to burn it. According to Ovid, the ritual of this day had been transmitted to Numa by the nymph Egeria as a medicine to avoid the sterility of the Earth. This seems to have been the original Etruscan ritual, which was afterwards expanded when Ceres was added to the Roman pantheon.

On April 21st the Parilia festival took place, in it, one or more priests of the god of the shepherd Palas, sanctified the flocks with rose petals. After that, they sacrificed some animals, which were eaten by all those who celebrated the festival. When the sun set, bonfires were lit that were jumped over three times to secure health and fertility for the flocks.

RED COLOUR:

It is the first of the colours, because it is linked to life, to fire and to blood. There are two classes of red:

- Night-time Red: colour of the central fire of man and the Earth, where digestion, maturity and regeneration take part. It is hidden in the greenness of the earth, it is a secret, a vital mystery hidden in the deepness of shadows. Colour of the soul, of the libido, of the heart. Of the esoteric science and knowledge forbidden to those who are not initiates. Female and magic.

- Daylight red: Masculine and solar. Ardour and beauty, impulsive strength and generosity. Warrior virtues. Synonym of youth, sanctity, wealth and love. Related to all the popular festivities of spring, marriage and birth. Liberating love, colour of Dionysus. It casts its brightness over everything with an immense and irresistible power.

It is the symbol of the struggle of Nature to reach the light, of the Walker or the Initiate in the Sacred Mysteries.

AMBRIEL

Angel of Months representative of May that according to the dictations of Umiel has green emerald as the colour that vibrates with its Virtue, green quartz or emerald as gem, and patchouli as its perfume (symbol of Strength). His name means "Youth of the Lord," and he has also been called the Angel of the "Explosion of Spring" and the "Flag of the Universal White Lady."

He is the protector of the female principle as complementary to the male principle, polarities that the human being must balance.

Ambriel is the Angel of the Re-Evolution with all that this means. In Chapter IV of the Book of Samahel he says he "dresses in Sapphire," what is probably related with one of the gems of the breastplate of the Hebrew High Priest.

PRAYER FOR AMBRIEL

Mystic seal

"In my Cosmic mind I see the Cave of Fertility, the scent of the Force that is dragged by the wind, the Sacred Tree that deepens its roots in the fertile ground of Understanding, the crystalline murmur of Emotions as they jump from crag to crag, and the blinding light of the Revolution of Love. My past has died due to starvation and I have Resurrected to Wisdom that now is manifested in my heart with the green Energy of Ambriel. Take me in your hands and make me explode in thousands of Sparks of Understanding; this way I will be in the interior of the heart of all humans. Take me in your heart and make me implode so as to bring to my soul the live and Inert Symbols as stars in the moment of their death. Oh, Ambriel, Angel of the face of sweetness, of the Maternity of Nature and the kiss of Flora, be eternally propitious to me, sweet and tolerant! Make me sprout new and strong in this new period of the Great Wheel of the Cycle of my existence. Amen. Amen. Amen."

MAY

The ancient Romans called it Maius, a name that comes from the Goddess Maia (Maia Maiestas) or Bona Dea (the 'good goddess',) also called Ops. Ops, identical to the Greek Rea, was the goddess of fertility and of the Sabine land. She designated the land, because the land distributes all the goods to man. Ops means 'wealth,' 'goods,' 'abundance,' 'gifts.' Also related with opus, 'work,' in the sense of 'working the land,' 'ploughing,' 'seeding,' activities that were considered sacred and were accompanied by religious rituals. May was consecrated to the ancestors (maiores.) It was a month in which all Europe and Asia believed that ghosts appeared to the living people.

The days near May 1st were especially important. In Rome, the celebrations to honour Flora (the Greek Cloris), goddess of Spring, flowers, fruit-trees and wine, had their peak on that day. The Floralia, from April 28th to May 3rd, were popular festivities, famous due to their licentious ways and especially celebrated by prostitutes. People dressed in multi-coloured clothes, imitating the flowers from the fields and at night the streets were illuminated to continue with the enjoyment.

Beltane or Bealtaine is an ancient Celtic festivity celebrated on May 1st. In Galicia, a nocturnal feast was celebrated in the harvest fields with torches called Fachucos, whose ashes were scattered on the land to fertilize it. The Beltane night marked the beginning of the season of shepherding Summer. It is the festivity in which the great human activity starts, that is why it has been transformed into Labour Day. One of its actions consisted in lighting bonfires in the mountains and hills with a ritualistic meaning, on Oidhche Bhealtaine (Bealtaine's eve.) Tradition says this date was a transition from Winter to Spring, to honour Belenos, god of fire, lighting bonfires to renew with the smoke the towns and their dwellers, worshiping and convening the gods of fertility. This is the second night of Walpurgis, as Spring has passed on the last day of last October. This festivity was taken up by Christianity, giving it an origin related with an alleged birthday of Satan.

In Europe, "May sticks" were put up in the small villages, adorned with flowering hawthorns. The tradition of the May Cane consists in a tree or a stick adorned with ribbons, fruits and flowers that decorates during this month the festivities to which youngsters of both genders go to. The tradition was Christianised with the May Cross, putting up a profusely decorated cross that remained protected by the maiden of May. "Maya and May are a play that young men and women represent, putting in a thalamus a boy and a girl that symbolize marriage." Afterwards, they are replaced by the "Maya Queen," that from a podium, observes how her ladies ask for presents to the passers-by for their dowry. This tradition is still present in the Fallas queens, Dames of open-air dances, etc.

In England, during the "May Day" feast, the unmarried women went out in a procession before the Sun appeared taking small bunches of flowers, initiating the May dances with the sound of bagpipes, to go to the sacred forest, where the Cane of May and the wife Lady Flora were worshiped. The Cane of May was decorated with streamers and coloured, to do around it a festive-ceremonial dance, being this cane a representation of the sacred oak, and also a manifestation of the sexual attribute of Bel. All these "Mays" are phallic symbols that represent the inseminated earth.

In Russian, MAIA means Mary. For Christianity, May is consecrated to Mary, and with it starts the Marian celebrations and "romerías" that accompany the farming work during all Summer until the end of September.

GREEN EMERALD COLOUR

From "viridis" in Latin: vigorous, alive, young. Intermediate value between cold and hot, the high and the low. Reassuring, refreshing, human. Tepdi, as man.

It is the symbol of Nature, of the deep sea and of existence. Of Spring, hope and nutrition. Green is the awaking of life, of birth, of resurrection. The essential ocean was green in colour.

In Islam it is the colour of Knowledge. The qualities of green make you think it hides a secret, that it symbolizes a deep, hidden knowledge of things and destiny. It contains red. The elevation of life starts in red and flowers in green. In all mythologies, the green divinities of Spring hibernate in the Hades, where the earthly red regenerates them. They are externally green and internally red, and their empire extends to both worlds. Osiris, the green, resurrects thanks to the magic of Isis, the red. Persephone has in her interior the seed of the red grenade fruit that makes her return to life every Spring.

The emerald of Lucifer fallen to the Earth is transformed in the Grail, symbol of love and sacrifice, feminine glass that recollects and wraps life, that contains the blood of Christ, red. Regenerative power, Spring renewal. Superstitions, during a long time, assigned the emerald the miraculous virtue of accelerating birth.

It is the colour of the "Stone the opens the gates of Heaven," of the "Grail as giver of Wisdom." The table of the alchemic emerald, Stone of Hermes (stone of the secret knowledge), messenger of the gods, captures "the secret of the creation of beings and the science of the cause of all things" (Apollonius of Tyana) and is known as "dew of May" in alchemy. Green is obtained with a mixture of blue (the Consecrated or all that is sacred) and of yellow (the light, the Sun), symbolizing all those that after fulfilling their mystical pacts acquire the Enlightenment in matter. Green is also related with the water element and the healing of Raphael in the West (from where defects and diseases escape). It is the colour of doctors and pharmacists (who manufacture the medicines).

MURIEL

One of the Twelve Angels of Months that is ruled by the Virtue of Laopusem. He is the representative of the month of June. His name is translated from Hebrew as "Perfume of God."

According to the secret dictations of Umiel that can be read in the Book of the Consecrated, the colour that vibrates with this Energy is silver. The gem that corresponds to this Angel is quartz crystal, and its perfume is jasmine (symbol of Purity).

Muriel grants the withdrawal and mysticism that Prayer causes in the human being, the repetition of "mantrams," and the mystic and pure connection we must have to compose them and for them to be effective to move the Sublime Energy.

According to the Book of Samahel, in Chapter IV we can read by mouth of Gabriel that this Angel "dresses in Chalcedony." This Messenger is the Angel of Action and Enthusiasm. It was one of the Angels that dictated the Book of Samahel, doing it in the thirty-second place (page 562 and successive, page 973 and successive).

PRAYER FOR MURIEL

Mystic seal

"I convene the Great Energy that joins the High with the low, for it in its Balance to awake in me the necessary Action with which to make a better and more pleasant world. I convene today Angel Muriel for it to penetrate in my soul and my spirit and so make the crystalline water of Enthusiasm sprout in me to accomplish any task or enterprise. The perfume of Purity impregnates my body in this moment attracting to my mind the need for Communication that my mouth is unable to pronounce due to its Vastness. I am dual in my essence, Oh Angel of the white Flower that flowers in gentleness! and today I open myself to your Energy for you to grant me the Virtues that are born by you. Amen. Amen. Amen."

JUNE

From Iunius in Latin, month of Juno, corresponding to the Greek Hera, goddess of marriage. In Roman mythology, June is the goddess of motherhood, protector of women, of commitments, of Nations, Queen of the Olympus and wife of Jupiter. Originally, it personified the Moon circle and symbolized the feminine principle in its young maturity, vigorous, sovereign, spirited and fertile. Mother of the god of war, that at the same time is the protector of months, its name is derived from the Indo-European root that expresses the vital strength that we also find in Juvenis, the young man in the summit of his vigour, represented by a nude young man that points at a solar clock with his finger to explain the Sun is starting to set and has in his hand a lit torch as a symbol of the heat of the season. It is also thought that, the same as May was devoted to the elder, June was devoted to the juniors (the youngsters).

During the night of June 23rd and 24th, the marriage of Jupiter and June was celebrated, whose joining together and fertility are symbolized as an oak. The children born during these festivities were considered protected by the goddess. These nights' traditions, since old times, were to remain awake all night and light bonfires so the strength of the Sun wouldn't decline. But it was not only the festivity of fire, it was also a water festivity during which people strolled in boats decorated with flowers. Currently, this festivity has been assimilated to Christianity in the famous Night of Saint John. The Basque witches celebrate their most important Sabbath, because it is the night in which the Basa Andre (Lady of the Forest) and the Basa Jaun (Master of the Forest or Aker) manifest, both son and daughter of the Andra Mari or Ama Lur (the Great Mother).

In all Europe, as the solstices arrived, and since times before the Romans, diverse ritual celebrations have been held where bonfires were lit. In June, the Summer Solstice takes place, or second solstice door of Janus, as ambiguous divinity that looks both towards the past and the future. In the Summer Solstice the solar decadence begins and is called the "gate of men," as opposed to the Winter Solstice, that is known as the "gate of Gods."

The Celtic rituals of Litha correspond to the peak of this solstice, celebrated on June 21st, when the powers of Nature reach their peak point in the longest day of the year. That is why Beltane (May 1st) possesses the most pure feminine essence, and Litha entails the power of masculine strength. The God reigns in Nature with all its energy, flooding it with fertility and purifying it with its fire. It signals the beginning of Summer and the shortening of nights. It was and is a tradition to light great bonfires on the beach (to lengthen even more the longest day of the year), and to jump over them to run afterwards into the sea, as a way of purification.

To dance is a ritual that links to Earth, as if we awakened it with our feet. With our movement and our voice we link to the Air. With baths and ablutions, to Water as mystic element. And tempting fire with leaps and circles, we link to the sacred Fire. All these actions put us in contact with the forces of Nature and with the superior planes of consciousness, making magic possible. Any ritual, in this atmosphere of energetic euphoria, will tune into the materializing powers of the Universe. That night, all Nature is open to our desires

Also, on June 24th, the Inti Raymi or Festival of the Sun is celebrated in the Peruvian city of Cusco, a religious Inca ceremony which honours Inti, the Sun God. It signals the Winter Solstice, and in the Inca civilisation, it indicated the beginning of the year, the same as the mythical origin of the Inca.

On the other hand, on June 1st, the Carnaria was celebrated in Rome ("Calends of broad beans"), festivity that honoured the nymph Carna, goddess that looked over the assimilation of food. She is the patron saint of hinges, as her power can open what is closed and close what is open. Sister of Diana (Moon goddess), this day Carna was possessed by Janus. It is the day in which what is impossible becomes possible.

SILVER COLOUR

White and luminous. The word "argent," (silver in Catalanian and French), is derived from a Sanskrit word that means white and shiny.

It is the colour of the Chrystic Consciousness (the full moon), that has to be reached by the being that walks towards spirituality and light (the sun). It is a reflection of the divinity that is only that: its reflection. It is not the Light, but a generally dual light that goes in all directions without illuminating only one thing and without nearly casting shadows.

It belongs to the symbolic chain moon-water-feminine principle. Symbol of the purifying water, it represents the Divine Knowledge. God, that joins together both purifying elements, fire and water, is gold and silver at the same time.

Symbol of purity: it is pure light, in the way it is received and returned by the transparency of glass, the limpidness of water, the reflections in a mirror, the glint of a diamond; it resembles the clarity of consciousness, the purity of intention, frankness, the integrity of actions, and demands the loyalty that is associated to it.

VERCHIEL

One of the Angels of Months, ruled by Laopusem, whose name in Hebrew means "God blesses me." According to the unpublished part of the A.D.A.M.A., it is the representative of July, the corresponding gem is the moonstone, the colour that vibrates with its Energy is light green, and the perfume is Sandalwood (symbol of the Three Manifestations).

This Messenger makes us brave in the face of the trials that life or our karma presents us with the purpose of making us strong and wise. According to Chapter IV of the Book of Samahel, this Angel "dresses in Emerald," one of the gems that decorated the breastplate of the High Priest of the Temple of Jerusalem. Verchiel is the Angel of Trials, and appeared in Paiporta (Spain) to dictate page 563 of the Book of Samahel, doing it in 33rd place.

PRAYER FOR VERCHIEL

Mystic seal

"The Angel of my Lord the Unnameable presents himself in this Cycle of my life, and with him I take Communion in Creation, in the Manifestation of Wisdom and in the timeless Message of Life in Eternity. Amen. Amen. Amen. Verchiel, eternal Virtue that is reflected in the snow-white resemblance of the lunar Angels, come to my presence and make me take part in the Celestial Motherhood and the Pure Love. Make yourself present in me and free me from the seeds that occasionally torment my soul that wants to swell as flowers that spangle my actions. I convene you because I Know your Name and in it I rejoice as the Living being that seeks for the Protecting hand of the Great Authority that Blesses us without retaining, diminishing or taking away Liberty. Verchiel, Verchiel... that the Charisma of your singular Energy be always there in my moments of uneasiness and darkness as a lamp that moves away the shadow! With you I will discover the unknown, with you I will quench my Thirst, with you my Path will be easier, with you I will attain the blessings of the Masters that rest in the meadows of the Universal wisdom. Soft pearly mist, hug me! Glow made of foam, clean me! Whisper of the deep, make me keep silent so I am recognized as "The Prudent!" I convene you from my heart for you to be the guest of the Dwelling of my feelings! Live in me! Amen. Amen. Amen."

JULY

It was the fifth month of the primitive Roman calendar and it was called Quintilis. It was named "Julius" to honour Julius Caesar, which was born the 11th of this month. In iconography it was represented as a sun-tanned youngster with a crown of sprigs in his hair, as it was the month in which farmers began to harvest farro (ancient type of wheat), oats and rye.

It was consecrated to Minerva, divinity of Wisdom associated to the Greek Athena and one of the three superior divinities of the Roman pantheon together with Jupiter and Janus. Minerva is the warrior goddess whose attributes were a spear and a shield, and at the same time goddess of Reason and Philosophy. Minerva is the protector of cities.

The day after the Idus (around July 16th) the Stella Maris celebration (star of the seas) took place, one of the attributes of Isis in times of the Empire (and curiously, one of the current names of the Virgin Mary). Sirius was revered, the star that shined most in the sky, representation of Isis in the skies and that during dawn in July rises in the eastern Mediterranean, herald of good weather and patron saint of sailors. This festivity was celebrated with marine strolls, as in our days happens with the Virgen del Carmen, whose festivity is celebrated on the same day.

After three days of celebrations, on July 19th, the festival of Isis reached its summit: "Green Goddess," "Lady of the bread," "Lady of beer," "Lady of abundance"... This goddess defines herself as: "I am the mother of the immense Nature, the owner of all the elements, the trunk that gives the origin to generations, the supreme divinity, the queen of the Seas, the most important inhabitant of the Skies, the only incarnation of gods and goddesses, the luminous domes of the sky, the healthy winds of the sea, the desolated silences of the infernos, everything is at the mercy of my will; I am the unique divinity who the whole world worships under multiple shapes, multiple rituals and diverse names... I am Queen Isis" (Apuleius).

The day after, on the 20th, the Panathenaea were celebrated, heritage of the festivals in honour of Athena. This day the "Palladium" or image of the goddess was consecrated, with the aim of begging for her protection over the city during the year. These festivals consisted in a mass celebration in which the noble ladies of the city offered the goddess a peplum or exquisite tunic, which had taken them nine months to prepare. This luxury garment was placed over the statue of Minerva in a majestic ritual and afterwards, a procession took place in the streets for the people to touch it or even, to take a piece of it. Priests with olive sticks, young dancers, music and colour accompanied the goddess. Every four years the Great Panathenaea were celebrated.

In our days, we find a reference about how this procession must of been, in the procession of Mare de Deu dels Desamparats, in Valencia. During the "move," the "pilgrim" image is taken out through the Door of Irons and moved by the "followers" from the Basilica to the Cathedral, in the air, among flirtatious remarks, passing from one to other, until it enters back sided in the Cathedral. We find another example in the "jumping of the bars" that takes place in the procession of the Virgen del Rocío.

The last festivity of the month, the Neptunalia, had the purpose of exorcizing the drought. It was celebrated in honour of Neptune, God of the waters and protector of fishermen and sailors.

LIGHT GREEN

From "viridis" in Latin: vigorous, active, young. Green is related with water and healing. It is the colour of doctors and pharmacists. Symbol of nature, of the deepness of the sea and of existence. Green is the awakening of life, of the essential ocean. It symbolizes a deep and hidden knowledge of things and of destiny.

White means the absence or the sum of all colours, and so, it is placed at the beginning or the end of life. It is the colour of who is going to change his condition and it means light, purity and happiness. It overflows in living possibilities, as it symbolizes the nothing before any beginning.

Light green is obtained from mixing green and white, and so, it participates of the features of both colours. It is related to protection and emotional healing. To the change that is operated in us after passing the trials that life (the nature that surrounds us) presents us, and the hope of a new beginning, the awakening, the happiness, the knowledge and the purity acquired. The sea and the water, seed of any origin and of the matter that forms us.

HAMALIEL

Also called AMALIEL, this Angel of Months that is ruled by Laopusem is translated from Hebrew as "Forgiveness of God." According to the dictations of Umiel, he is the representative of August, being gold colour the chromatic vibration related to its Energy, diamond and tiger's eyes the gem, and daffodil the perfume (symbol of Contemplation).

It is the Angel that grants the quality, sometimes difficult, of knowing how to "forgive ourselves" our failures, that is what we must know how to do before being able to forgive others. If we are not able to forgive ourselves, we won't know how to do it effectively with our fellow men.

According to the Book of Samahel, in Chapter IV, this Angel (as in John's Apocalypse) "dresses in Sardonyx," a gem that was represented in the breastplate of the High Priest of Israel. Hamaliel is the Angel of Forgiveness.

Mystic seal

"I have looked at myself in the Mirror of my life and today I have understood that I should Love myself without opposition, because I have known that Amaliel has filled me with his adamantine light as a crater of magnificent diamond. Praised be the Universal Name for making me the container of his small Light which can be looked at with the eyes of simplicity! The Wisdom of Love has made me understand that this consciousness lets me soften my errors, my edges, my taints, my complex low feelings and my unpronounceable secrets: Today I know I am Forgiven because I know I have forgiven myself. The Mercy of the Unpronounceable Lord of all things visible and invisible dwells in my heart and has impregnated my soul, and my consciousness celebrates with immeasurable happiness this gift that that had always belonged to me. Glory to this finding that was so hidden that I didn't suspect it existed! Today Honesty, self-esteem, Honour and happiness soak me; because I have been released – due to the Understanding of my soul - from the chains that have made me correct my mistaken attitude in the face of my weak points and those of my fellowmen. That self-forgiveness be with me! That forgiveness is with all those I know! Amen. Amen. Amen."

AUGUST

Sixth month of the ancient Roman calendar, called Sextilis until a Senate decree changed its name to that of the emperor Caius Julius Caesar Augustus, because during this month he put the legions under his command, transformed Egypt into a Roman province, ended the civil wars, was named Consul and triumphantly entered Rome three times, and it was also the month in which he died.

Consecrated to Diana, the hunting goddess (or Artemis), protector of the Amazons, and later on, of witches. Twin sister of Apollo, God of the Sun, she rewards her loyal worshippers with immortality. Wild Goddess of nature, she protects young and pure animals, and pregnant women. As a virgin, she is the goddess of births and rules over the birth and development of beings. Protector of the feminine life, her cult is considered derived from that of the Asian Great Mother. She warranted the continuity of births and provided for the succession of kings. It is probable that Diana incorporated the cult of De Ana (the Irish Goddess Ana), mother of the gods.

This month starts with the Celtic festivity of Lughnasadh (August is called this way in Ireland) or feast of Lugh, from which the names of London, Lyon or Lugo come from. Lug is king and priest at the same time; in the fight against his enemies, he wins thanks to the knowledge and the control of magic faced to brute force. This day, the new men and women druids are consecrated.

“Lughnasadh” means “memories of Lugh,” memories also directed to his nursemaid, Princess Taíltiu, from the Iberian Peninsula. It is also translated as “marriage of Lugh,” and in this case, Taíltiu, that is translated as “earth or ground,” appears to be the spouse of the God. This festivity signalled the beginning of harvests and the celebration of marriages, whose agreement lasted for one year and one day and could be renewed each year on this day. Between families, the future marriage of sons and daughters was also established.

The celebration, known as the “Festival of Grain,” “Festival of Bread,” or “Festival of Sports,” acknowledges the sustenance that Mother Earth provides us and it is a period of military truce. The participants drank hydro-honey, a drink of the Gods and the dead, because its use produced ecstasy and visions of the afterlife.

Lugh is not a supreme god, it is a “functionless God” because he has all the functions. He is Samildanach, the multiple craftsman, the «polytechnician» that knows all the arts and all the sciences. The organization of the Tuatha Dé Danann (the people of the tribe of Diana) has a hierarchy of three classes:

- The Priesthood function, whose role points to the sacred, incarnated by Dagda, the Druid God.
- The Warrior function, especially in charge of sovereignty and that is represented by Ogma, the warrior God, and Nuada, the king-God.
- The craftsmen’s function, that is produced by the community as a whole, represented by Goibniu, Credne and Luchta.

Lugh doesn’t belong to this hierarchy, he doesn’t belong to any particular class, but to all of them, because he is able to take over all the functions. When he appears before King Nuada to serve him, he will be in succession a carpenter, a blacksmith, a warrior and a magician. Afterwards, he plays chess with the king and wins. This game of chess is purely symbolic, as through it Lugh takes over the world.

On the second day of the Calends of Sextilis, every four years, the Delphic Games were celebrated to honour Apollo, winner of the Python serpent and God of the Sun, both symbols of Wisdom.

On the 12th, consecrated to Hercules, a bull was sacrificed (solar symbol) during the morning, offered up in the afternoon, and in the light of the torches, a procession took place that ended with a banquet in which the meat and the skin of the victim was eaten. This could be the beginning of the Summer bull-fighting festivals. The next day, on the 13th, the Vertumnalia, festivity of Vertumnus, Etruscan God that warranted the changes and passing of seasons, protector of the sown fields and master of commerce. On this day the festival of Diana also started. It was thought that it was the hottest night of the year, so the Goddess was represented with a torch on her right hand. The festivities took place in a forest and the vestals took the sacred fire. The pious constructed an improvised temple in which they left their lamps lit all night. The festivities lasted till the 15th. The Christian Church celebrates on this day the Ascension of the Virgin Mary, her “elevation” to Heaven in body and soul, in other words, Mary (the Mother) is assumed into holy glory.

On the 19th, the Vinalia took place, a festivity to honour Jupiter, in which his protection was pleaded for the vines due to the Summer storms that could ruin the harvest. On the 21st, the Consualia, feasts of the God Consus, protector of the silos and of grain. The first sprigs were offered to the God and competitions of horseback archery took place, with the horses adorned and freed from their common tasks, as it is still done in many locations of the province of Valencia with the traditional "Pulling and Dragging."

In line with the protection of the harvest, on the 23rd the Vulcanalia was celebrated, the feasts of the god of fire, Vulcanus, imploring for his protection against the Summer fires.

This month ended with two minor festivities: the Opiconsivia, on the 25th, and the Volturnalia, on the 27th. The first, dedicated to Ops Consiva, underground divinity of agriculture abundance and of the new-born babies. The second were dedicated to Volturnus, archaic divinity of rivers and responsible for the feared Autumn floods.

GOLDEN COLOUR

It is the symbol of the direct light of Heaven, as opposed to yellow, that symbolizes the reflected light (on Earth). The golden colour is related since ancient times with the divinity and the aureole of the Sun, object of veneration in remote cultures.

It symbolizes abundance and power. And also the archetypes, knowledge and wisdom. Supernatural colour, symbol of royalty, wealth, essence of the divine spirit, spiritual opening, strength... It is obtained from a mixture of orange and yellow. It reinvigorates the mind, inspiration and energies; it moves away fears and superfluous things.

In the course of History, gold and its aspects have been taken as icons of royalty, of strength and as an evidence of certain deities and religious cults. An example is the depiction of the halos (or aureoles) of saints; the colour of the apple of discordance that Eris took with him; the solar orbs of some Egyptian gods (like Ra); or the skin of Chaitanya in Hinduism. The icons of Buddha are golden, signs of Enlightenment and of absolute perfection; and the background of the Byzantine icons, reflection of the heavenly light.

It is related to the new skin of the Earth, to the beginning of the Rain Season before the Earth revives, it is a symbol of the renewal of Nature. It is the purifying fire, the Enlightenment. It evokes all the symbolisms of the Sun: fertility, wealth, dominium, centre of heat, love, gifts, home of light, knowledge, radiation. Apollo, God of the Sun, was dressed and armed in gold: tunic, clasps, lyre, arch, quiver, boots...

URIEL

One of the Guardian or tutelary angels of the Initiate whose luminous representation is localized in the South and that symbolizes the Fire element (the irradiation.) He is also called Auriel and means in Hebrew "Light of God," "Fire of God," or "Light of the Lord."

In Ethiopian it is written as Oureel and with this name he appears in the Apocryphal Apocalypse of Esdras. This Angel is fundamental in one of the Books of the cycle of Enoch, and is one of the most important together with Michael, Gabriel and Raphael until the Christian Church separated him from the Calendar of Saint's Days and declared him an "Apocryphal Angel." As Guardian Angel the gem that corresponds to him is Red Jasper and his perfume would be Musk (symbol of the divine presence).

Uriel is also one of the so-called Angels of Months governed by Laopusem. In this case, Uriel is the Angel of September, to which corresponds the light blue colour, Agate as his gem and Iris as his perfume(symbol of resurrection).

According to Chapter IV of the Book of Samahel, this Angel "dresses in carnelian" and appears in this way in John's Apocalypse. He dictated many texts that can be found in the Book of Samahel, many of them veiled and unpublished until the year 2050, as stated by these same Messengers. Uriel is the Angel of IRRADIATION.

PRAYER FOR URIEL

Mystic seal

*"In the Name of the Three Manifestations whose mystery is only revealed to the Wise I convene you, Energy of Uriel, so you ignite all my soul and my intelligence to sight the rays of your golden Light. I want to take part in the igniting of the world and its Spiritual Enlightenment as one more creator of this great Deed of Revolution in Love. I want to go on the luminous chariot that flies through the Spheres of the Universal places of action and reaction where the great Sun that illuminates every being manifests without considering its condition, origin or capacity. Here I am, Lord of the Fire of the Grail, transformed into a tame lamb in the conflict and in a fierce lion during peace! Light of intelligence, torch of Knowledge, reflection of Resurrection in a new place! Penetrate in me and make me a torch and light in between the opposites!
Amen. Amen. Amen."*

SEPTEMBER

It is the seventh month of the Roman calendar. Last month of Summer, parallel to the months of July and August, its zodiacal sign is Virgo. Dedicated to the initiation in the powers and the wisdom granted by Demeter, rituals closely related to the cult of Dionysus, god of wine, who is worshiped in the grape harvest that takes place this month. The monthly celebrations started with the Epidauria, in honour of Asclepius or Hippocrates. The sick person slept in the temple of this healing divinity and during his sleep he envisioned the most incredible surgical interventions together with the warnings of Asclepius, whose symbol is the serpent. The sick person was cured when he exited the temple.

And after six months of preparation, in September the pilgrimage to Eleusis took place, which had to be done walking, at least in the last stretch. The mysteries were related to the cults of the goddesses Demeter and Persephone, based on the myth in which they had a leading role. Persephone is kidnapped by Hades, god of death and the underworld. Demeter, her mother, goddess of life, agriculture and fertility, neglected her duties while she looked for her daughter, so the Earth froze and the people were hungry: the first Winter. At last, Demeter found her daughter and the Earth returned to life: the first Spring. But Persephone had to return with Hades regularly, as she had eaten some pomegranate seeds that he had given her. Persephone remained with Hades one third of the year and with her mother the remaining months. The mysteries celebrated the return of Persephone, as this meant the return of plants and life to the Earth, the rebirthing.

There were two classes of Eleusinian mysteries: major and minor. The minor mysteries were celebrated during the month Anthesterion (around March-April). The priests purified the candidates for the "myesis" of Initiation. The major mysteries were celebrated in Boedromion (September). The first action was to move the sacred objects from Eleusis to the Eleusinion, in the Acropolis of Athens. The next day, the hierophants (priests) proclaimed the beginning of the rituals. The participants bathed in the sea, taking a purification bath, with the aim of cleansing the errors of the past and preparing for the Great Night of revelation. Two days later, the procession started and the people walked to Eleusis following the «Via Sacra», balancing branches called bakchoi during the way. In a certain place, they shouted out obscenities in praise of Yambe (and old woman that telling lewd jokes to Demeter, had made her smile despite her sorrow). The procession also shouted "Iakch" or "Iakche," referring to Yaco, epithet of Dionysus.

When they arrived at Eleusis, around the 7th, they fasted during one day commemorating the fasting of Demeter. During the fasting they drank a special beverage made of barley and pennyroyal called "kykeon." In the evening they had dances in honour of Dionysus, in which the ritual shout or "iacchos" was pronounced repeatedly. Afterwards, the initiates entered the Telesterion, where they were shown the sacred relics of Demeter. In the centre of the Telesterion was the Anaktoron ('palace'), a small stone building in which only the hierophant could enter. This was the most secret part of the mysteries and those that were initiates could not ever reveal what they had seen or heard in the Telesterion, on pain of death. At sunrise, the initiates went out of the sanctuary transformed. Apuleius describes this transformation in his Metamorphoses: "I reached the frontiers of death, I stepped on Persephone's threshold and when I returned I crossed all the elements; in the middle of the night, I saw the Sun shine in all its splendour: I neared the gods of hell and heaven; I contemplated them face to face and worshiped them. This is my news: although you've heard me, you are condemned to not understand me."

Finally, the pannychis was celebrated, a feast that lasted all night with dances and entertainment. The next day, everyone returned home. These mysteries were celebrated every year during approximately two thousand years. The only requisites to be able to participate were to lack «blood guilt», to not have committed murder, and to not be a barbarian (know how to speak Greek). Both men and women could be initiated, and even slaves.

Eleusis comes from Elul, from the Akkadian elūlu, "harvest," typical task of this period of the year. Elul is the twelfth and last month of the Hebrew calendar, and in current Turkish, the month of September is called "Eylül." In Syrian, aylûl means 'grape,' and this is the month of grapes. In present times, the Catholic Church celebrated the birth of the Virgin Mary on September 8th, and many Marian processions take place that return the respective Virgins to their place of worship, after having spent all Summer in the city or town they patronize.

LIGHT BLUE

Light blue is the deepest of colours. Symbol of Priesthood, as it is the colour of the sky reflected on water (from the highest to the lowest, the Light of the skies reflected on the deepness of matter). And so it is related with Spirituality. According to Kandinsky, "it attracts man towards infinity and awakens in him the desire of purity and the thirst for the supernatural." In the Jewish-Christian tradition, it is the colour of purity and virginity. The deeper the blue, more powerful is its attraction over man, the infinite call it awakens in him, his desire of purity and immateriality.

Blue, the Marian colour, expresses detachment from the values of this world. The Virgo sign corresponds to the season of mowing, when the evolution of Spring has finished and gives way to the involution of Autumn. During the period of Virgo (that is centripetal, as blue colour) the soil is dispossessed of its mantle of green, it dries and remains nude. It is the moment of the feast of the Virgin Mary, under an unveiled sky, in which the solar gold is turned into ruthless fire and devours the ripe fruits of the Earth. This blue, in the Aztec culture, was turquoise blue, colour of the Sun; sign of fire, drought, hunger, death.

BARBIEL

One of the 12 Angels of Months "ruled" by Laopusem, whose name means in Hebrew "In Four God," or also according to the Kabbalah "Wise in the Law of God." Thanks to the dictations of Umiel we know he is the regent of the month of October, and the vibration related to his Virtue is that of iridescent colours, in other words, those that reflect a different colour according to the light they receive.

When Barbiel is nested in the interior of the human being, it makes him participate in the Understanding of Nature as a symbol of the Path that takes to Wisdom and Love. In the states of high consciousness, he makes us realize that all matter is temporary and short-lived, changing and elusive.

In Chapter IV of the Book of Samahel we are told that he "dresses in Chrysolite," as in John's Apocalypse. The writings of Umiel say he vibrates with rose quartz and with the perfume of the melaleuca tree (symbol of preservation). He was one of the angels that appeared in Paiporta (Valencia – Spain), in the 35th place. His dictation can be found on page 567 of the original document. He is the Angel of Wisdom by cause of Awareness of the 4 elements.

PRAYER FOR BARBIEL

Mystic seal

"The Almighty, in his Sound, exhaled you so as that with your Energy you impregnated water, earth, wind and fire that are ruled by the Energy of Love; so was your origin, Oh Angel Barbiel! Drops of emotions splash our soul since that day; elements of matter that form us in our perishable density, molecules of pure spirits flutter around from our interior to our exterior in the music that forms our existences, and tongues of igneous sparks illuminate our memory to reach the Great Memory. In this we are acknowledged as Sons of Light and lanterns of the winding paths. Open for me before my eyes the Book of Wisdom whose pages are studded with gems and precious stones, of sounds, of colours, of shapes and of Planes and seals that warranty my Learning; show it and make my vision clear and with no distortion according to my conveniences. I promise, by your Pink Light, that I will proclaim truly the reality of all that I have learnt, without strange nuances, without half-hearted words and selfish or proud lucubrations. Barbiel, preserve me, I beg you, from every taint that won't make me look white, luminous and radiant. Life passes by. Time passes by, space is a dream, but your Reality in me shall be Eternal because Eternal is the breath with which the Adonai gave you a beginning and from which I take as guide and support. I am the prayer that is emanated from the feelings of the soul that ascends to the Spaces. I am a cave where Life germinates and as an athanor, transmutes the death of Life. I am the silver and pure Feeling whose expression is Four and whose Emanation takes to the Cleaning of himself. I am the lantern of the seven virtues that in me exist and that feed from the oils of Wisdom and Knowledge. Come to me, Barbiel. Amen. Amen. Amen."

OCTOBER

Eighth month of the year for the Romans, so its name. The number eight is the number of cosmic balance, value of the mediation between the square and the circle, between Heaven and Earth, and so it symbolizes the intermediate world. The eighth day takes place after the six days of Creation and the Sabbath, announcing the future era. Every action in this life is related to the figure 4 (nature and life, matter), that is why the eight is the value given to Life, because it is double four.

On the 5th, the Proenosia were celebrated to honour Persephone, kidnapped by Hades when she was picking flowers. Mundus Patet. This is the second day in which it was thought the door that communicates the realm of the dead with the world of the living remained open, as also on August 24th and November 8th.

On October 10th, the Thesmoforia festivals started, in honour of Demeter, in the day the Sorrowful Mother is called on. Dedicated to mothers, they celebrate the Goddess as feminine principle of the conception and delivery. The preparation consists in nine days of sexual abstinence. During this first day, the Anodos, women go in procession to the nearest river or the sea, where they celebrate mystical rituals of fertility. In one of these rituals, women collect the rotten remains of the vegetable offerings buried four months earlier, they mix them with new seeds and distribute them in the fields to renew their generator strength.

The second day, called Nesteia, a day of fasting and retirement to commemorate the mourning of Demeter. In memory of her transformation into a horse, women do a night procession with lit candles, dressed in black and with ornaments that resemble the mane, a way of dressing that reminds us of the Spanish hair comb and shawl. This same day the Meditrinalia takes place, in honour of Meditrina, goddess of vines and of their healing properties, in which new wine was mixed with old wine and drunk, saying at the same time: "I drink old and new wine; I heal from old and new illnesses." October 12th, third day of the Thesmoforia, Callegeneia or "Good Delivery," is a day of rejoice with many offerings to Demeter and all kinds of fertility rituals. In Spain, it is also the day of its main patroness: the Virgen del Pilar.

The October Equos (Horse of October) is celebrated, a ceremony related with fertility and war, sacrificing the horse of the right of the chariot that won the race of the Field of Mars. Its tail was cut and burnt, and the ashes were one of the ingredients the vestals used to make a purifying substance called suffimen.

On October 19th, the Armilustrum is celebrated, a ceremony to purify the trumpets when the war season ends. October 31st, the eve of the Celtic festivity of Samhain, is the end of the good weather and the harvest, the time of the year to remain at home and begin an intimate task, as can be learning magic, alchemy, Astrology or Philosophy. Samhain is derived from ancient Irish and means end of the Summer.

The night meeting consisted in an exorcism of evil geniuses, a purification of the group and the soil for everything to be renewed and cleaned. The Druids generate the new fire by rubbing two oak sticks. A great bonfire is lit and songs are sung to celebrate the New Year. This is the first night of the Walpurgis.

During the Samhain, all the other fires were blown out and in each household a fire was lit in the chimney where the bones of the sacrificed animals were tossed into. To keep the good spirits happy and to move away the bad spirits, food was left outdoors. Fortune telling was practiced, which implied that special food and beverages were taken. It was a feast of transition (the passing from one year to the next, from one season to the next, or from one state to another) and of opening to the other world, and as such has been practiced for over three thousand years in Europe. The Church stated the Celtic celebrations were heretic practices and demonized their beliefs. Nevertheless, as they were unable to annihilate them, they adopted their festivals and transformed them to Christianity.

Halloween has its origin in the Samhain. The word Halloween is derived from the English expression All Hallows' Eve (All the Saints' eve). Considered as the "Celtic New Year," that began on a dark season. The ancient Celts believed that the line that joins this world with the Other World became thinner with the arrival of the Samhain, letting the spirits (both evil and benign spirits) pass through. It is thought that the use of costumes and masks was to frighten away the evil spirits, adopting their appearance so as not to be hurt by them. During the Roman Invasion, this festivity was assimilated by them, who already celebrated during the last days of October and the first days of November the "harvest festival," in honour of Pomona (goddess of the fruit trees), and both traditions got mixed up. Apples soon formed part of the celebrations.

After the Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year (celebrated on days 1 and 2 of Tishrei, month in which it is considered that Yaveh created the world), and the Yom Kipur, Day of Atonement, Forgiveness and Repentance (around the 10th of Tishrei), the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, the festivity called Sukkot ("shack") is celebrated, also called «Feast of the Shacks» or «of the Tabernacle» that commemorates the vicissitudes of the Jewish people in the desert, and their precarious conditions when living in temporary shacks or sukkah.

It is the feast of the harvest, in which the end of the agricultural cycle is celebrated together with the wine and olive harvest. People live in "tabernacles" or brush shelters of green branches. It begins with a day of ritualistic rest on the 15 of Tishrei (September-October, matched with the astrological sign of Libra) and lasts for 7 days. It is a month of personal meditation in which, according to the ancient tradition, God weighs in his scale the virtues and sins of mortals, to write them or not in the "Book of Life."

IRIDESCENT COLOUR

It is the colour that changes to another colour when light comes into contact with it. There is a special type of fabric called "moiré" that clearly shows how this colour is.

Light is related with darkness to symbolize complementary or alternating values of an evolution. A black era is followed by a luminous, pure and regenerated era. Light follows darkness, both in the order of cosmic manifestation and in our interior enlightenment; but beyond the light is darkness, the divine essence that human reason cannot know. Light symbolizes the strength that gives and takes life away; such light, such life. The nature and the level of life depend on the light received.

Colour is a participation of light created and uncreated. The different colours are a means to access knowledge. For the mystics, the colour scale represents the manifestations of absolute life.

The rainbow is a symbol of the bridge between the Earth and Heaven, it expresses union, relations and exchanges between both. Bridge of the gods for ancient cultures and announcer of events linked to cyclic renewal. Guenón points out: "Although the rainbow corresponds to the dominion of High Waters, it is inverse and complementary to the Ark, above which it appears, as the Ark floats on the Low Waters. These are the two halves of the egg of the world, assembled as a restoration of cosmic order and an incubation of a new cycle, representing the flow of life in the Universe."

ADNACHIEL

Angel of Months whose name in Hebrew means "Delight of God" and that is coalesced around the Energy of Laopusem. According to the dictations of Umiel, he is the representative of the month of November and the vibration related to his Virtue is the orange colour.

Because of his symbolism, he is the Angel in charge of verifying the "ecstasy" we feel when we understand the proximity of the Divinity during our inspirations-exhalations (life), as this presence is real as compares to the "illusion" of what we believe so firmly. The gem that vibrates with its Energy is Onyx, and its perfume is Labdanum (symbol of simplicity). In Chapter IV of the Book of Samahel we are told that Adnachiel "dresses in Beryl," gem that is also related to him in John's Apocalypse, and that probably the High Priest had in his breastplate. Adnachiel is the Angel of Mystic Healing; he materialized himself in Paiporta (Valencia – Spain) to dictate a text in the Book of Samahel (page 568 of the original document), doing so in place 36.

PRAYER FOR ADNACHIEL

Mystic seal

"Winged with the mystery you are, blessed Angel Adnachiel. I wish to see with your eyes that are now mine. I wish to hear with your ears that are mine I wish to speak with your mouth that is mine. My feet walk your paths of goodness and justice, and my hands operate the actions that are consecrated to the Unnameable. Make me through my thoughts, words and deeds, simple like Nature, sublime like the atmosphere and luminous like the Sun that projects the shadows that make it shine. My reality is not like before since I have taken communion with Wisdom, because I see that everything around me has changed in my perception and due to finding the Hidden Treasures that have been shown to me. What stronghold will be more defended now than my soul? What soul can be Healthier now than that one that dwells in your Stronghold?: God, the Infallible, Knows it and through your lips has communicated it to me, because I have begged you so in Me. The Mystic Ecstasy I have understood, as now I know that everything stems from simplicity, from the lack of artificialness, from the small daily experiences and normality: You are the Miracle in me; I am the miracle by you in the Only God. That Everything blesses the Virtue of Adnachiel that exists in all beings. Amen. Amen. Amen."

NOVEMBER

For the Romans, the ninth month (Novem). The nine is a symbol of the master, of the mature being, of the old man that teaches, that keeps Wisdom in his interior; of plenitude, of the complete cycle, of the final countdown... It is a transitional month in which Winter begins.

In November, the plenitude of the Earth is verified, the harvest has finished and Nature offers all its splendour and matureness. The Roman "Feast of the Harvest," in honour of Pomona (goddess of fruits), addresses the fruits of the earth that will serve as food during Winter.

The beginning of the month, for the Celts, meant the summit of renewal, the Holy Day in which everything is new; the origin of a sacred cycle that will not end until May, with the return to physical tasks.

Samhain is used to name November in the ancient Celtic calendar, in particular the three first nights of the month, with the festival that marked the end of the Summer and the harvests. Between the Autumn Equinox and the Winter Solstice, it lasts for a week, ending with the feast of the "spirits," and with this a new Celtic year begins. For them, the place where spirits dwell is a place of perfect happiness where there is no pain or hunger. The Druid priests, serving as "mediums," communicated with the ancestors to guide them towards immortal life.

Samhain (Cho-ouinn) starts on the 1st, but the feast begins the previous night, as the Celts count by nights instead of days, with the presence of all the community. It consisted in an assembly where political, judicial, economic and religious issues were discussed, followed by an endless banquet of pork and wine: the first produces immortality and the second, the trance state in which we can communicate with the dead, and understand the metaphysical reality and the Everything.

The 2nd the Samhain continues with representations of Celtic mythological themes, sagas and legends of the ancestors. The feast has been assimilated by the Church and nowadays All Souls' Day is celebrated, remembering the dead and visiting them in their tombs. Samhain ends with a great meal where beer is drunk and all dance around a new fire. Once the feast has ended, the participants go home, purified by the catharsis, and willing to live, the same as nature, towards their interior.

All Souls' Day is a Mexican celebration of prehispanic origin that honours the dead on November 2nd. It begins on the previous day and coincides with the Catholic All Saints' Day. The rituals that celebrate the life of the ancestors have been practiced by the Mesoamerican civilizations during at least three thousand years. It was common to keep the skulls as trophies and to show them during the rituals that symbolize death and rebirth.

The festival was governed by the goddess Mictecacihuatl, known as "Lady Death" (currently related to the "The Catrina"), wife of Mictlantecuhtli, Lord of the land of the dead. The festivities are dedicated to dead children and relatives, who are offered flowers, food and diverse utensils they can use in the other world. The "little dead" were accompanied by eating, celebrating and even sleeping in the cemetery next to their tombs.

The 8th is the last day of the year that the door to the underworld is considered to be open, together with August 24th and October 5th, the Mundus patet.

Also during this month, when the Sun enters Scorpio, the cycle of renewal takes place in the Egyptian calendar, with the death and resurrection of Osiris, after which a new year starts.

On the 13th, the rituals in memory of Osiris begin. Brother and spouse of Isis, he is considered in the Egyptian Pantheon the discoverer of vines and wine, a divinity very similar to Dionysus. The effects of the liquor, newly produced, make Osiris and his brothers feel happier than accustomed. This feast starts boisterously around wine.

On the 14th, we are reminded that Seth, jealous of the powers of his brother, kills Osiris, quarters his body in fourteen pieces, and in several coffins, throws them to the Nile so that nobody knows the place of his tomb and can venerate him.

The next day, on the 15th, Isis, bereaved, mourns the death of Osiris. It is day of pain and mourning.

November 16th. With the help of Ra (the Sun), Neftys, Thot and Horus, Isis starts a painful journey to search for the dispersed pieces of the body of Osiris. Finding all the parts except the male organ, that is replaced by a great wax phallus, Isis reconstructs his body, she wraps it in linen and executes all the rituals that pertain to the deceased.

November 17th. Isis, transformed into a swallow, flaps her wings over the corpse of Osiris, which resurrects when he receives the divine breath, ruling since then the realm of the dead. This is the great feast of the resurrection of Osiris, which means the hope of a new life for those who believe in him. These feasts coincide with the planting in the riverside of the Nile.

Isis accompanies funeral rites, where she protects the deceased under her wings and resurrects them. Knower of the secret name of the supreme god Ra, her power extends over the Universe and "every living being has a drop of her blood." She is considered the initiator, who holds the secret of life, death and resurrection, incarnating the feminine principle, magic fountain of all fertility and transformation.

Osiris symbolizes the inexhaustible power of vegetation, the continuity of births and rebirths. He is the universal vital activity, be it terrestrial or heavenly. He descends to the world of the deceased to allow regeneration and resurrection, as every justified dead is a seed of life in the deepness of the cosmos, as is a grain of wheat in the earth.

ORANGE:

It forms part of the seven essential colours that form the visible spectrum, where we find it between red and yellow, as it is the result of their mixture. It is a transition colour between them, between the "fight and life, the walker and the path" and the "divine light, the divinity." It symbolizes the balance between spirit and libido. This balance is sought, according to traditions that go all the way back to the cult of Mother Earth, in the ritual orgy, that induces revelation and initiatic sublimation: it is said that Dionysus dresses in orange.

As a mixture of yellow and red, orange is the symbol of the Walker, of the "Fighter" that reflects the light of heaven towards his fellow men. It also symbolizes the path to maturity through experience, and it is the colour associated to Angel Azrael (angel of the Death of life and of the Life of death).

It is the colour of Autumn. Orange is pumpkins, pomegranates, milk-caps, oranges and mandarins, typical of this season, and the leaves that cover the trees and the ground. All symbolize the plenitude of the Earth, which offers its fruits with generosity.

The chrysanthemum is the November flower and flowers naturally when days are shorter in Autumn and Winter. Due to its flowering period, in Spain the chrysanthemum is closely related to All Saints' Day. The bouquets of this flower are put on the tombs of the dead. Its name comes from krysous, golden, in Greek, the colour of the flowers, and anthemon, flower.

HANAEL

This Angel of Months, ruled by Laopusem, is translated from Hebrew as "Mercy of God," and according to the A.D.A.M.A., he is the representative of December, his energy vibrating in line with violet colour or purple, with the gem called turquoise and with the perfume of the lilacs (symbol of Multiplicity).

This Angel makes you feel compassion for the hardships and grievances of others, both spiritually and materially.

According to the Book of Samahel, in the 4th Chapter, entitled "What is the Green colour?," this Angel "dresses in Topaz," a gem that in ancient times appeared in the breastplate of the High Priest of Israel.

Hanael is the Angel of Mercy, as his name implies, and appeared in Paiporta to dictate the Book of Samahel (page 557 of the original document), doing it in 27th place.

PRAYER FOR HANAEL

Mystic seal

"Obscurity has been fading away in my being and in it has increased the luminous flame of Transmutation. Oh, Angel Hanael! Help those who need you, level out the paths of those of us who wish to Walk, wipe away the tears of those who suffer offering us the nectar of Mercy. Amen. The multiple aspects of man I have recognized in myself, and so I have known that every living being is MYSELF. I cry when others cry, I suffer with the pain of those who surround me, I get sad when sadness appears in the eyes of my Brothers of Nature, and I live when I've been conscious of the life that flowers everywhere. Oh, Love of loves! Eyes of Divinity! Spring of the lost Youth! Death that flows into Life! Pain that makes us conscious, thoughtful and experienced! Oh, Angel that is nested in the heart of the unprotected day of tears and Night of unreal fantasies! I convene you by the Holy Indelible Name for your sign and your signal to be a balm in me to give away to the needing ones. Oh, Angel of the multiple Aspects that form me, be me propitious for love and intolerant with injustice! Make me be the shelter for all those who want to take shelter in me, the food for those who are Hungry, and the Rest for those who need to Rest. Amen. Amen. Amen."

DECEMBER

It is named this way because it is the tenth month of the old Roman calendar. During this month, the most explosive and transgressive feasts of this calendar took place, the Saturnalia. And the Winter Solstice is the cosmic time that identifies the birth of the Solar Gods.

Also on December 10th, the Solar Year begins in Upper Egypt, as on this date the highest rise of the Nile occurs. A temporary king is elected for three days, who everyone must obey, being allowed all types of transgressions and reversals.

On the 17th start the Saturnalia, that take place during seven days, until the 24th. Originally celebrated by the ancient Greek as the Kronia, the festival of Cronus, they are feasts to honour Saturn, that when expelled from the Olympus by Zeus-Jupiter, moved to the site of future Rome, establishing the city of Sauria. He was hosted by a god older than him, Janus, the god with two faces, that will preside over the new year. The woollen bandage put around the statue of the god to prevent him from leaving Rome is released. The city is immeasurably happy: the Senate sessions finalize, the courts close, the scholars are on vacation, death penalties are postponed, prisoners are released, there are lottery drawings and gambling, public banquets are celebrated and people exchange gifts; the social classes are inverted: slaves wear the clothes of their masters, who serve them at the table, and slaves criticize them without fearing punishment.

These days of Saturnalia were the Carnivals of Ancient Times: a cathartic orgy that destroys the current order of things to return to the primordial Chaos that will give birth to a new era. The original harmony is only reached in one way: reversion. Power, sex, day and night, are reverted and destroy the established order. Seeking pleasure instead of necessary labour, inverting sexes in the face of biological determinism and exercising a capricious freedom were installed in the heart of this cosmic feast.

On the 21st the Saturnalia bonfires and the generosity of wine intoxicate vision and minds. The city is transformed into a mocking republic in which the humble are involved in public office, overturning laws and being served by their masters without being able to be punished by them. Women frolic in an unbridled unaccountability, without losing their good reputation. On the 22nd, madness at large among the armies, that choose a "king of mocking," whom they dress with royal clothes and give all kind of pleasures; his wishes are commands and he enjoys life to its limits. But at the end of the feast, he is sacrificed in an altar erected in honour of Saturn.

As a culmination to this turmoil, on the 23th a great cosmic event takes place: the Winter Solstice. The Sun starts its ascension, day light will be longer from now on until it reaches its maximum in the Summer Solstice. This Winter Solstice, also dedicated to Janus, is considered the "door of the Gods," the access to the realm of light. It is the moment to seed, so as to harvest later in Summer. During these days, more precisely on December 25th, the birth of many gods of old times takes place, the same as the sons and prophets of God: Adad from Assyria; Adonis, son of the Virgin Io of Greece; Athis from Phrygia; Baal from Phoenicia; Buddha from India; the divine teacher of Plato; Fohi and Tien from China; Quexalcote from México; Bremrillah of the Druids; Indra from Tibet; Quirinus from Rome; Jesus of Nazareth; Mohammed from Arabia; Mikado of the Sintoos; Odin of the Scandinavians; Osiris and Horus from Egypt; Prometheus of the Caucasians; Tamuz from Syria and Babylon; Thor the Gallic, Zoroaster from Persia... amongst others.

When Ra still ruled the world, he was warned that his daughter Nut (goddess of the celestial realms), lover of Geb (ruler of the Earth), was going to have a child that would rule over humanity. Ra separated them putting Shu (the air) in between. But Nut was already pregnant and Ra cursed her so she could not deliver during any month of the year. Nut asked Thot (god of wisdom) for help, who playing checkers with Jonsu (moon god), obtained from him the 72th portion of every day of the year, with which he completed five full days that he added to the Egyptian year of 360 days. Since then, Jonsu hasn't been strong enough to shine during one whole month, which is why he shrinks and then returns. During these five last days of the year, Ra's curse has no effect. In this way, Osiris, Horus, Set, Isis and Nefty could be born, starting on the 25th with Osiris, whose birth was announced by a powerful voice that resonated in the temple of Thebes shouting: "The king of all has been born."

The same day the birth of Mitra is celebrated, Persian god of heaven and light, and later on, tutelary god of the Roman legions. He was born miraculously from a rock and the shepherds were the first to pray to the nude child, only covered by a Phrygian cap. The cult of Mitra was assimilated to the "Sol Invictus" of the Syrian religion.

Deus Sol Invictus ("the unconquered Sun God") was a title applied to at least three divinities of the Roman Empire: Gabal, Mitra and the Sun. The Festival of the Birth of the Unconquered Sun (Dies Natalis Solis Invicti) is celebrated after the Winter Solstice, in relation to the "revival" of the Sun, from December 22nd to 25th. This date was chosen by Pope Julius I as the day Jesus was born, which was later on decreed by Pope Liberius.

On December 26th, the Hâloa takes place, a Hellenic feast during which the goddess Demeter is worshiped in her manifestation of ploughed field ready for seeding. Women of all social classes participate in these feasts, characterized by flaunting sexual symbols, rude mocking, funny jokes and lesbian practices. At the same time as the Hâloa, the country men celebrate the Dionysians with phallic processions, night masquerades and crazy dances, as the name and the history of Dionysus is frequently related to that of Demeter.

The Feast of the Holy Innocents, which we celebrate on the 28th, is a sequel and a remembrance of the Saturnalia, full of jokes and reversions in which everything is allowed.

VIOLET

Mixture of blue (Consecrated) and red (Initiate), it initiatically symbolizes "those who accomplish their agreements and irradiate them mystically towards others." It is the colour of the energetic transmutation. It elevates everything that is spiritual and lovely, it cleans and purifies. It symbolizes the joy for sacrifice for the sake of a high ideal.

Colour of forbearance, made of the same proportion of red and blue, of awareness and of thoughtful action, of balance between Earth and Heaven, the senses and the mind, passion and intelligence, love and wisdom.

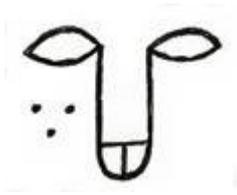

The arcane XIV of the Tarot, Forbearance, is an angel that holds two glasses in his hands, one red and the other blue, in between which a liquid without colour is exchanged, the vital water. Violet, invisible, is a result of the perpetual exchange between chthonic red and celestial blue. This arcane is considered the symbol of Alchemy, of spiritual transformation, of reincarnation. Alchemy is based upon the concept of perpetual exchange between Heaven and the Earth through evolution or ascension, followed by involution or new lowering; a cycle of regular renewal. Violet represents the perpetual restart.

GABRIEL

Gabriel is one of the Angels of Months that is ruled by Laopusem. In this case, Gabriel is the Angel of January and the colour that vibrates with his energy is brown or black, his gem is Opal or Smoky Quartz and his perfume is the madonna lily (symbol of virginity).

According to the Book of Samahel and John's Apocalypse, this Angel "dresses in chrysoprase" and is one of the angels that dictated the cryptic texts of the Book of Samahel. The name of this virtue, in Arab, is Jibrail. He is the Angel of COMMITMENTS.

Mystic seal

"In the Name of the always Virgin Spirituality, I call on you Gabriel. In the Name of the Harvester, I call on you Gabriel. In the Name of the Great Sun, I call on you Gabriel. Come to me soon and impregnate me with your Cosmic Virtue making me fruitful in my wise decisions, making me strong in my Commitments, making me truthful in my speech and actions. Your Braveness I trust, Oh, Angel of the earth that deposes Lies, Laziness and Indecision! and in that your Sacred Virtue I rejoice as a collaborator of the Immaculate Energy you are vested with by the Adonai, our Lord. I listen to the White Lady that expresses herself in the cave, the tree, the scent of Virginity, the freshness of water and the Manifestation of the Celestial Spring; I will be its Watcher and will Unite in your Wheel of the firm Affirmations and the firm Denials. Trust will be my flag, my Commitments will be my banner, and my coherent Decisions will be my strength. Amen. Amen. Amen."

JANUARY

It is the first month of the year in the Gregorian calendar. It takes its name from the Roman god Janus. In Roman mythology, Janus is a god with two faces looking towards both sides of his profile. He is the god of gates, beginnings and ends. That is why January was consecrated to him, from Ianuariu in Latin, because it is the first of the year. He is also the god of transitions, which marks the evolution from the past to the future, from one state to another, from one vision to another... He is usually represented double-faced, with his two faces looking in opposite directions. He presides over the beginnings (while the vestals rule the final moments), he intervenes at the beginning of every entrepreneurship, rules over every birth... His protection is extended to those that want to change the status of things.

He is the guardian of gates, which he opens or closes, and has as attribute the key and the stick of the janitor. His double face means he watches both entries and exits, that he looks towards the interior and the exterior, to right and left, up and down, pros and cons... the surveillance. His main temple in the Roman Forum had doors that faced East and West, towards the beginning and the end of the day, and in between these doors was his double-faced statue, with each face looking in these two opposite directions. In every home, the morning prayer was directed to him, and in every domestic chore, his assistance was sought. As god of beginnings, he was publically called on the first day of January, and he was offered sacrifices for him to bless the beginning of the new year. He was also convened when a new war started, and while the war lasted, the doors of his temple remained open; when Rome was in peace, the doors were closed.

BLACK

Symbol of matter, of secrecy and of what is hidden or veiled. Of the shadows and everything material. Black or brown are the colours of the element earth. Situated in the limit of the warm and cold colours, they transform in the absence or the adding of all the colours, in their synthesis or denial. Black is the belly of the Earth, where the regeneration of the daytime world is operated. It is the colour of the fertile soil, of the deep waters, because it contains the latent life, the great reserve of everything. The great goddess of fertility and their substitutes, the black virgins, are this colour by virtue of their chthonic nature (belonging to the earth).

It is the colour of the universal substance (Prakriti), of the raw material, of the primordial lack of differentiation, of the original chaos, of the lower waters, of the North, of death... Higher symbol of the non-manifestation and of primordial virginity. The knight of the Apocalypse that mounts the black horse, holds a scale in his hand and must measure the wheat, barley, oil and wine, distributing in a period of famine the products harvested from a rich soil. It refers to the nothing and chaos, in other words, confusion and disorder, it is the darkness of the origin and it precedes Creation in all religions. In the West it has negative connotations, because the night during History has been a dangerous and negative human experience. Nevertheless, the Greeks considered the night as Euphrona (mother of good advice), and we say: "the night is a good advisor." Stains are more visible on a pale background, contrasting with the concept of "purity."

BARCHIEL

Angel of Months that is under the energetic auspices of Laopusem and whose name in Hebrew means "Blessing of God." He is also known as BARAKIEL. According to the unpublished dictations of the A.D.A.M.A. he is the representative of the month of February and the chromatic vibration of this Virtue would be cobalt blue, its gem would be sapphire and aquamarine, and the perfume that attracts it is lavender (symbol of Transmutation).

He is the symbol of deepness and of Elevated Feelings, and if we are able to hold him in our interior, he will give us pure and clean thoughts, speech and action, renewing our life and our targets in a grand spiral that will change our existence and that of those that surround us.

In the Book of Samahel we are told that he symbolically "dresses in hyacinth." He is the Angel of Purification. This Energy materialized itself in Paiporta (Spain), in 28th place, to dictate page 558 of the original manuscript.

Mystic seal

"I will be an Autumn flower if in me I don't Understand your name, Angel Barchiel; because I will Die without Flowering: so I convene today your Sound that makes me be strong and wise in the Hidden Law of Edem. I ask the High Angel Laopusem to grant me being able of obtaining the Key that opens the conscience of the closed Door, so as to penetrate in the Chambers where the Elevated Feelings dwell and the Deepness of Knowledge. I know that the great Key is my return to the sensitive, sublime and simple: Be the chest that I jealously keep and that I sometimes forget where I deposited it. Oh, Angel of Purification! Make me remember my way until I get to where I hid it, because without her I find myself unprotected, nude and lost. The Fires of your Revelation take up my spirit in the desire of possessing the Tranquillity I wish, because only in calm will I be able to change my half-lights in lights that mark the Path of those who surround me. Make me a lantern and lighthouse of myself and I promise to change my surroundings in the Transmuting that you represent in the Spiral of Days! Barchiel, enlighten me! Barchiel, accompany me! Barchiel, comfort me! That the Eternal Virtues that surround you be with me! Amen. Amen. Amen."

FEBRUARY

from Isabel Ibáñez de Garayo

PURIFICATION (from Lupe Zomeño)

If we analyse the month of February and the feasts that are commemorated this month, we find a symbolic symbiosis. On February 2nd the Candelaria (Virgen de la Candelaria) is celebrated, a black virgin, as a Christian feast that substitutes the Imbolg (pagan religions). It was the "Feast of Purification," Fire.

In this feast, re-establishing the Goddess after giving birth to the God-Child-Sun is what is celebrated, and what has happened 40 days before, in the Winter Solstice. Its meaning is to re-establish the body of women after giving birth (quarantine). Curiously, on this same date the feast of Yemaya (Virgen de la Regla) also takes place. This, at the same time, corresponds to an ancient Jewish ritual that consisted in presenting the women at the Temple. Its essential meaning is that of Purification, that coincides with the Celtic Festival of Fire or the Imbolg (that can be translated as uterus, womb).

What is also interesting in this festivity is the practice carried out in Hesse and Meiningen (Germany), where pork is eaten on the day of the Candelaria, and the bones are kept for the seeding season. And when this season arrived, they were placed in a furrow or in the bag of the sower. This tradition comes from ancient agriculture rituals in which the animal, that symbolized the Goddess, veneration of fertility, was eaten. The animal was consecrated to the Goddess, as if by eating it the animal was assimilated to the Goddess, and so its ingestion had a similar meaning to that of communion (eating the Gods), to assimilate them to the body of the believers.

Similar customs takes us to the rituals of bull-fighting sacrifices, in which the death of the bull meant the fertilization of the soil to obtain a good harvest. This reminds me of our "Matagorrino" and I ask myself if, notwithstanding the reasons why during Mohammed's times eating pork was forbidden (due to diseases that couldn't be controlled in those times), if this animal could be consecrated to some feminine deity.

In Latin, everything that can be used to expiate and purify is called Febrerum, and the purification or atonement is called Februenta. That is why February has the meaning of month of purification or of becoming pure. In ancient Rome, the Lupercalia (festival of purification) was celebrated on February 15th, and Christianity moved it to the 2nd. During this feast, ceremonies to purify the cities were celebrated, in which hot salt was used, that was called Februum. This date and the concepts of death and resurrection take us to the Easter rituals.

February was also consecrated to Phaunos (Pan), that was known as Lupercus in the Lupercal, a cave at the foot of the Palatine Hill where it is said that the wolf breastfed Romulus and Remus.

The purpose of this festivity was to give a new life to people, animals and fields. Winter was starting to pass and the cleaning gave way to Spring.

The celebration was marked by the figure of the "Lupercus" or "Guardians of the Wolf," that dressed only with a small goat apron over their nude bodies and crowned themselves with ivy and vine leaves in Pan's singular way. These fauns went around the cities armed with belts that were called "februas," and that were used to purify, "februaire." (This originated the name of the month: "dies februatium"-days of purification.)

Women participated in the meeting of fauns to be whipped, as it was thought that this cured their infertility, although this soft flogging might of formed part of some fertility ritual (15 days after menstruation, ovulation takes place), as flogging stimulates blood circulation, what would coincide with Pan's symbolic attributes.

This also makes me think if the feast day of Saint Valentine has anything to do with this. That Angel Barchiel be with all of us.

MACHIDIEL

Also called Marchidiel. He is the representative of the month of March. His name means "Dissemination (or emission) of God." His energy vibrates with the gem called amethyst, white colour and the perfume of the magnolia (symbol of regeneration).

This emissary makes us die mystically to worldly things or to whatever doesn't give us a spiritual benefit, and at the same time makes us resurrect to light when we are conscious that every experience, hypothetically disagreeable, has been a long-term trial that has directed us to Wisdom. Machidiel is the Angel of DEATH-LIFE in a strictly spiritual sense.

PRAYER FOR MACHIDIEL

Mystic seal

"Glory in the Heavens and on the Earth to the Energy whose name makes us be reborn from the ashes of experience! Glory be given to Angel Marchidiel in the cycle of the Chain of the Twelve Links that symbolizes my life and that of all the beings with a soul! Pure spirit, giver of the Spiritual Benefits that maintain the Universal Radiation on your face, I ask you to Visit me every day of my life so as to Understand the trials that it subjects me to, without opposing my normal human resistance. Angel of the twelfth untainted face, perfect in its Virtue that was insufflated in me by the Unnameable! Come quickly to my call as an Eternal sigh of the Holy Spirit! Make me be reborn day by day in the Resurrection of change! Make me die day by day in the death of what is past, antique or disposable! That the three Blessings of the Trinity in the Light be with me. That the three Blessings of the Trinity on Earth be with me. That the six Blessings in Unity be my councillors, guides and Masters in every thought, word, deed and omission. That the Blessing of the Only establishes me in its clear Emission that takes the name of Marchidiel. Amen. Amen. Amen."

MARCH

From MARTIUS in Latin, dedicated to Mars, the God of War, that was beforehand the God of Vegetation. It was the first month of the year before the Julian calendar was established. Dedicated to the mother goddess, that had different names according to where she was convened, it was also the month of women. During this month, the Spring Equinox takes place, which in all cultures and religions, has been celebrated with rituals and feasts. For the most of the people, rituals and feasts dedicated to the cyclic resurrection of Spring, a resurrection preceded and announced by the death of the grain, of the seed, of the spirit of vegetation generally incarnated by the son of the Great Mother: Attis, Dionysus, Osiris...

In ancient Greece, they celebrated the return of Persephone, daughter of Demeter, goddess of the Earth, from the deep Hell to the surface of the land; it symbolized the resurrection of life in Spring after the desolated Winter. The Phrygians believed their god went to sleep during the period of the Winter solstice and did ceremonies with music and dances in the Summer equinox to wake him up. The first Christians, many of them of Jewish origin, considered Easter as a new aspect of the Jewish Passover. The latter commemorated the Exodus from Egypt. It comes from the Hebrew word "pesah" (pass along), because of the exterminating angel that "passed along" the doors marked by the Jews and killed the Egyptian first-born sons. It starts after sunset on the 14th of Nisan, the first month of the Jewish year.

The Babylonians celebrated the new year in the Spring equinox, Akitu. The celebrations included rituals of purification, sacrifice, propitiation, penance and acquittal; and happy and colourful processions. Fasting was one of the many rituals that were practiced. Physical activities were cancelled or slowed down, leaving people in a state of stillness comparable, symbolically, to death or to the state that precedes birth. The symbolic use of the unleavened bread by the Jews during the Passover seems to be related to these first origins. The fasting of the Christians during Lent is a preparation for Easter. In ancient times, those who prepared themselves to be baptized, fasted during Fridays and Saturdays, and were baptized at dawn on Sunday, in a similar way to the resurrection of Jesus.

The egg was the symbol of life. Eggs were used in rituals and festivals in Spring and were given away already decorated. The end of the long and cold Winter was celebrated, together with the "miraculous rebirth" of trees and flowers. Eggs, when they explode with a life inside, are the symbol of this rebirthing. With the arrival of Christianity, the pagan feast was transformed into the Christian Easter. It was forbidden to eat eggs during Lent, so people started to cook them so they wouldn't rot and to paint them so as to differentiate them from the fresh eggs, eating them finally on Easter day.

Mars in Astrology means energy, will, ardour and aggressiveness, and is the first sign of the Zodiac, the rebirth in Spring of nature. It governs life and death: even being the Killer, the Defender of homes and youth, it is also the Punisher and the Avenger of all offenses and violation of oaths, being honoured sometimes as the god of vows. The Romans called themselves sons of Mars and it preceded the army in battles. The armies concentrated during March in the Campus Martius (Field of Mars), where the soldiers trained before they began, with the good weather, the periods of war.

In the Temple of Vesta (goddess that protected the household and protector of harmony), official home of the Roman people, during the whole year the Sacred Fire was maintained, that symbolized the fire and the light of the homeland. This fire was put out ritually to be renewed on March 1st, first day of the Roman year. After putting out the fire, the temple was cleaned and the Vestals lit the fire again, taking care of cult together with the Pontifex Maximus.

WHITE

It means the sum or the absence of colours, and so it is placed at the beginning and the end of life; it is also the colour that precedes night and day. White in the West is death, which absorbs the being and inserts it in the lunar, nocturnal world. White in the East is the white of dawn, when the sky reappears. It is the colour of dawn, of the white horses of Apollo.

It is the colour of the candidate, of who is going to change his condition (in Rome, the candidates for public office dressed in white). During the Octave of Easter (that ranges from Easter Sunday to the next Sunday), during the first times of Christianity, the newly baptized dressed in white clothes, as white is the liturgical colour of Easter and means light, purity and happiness. In every symbolic thought, death precedes life, as every birth is a rebirth, that is why white was in early days the colour of death and of mourning. For Kandinsky, "white is the symbol of a world in which all colours have vanished, it acts upon our soul as an absolute silence, but this silence isn't dead, it overflows in live possibilities. It is a nothing before every birth, before every beginning."

It is the reason why, initiatically, it is the colour of who gets up and is reborn victorious over trials. The colour of the passage through which the changes of the being are operated, according to the classical scheme of every initiation: death and revival. In the feasts of Cibeles (mother and lover of Attis, that dies and resurrects in the Spring equinox) in ancient Rome, from March 22nd to the 27th, an image of the goddess carved in black stone was taken out in procession. Women dressed in white walked covering the floor with petals.

EVOLUTION OF THE INTERNAL OR SPIRITUAL BEING

The 7 Levels or Steps with which the Path changes us insofar we advance.

"No guide is more valid than that of our own Being."

by: Mistress Lilananda

FIRST LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

FEAR, FRIGHT

In this state of consciousness, fear is present in nearly all our actions, we are frightened to be alone, to be discriminated, to lose our loved ones, to not find happiness, to death... Everything causes us anxiety, anguish, because what takes precedence is the sense of guilt.

To believe in a God that punishes us when we do something wrong and that rewards us when we do good things is the prevailing trend and, of course, our relationship with that God will always be based on fear.

With more love, fear also increases. As it is a possessive love, our great fear is to lose it.

SECOND LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

AMBITION, COMFORT

In this state, people are more rational and what prevails in their consciousness is to satisfy their wishes, whatever they are. The person wants to possess all what he can and is dominated in every moment by his ego. His only ambition is to have more and more ...and his material ambition doesn't want obstacles, because the ego likes to feel comfortable, without anything or anybody bothering it.

The person understands that what is good is to have all he can and that evil is the possible obstacles he might find to achieve this.

THIRD LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

THOUGHTFUL

The individual has the following reflections: What must I do to keep deserving all I have? How can I find my inner Self without losing what I have? I deserve what I have and it is mine because God has decided it that way! And that is why I must enjoy everything I have.

This state is the phase of the life in which the ego feels euphoria... the individual feels fulfilled because all he has is for the benefit of his family, and thinking this way he doesn't hurt anyone.

But his thoughts, feelings and emotions have low points, because although he thinks that all he has is good, he also goes through moments in which he believes in detaching himself from what is material, but only of what he least desires, and starts to feel a better relationship with God.

As the person becomes thoughtful, he feels the need to make some changes, he wishes to calm his mind, to seek for peace, as he starts to understand that through that calmness he will find a communication with his inner being.

But the important reflection in the state of this person is, how can I live comfortably and at the same time grow spiritually?

FOURTH LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

DEVELOPMENT OF SELF-AWARENESS

In this state, the individual discovers that what is spiritual is more important than what is material, he discovers his inner being, he is more conscious, and this lets him capture and educate his spirituality, with a great desire of sharing it with others.

His mind becomes more tolerant and comprehensive, and he perceives he is going into a new phase of light and energy. He doesn't think so much in what is logic.

Detachment makes this person centred more on the emotional than in what is material, although he still finds essential to have his economic and family support, as if not he would feel very insecure.

When he learns this spiritual knowledge, he starts to shape his spiritual family, sharing facts, experiences and seeking for answers to the doubts he has in his interior. He understands he must handle internally the dual process and be able to transcend it, and that job or behaviour makes him be misunderstood.

He becomes conscious that nothing bad will happen, he doesn't think about the past or the future, only the present.

FIFTH LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

THE DEEPNESS OF THE BEING. UNDERSTANDING.

In this state, the individual reaches the conclusion that self-awareness is his great shelter and stronghold.

He is a generous, honest and loving person; in other words, he bases his daily actions upon love and respect. He recognizes his failures and the errors he has committed and tries to correct himself, his premises in life aren't material anymore, as he surely feels he is not attached to the past, and this lets him live more deeply to find himself with his inner being, his internal world; he decides his life from "inside" and is aware of this. He understands the difference between how things were before and are now.

He thinks in spiritual challenges, like merging with the Universal God, who he feels as such, because he understands that evolution is what fuels his life and that he will need more than one life to be one with Him.

SIXTH LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

THE DISSOLUTION OF THE "EGO"

This stage is the most difficult one of mental evolution. The values and the projections of our actions aren't those of our mind, but of our consciousness, and in every case they will be contrary to the wishes of the mind.

It is a stage of sacrifice and renouncement of the wishes of our ego, as a consequence of the significance of all we know, which sprouts in the individual with a strength that is born in his interior and that makes his emotions and beliefs go through a radical change; he feels like "dying," nothing material is valid any longer and he breaks with every terrestrial link, facing his destiny. He starts to feel "death" in life and he won't know he has died until he reaches the seventh level. It is the confrontation of death with life. With a new life that is reborn together with wisdom.

This individual emerges as a winner over the Ego because he has been able to overcome his emotional life, he doesn't accept the conditioning or complaints of the Ego, he doesn't withdraw because of its demands or wishes, he doesn't let himself be manipulated by the emotional mind of those who he finds in his way. He loves and shows respect for his fellow men, but he doesn't let himself be trapped by their questioning and requirements.

This person has transformed his life, his emotional mind is totally balanced and he has started his liberation as he identifies himself with his Master. He knows he has started the process of mastery on Earth, not by what he says but by what he does. He lives on Earth but no longer belongs to it.

SEVENTH LEVEL OR STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS

RECOGNIZING ONESELF. MASTERY.

This individual has been transformed into pure knowledge. His relationships belong to the level of Universal Love.

This person is difficult to define, because he is all what we wish, and when we look at him, he is only love, the Master, the Guide.

The Father in him is a projection of the Self, the unity between the SELF and the FATHER.

The Divine Presence is his Divine Present, his Unity.

13

SYMBOLY

THE MENORAH

In Exodus, chapter 25, verses 31 – 32, we can read "...And thou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work shall the candlestick be made: his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, shall be of the same And six branches shall come out of the sides of it; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side."

In the Zohar it is written that the Menorah represents the Tree of Life, and the 7 branches serve as symbols; these are: light, justice, peace, truth, benevolence, fraternity and harmony. Currently, in Israel it is forbidden to manufacture a metal Menorah with seven branches, although it is allowed to manufacture it in metal but with more branches.

According to the A.D.A.M.A. and the Book of Samahel, the Menorah is a beautiful symbol of meditation that connects us with ourselves, with the days of the week, with the seven mystic heavenly bodies, with the seven magic colours and with the endless conversation the symbol shares with the consciousness of who contemplates it. We can feel, like this Candlestick, that we are in front of the Sancta Sanctorum and observe the presence of God, Indescribable, that always accompanies us, while we walk the path step by step leaving in it the footprints of our thoughts, speech and actions. This is the marvellous responsibility of the Walker.

THE NUMBER 7

The septennium, a very old tradition, corresponds basically to uniting the divine ternary with the material quaternary. It designates the totality of the planetary orders as a projection of the energies that come from the spirit of man. We have been told since ancient times that the force of the stars is within us.

Every lunar period lasts for seven days, and the four periods of the lunar cycle correspond to the sum of the first seven numbers. Seven are the Angels and Energies of the days of the week, the musical notes, the colours of the rainbow, the Mystic Palaces, the Virtues, the magic metals, the "chakras," the Superior Angels, the steps necessary to reach the true Initiation, the energetic spots of the planet, the Orders of Umiel, the Mystic Mountains, etc.

Due to these and other reasons, the SEVEN represents in many cultures the expression of a complete cycle, the entrance to a new period of transformation and the "totality of the actions achieved."

THE MENORAH. THE CHAKRAS AND THE 7 SPIRITUAL LAWS<sup>[3]</sup>

The Universal Laws have existed always. In a beginning, for the evolution of Humanity appeared the 7 Hermetic Laws, which the major part of the critical mass has already assimilated. These are the Laws that go from the outside to the inside and that remain forming part of our cells because they were useful for us to feed our different bodies and consciousness. They clarified who we were and the laws that ruled us. Now the time has come for our consciousness to understand and develop from the inside to the outside, and for this we have the 7 Spiritual Laws, which are useful to harmonize the different bodies that make us up and that clarify from "where we come from" and why "we are here." In the following charts, we explain the relations that exist between these Spiritual laws, the branches of the Menorah, that represents the "Tree of Life," the chakras and their virtues, and their relation with the "energies" of Angels.

Starting with branches 1 and 7 that interconnect, and that are also the 1st and 7th chakra, and the 1st and 7th Spiritual Law, in other words, Spirit enters through the seventh chakra and remains dormant and blind in the first chakra, which would mean that they "made us descend from Heaven and they left us here on Earth, in the matter."

Branches 2 and 6 connect with the second and sixth chakra, this is, Creation, the union of the divine masculine and the divine feminine with enlightenment.

Branches 3 and 5 connect with the third and fifth chakra, this is, the Will of transformation and Umiel; look at Umiel's mystic seal, what a symbolic union, and think in the Revolution of Love.

And branch 4, that connects with the fourth chakra, the heart, the activity of Aom.

[3].-Notes from Juan Martín de Montes, in which he explains the relations and similarities between the 7 Spiritual Laws, the 7 branches of the Menorah and Angels.

[4].- According to this Law, everything has manifested for a useful purpose. We are born to evolve, but we will only evolve in the measure we help others to evolve with Generosity and Humbleness, it is a perfect symbiosis with what surrounds you, be it human, flora, fauna or mineral, air, water or fire, energy, visible or invisible, shadow or light.

[5].- 7th degree of consciousness. The last step to access the first Palace, whose angelic doorman is Tahariel. Degree of consciousness that defines what "goes in and is not outside," of the "Decree" of the Walker that is committed to care for light or that is up above all that: engaged in his commitment and confidence of searching for Wisdom.

[6].- Connection with the first Chakra. The Spirit enters through the seventh chakra and remains dormant and blind in the first chakra, in other words, "they made us descend from Heaven and they left us here on Earth, as newly born orphans, and they would tell us: ...now, manage on your own," with no other solution than finding our way home jumping from one chakra to the other, and discovering, opening and elevating our consciousness thanks to the ground covered.

[7].- Creation, the union of the divine masculine with the divine feminine, and Enlightenment.

[8].- The Will of Transformation and Umiel (symbol of Union, and his Revolution of Love).

[9].- The Spirit, to manifest itself in the physical plane, also needs a framework of reference, that is determined by a space-time relation. The Mayans are considered the masters of the Art of the present time. For them, Art is to be in harmony and synchronized with the Universal mind, because in the Universe, the spirit has no time or space, only present. Time is not before and afterwards, but now and here, and if we act and think that way, we transform Life into Art; in art because we are creators and art is creation. The words CARPE DIEM in Latin mean "the art of living the present moment."

[10].- The Heart, this is, the Activity of AOM.

[11].- The Spirit must make clear how the different forms in which it is going to manifest must be, because... "Everything that one creates, is what he creates as a reality." And for this, the Angels have disclosed what is called the "PYRAMID OF EFFECT," that is a symbolic Pyramid with its base supported on four powers or energies of Spirit that make Creation possible. In what is visible, these four powers are Attraction, Cohesion, Adhesion and Repulsion, and in what is invisible, they are Creative Will, Constructive Will, Faith and Secrecy. Of course, all this with Braveness and Determination, in a clean, healthy and balanced manner, with the irradiated energies of our four Guardian Angels, emanated from Anael, Angel of Love.

[12].- It is the way to be able to understand reincarnation in the physical plane. According to this Law ..."Nothing Lower can be if its Higher doesn't exist ..." and if we call SPIRIT the Higher and MATTER the Lower, we can understand that Spirit is the creator of matter. In the Book of Samahel there is a chapter called "The small holds the big," that is equivalent to saying also... "The big holds the small"... And accordingly, MATTER HOLDS SPIRIT.

[13].- First step to advance in the achievement of the authentic doorway that grants access to the first Palace or Degree of Consciousness.

[14].- Armon is the first of the Seven Degrees, the most attached to the Earth, and it means mystically "Where Tradition is buried," in other words, where one commits himself to fight in favour of the Light for the Ultimate Cause or "Reintegration" with God. In this first degree we need a strict purification of all our material aspects (appropriately, the "doorman" of the Palace of this Mountain is called Tahariel, whose name means "Purification of God"). This symbolic Mountain has a close relation with the first period of creation of Consciousness, this is, with the separation of Light and Darkness (first "day" of Creation according to Genesis), what would show us the essential task of the Initiate: to discern in silence and meditation the basis of spirit and matter.
